TRUMAN LASHES PROGRAM'S FOES

ERP May Not Take 4 Years, Truman Says

President Doesn't Back Suggestions Aid Be Slashed Now

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — President Truman today reaffirmed his stand that America should stick by the Marshall Plan until European recovery is won. But, taking note of British optimism, he said the task might not take four years, as orginally contemplated.

Mr. Truman gave no support to suggestions, arising on Capitol Hill and elsewhere, that recovery aid might be throttled down now in view of optimistic reports on British recovery.

If it takes four years, that's all right, the President said. Perhaps it will take less if the British reports are correct, he said, but the plan should be continued until recovery is assured.

Meantime there were reports that the Atlantic powers are near agreement on a defense clause in the proposed North Atlantic treaty designed to erect safeguards against any Communist aggression.

The clause, covering action by the signatories in event of armed attack, is designed to bulwark the recovery program by contributing to European security. Substantial agreement was reported today in the writing of this phase of the treaty.

Wording Still Secret

Though the wording still is secret, the key clause is understood to provide that:

First, a military assault on any of the seven powers shall be considered as an attack on all, and each country shall assist in meeting the attack as a matter of self-defense under the United Nations Charter.

Second, each country will decide for itself the steps it will take, military or other, to meet the attack.

Mr. Truman did not discuss the Atlantic pact at his news conference. But foreign affairs and this country's role of world leardership dominated it.

Declaring himself "immensely gratified" at the Israeli-Egyptian armistice announced yesterday, the President offered the futher assistance of this country in bringing peace between Israel and all the Arab states, as a member of the Palestine Conciliation Commission.

"S. O. B." Reaction "Satifactory"

The President's views were given to an unusually large turnout of reporters, many interested in what he might have to say about his "S. O. B." speech denouncing critics of his staff. The first mention of it brought laughter and banter in which the President joined heartily.

Mr. Truman said he would not retract a word. Reporters asked him about the reaction to his speech in which he had said that no "S. O. B." was going to tell him whom to hire or fire in the government. He replied with a smile that the reactions were very satisfactory to him.

Mr. Truman also said:

He will send to Congress in two or three weeks a message detailing his health program covering compulsory health insurance.

He is naming Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney as Undersecretary of Commerce. Whitney now is Assistant Secretary of Air Force.

He would not comment on proposals for veterans pension or bonuses in the absence of legislation before him. The House soon may vote on a bill for $90-a-month-at-65.

SUED FOR ANNULMENT — Charles F. Bernhard, 45, millionaire British theater owner, has asked the Los Angeles court for an annulment from his 21-year-old bride, Jane (above). He claims he is a kissless bridegroom. They married last November 18.

Stage Being Set For Permanent Holy Land Peace

Complete Stacking Of Arms Is In Sight

By L. S. CHAKALES

RHODES, Feb. 24 (AP)—Much of the Arab Middle East prepared tonight to talk armistice terms with Israel, now that Egypt has shown the way by coming to an agreement with the young Jewish state.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator, said a complete stacking of arms in Palestine is in sight. United Nations officials already are engaged in preliminary work for permanent Holy Land peace.

The Egyptian-Israeli armistice was signed here today after 42 tedious days of negotiations.

The agreement was the first Israel has reached with the seven Arab nations which set out nine months ago to destroy her.

Talks with Trans-Jordan, Israel's most formidable foe, will begin here Monday. Armistice arrangements between Israel and Lebanon are expected to be concluded soon.

Iraq has announced that she will approve whatever agreements are reached by the Arab states bordering Palestine. Trans-Jordan will speak for her. Saudi Arabia and Yemen did not take an active part in the war against Israel and a formal armistice may not be needed in their case.

Once there has been a complete sheathing of weapons, Bunche said, the emphasis will be placed on securing a "peaceful settlement of all outstanding questions — political, territorial and economic—between Israel and her Arab neighbors."

From Cairo and Tel Aviv came further comment:

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok told a news conference in Tel Aviv the armistice would prove to be a "momentous event in the life of the Middle East."

He paid tribute to "the realism and courage" of the Egyptian monarchy and government for making the agreement possible and said the "entire Middle East will soon become aware of its indebtedness to Egypt for having taken a new course." According to the spirit of the agreement, Shertok said, Israeli authorities expect no further interference with the transport of passengers and goods through the Suez Canal.

In Cairo, Premier Abdel Hadi Pasha was quick to point out to newsmen that the agreement was on "purely military questions" and did not deal with the political future of the Holy Land.

Pipe Line Steel Ban To Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The government announced today that it will again approve shipments of steel for the 1,067-mile oil pipe line under construction across Arabia. Such shipments have been banned for 10 months because of the steel shortage.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer announced the decision at a news conference. He said the military services had recommended it along with other agencies.

In addition to the shortage of steel, another reason for the suspension of licensing of exports of pipe for the line is understood to have been the question of whether the line could be defended in event of war—presumably a war with Russia.

Sawyer told reporters that "defensibility" of the line in event of "political trouble" was considered among other things" when it was decided to allow resumption of pipe shipments.

He declined, however, to say whether the decision meant a belief that there is less liklihood of a need to defend it or greater ability to conduct a defense.

Challenge Accepted By Dixie Senators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Southern senators today grimly accepted the administration's challenge to a talking match next week over a proposed change in the Senate rules.

The change would make it easier to stop filibusters — time-consuming, action-stalling debate.

Russia Strengthens Garrisons On Soviet-Norwegian Frontier

Apparently Linked With Scandinavian Nation's Pact Stand

HELSINKI, Finland, Feb. 24 (AP)—A well-informed Finnish source said tonight Russia has strengthened her garrisons along the Soviet-Norwegian border.

The informant said the Soviet troops had come from the Murmansk area. While giving no estimate of the number involved, he said the troop movements were observed last week and apparently were in connection with the stand taken by Norway on the projected North Atlantic defense treaty.

(There have been no previous reports of Russian movements in this area.)

Short Common Frontier

The informant, who was not quotable by name, said there was no indication of any similar troop movements against the Finnish border.

Norway and Russia now have a short common frontier in the far north. The frontier was established when the Petsamo region of Finland was ceded to the Soviet Union under terms of the Russo-Finnish peace treaty.

(Associated Press Correspondent Daniel De Luce, who is now touring Norway, said in a recent dispatch that her defenses in the north are weak and presumably an open book to Soviet military intelligence.

(He pointed out that in addition to the common frontier of 122 miles that Norway has with Russia there is another 450 miles with Finland, which is now in a tight Soviet military grip.

Military Pushover

(He said that the famous North Cape—the region adjacent to the Norway-Russian frontier—is a military pushover and that a battalion of Soviet troops could seize it any time the Kremlin ordered.)

The Soviet Union recently proposed to Norway that both nations sign a non-aggression pact. Norway has made clear she will not enter into such a treaty. Instead, Norway is prepared to cast her fortunes with countries in the proposed North Atlantic treaty—the United States, Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Belgium.

The North Atlantic pact is bitterly opposed by the Soviet Union. Equalization and Review. Although

Housing Plan Approved By Senate Group

Provides 810,000 Units In Six Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — A vast new home building program calling for construction of 810,000 low rent public housing units in six years was approved today by the Senate Banking Committee.

The multi-billion dollar measure was endorsed by a 9 to 3 vote after the committee had rejected an amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to bar segregation or discrimination in the federally financed projects.

Although this civil rights dispute was settled momentarily it probably will be revived tomorrow when the housing bill is thrown open to Senate debate.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) told reporters that Bricker intends to bring his amendment up on the floor and that he had requested a record vote to show how the committee had voted.

Cain Backs Bricker's Move

On the anti-segregation amendment only Sen. Cain (R-Wash) supported Bricker's move. On final passage, Sen. Robertson (D-Va) joined Bricker and Cain in opposition.

Here are major provisions of the bill:

1. Public housing — The government's cash contributions would increase progressively the first five years to a maximum of $308,000,000 and stay at that amount for 35 years longer. The 810,000 units would be built at the rate of 135,000 a year, with the President having authority to increase production to 250,000 annually or to cut it to 50,000.

2. A $1,500,000,000 slum clearance program to help localities in cleaning up blighted areas for redevelopment. Of the total $500,000,000 would be in grants over a five year period and the remainder in loans which would not run more than 40 years.

Rural Program Provided

3. A $262,500,000 four-year rural dwelling and building program to be handled under direction of the Secretary of Agriculture. Of this amount, $250,000,000 would be for loans and the remainder for grants.

The measure also would authorize the housing and home finance administrator to undertake a broad research program aimed at reducing building costs and speeding construction methods.

Maybank said the housing bill will be placed before the Senate as a bi-partisan measure.

44 Die In Plane Crashes In Peru And Hong Kong

[By The Associated Press]

Forty-four persons were killed today in two plane crashes in Peru and Hong Kong. Two other persons were badly hurt.

Two crewmen and 19 passengers burned to death when a transport plane upset and caught fire on a takeoff from Curzco airport, Lima, Peru. The accident occurred when a tire blew out. All the victims were Peruvians. Two others were injured in the crash.

In Hong Kong, 19 passengers and four crewmen died when a Cathay Pacific Airways passenger plane from Naila plunged into a rocky ravine at the west end of Braemer Reservoir in an almost isolated part of Northern Hong Kong island.

Riot Precaution

PRETORIA, South Africa, Feb. 24 (AP) — Two hundred police are being sent today to Durban where renewed rioting between Indians and Zulus is threatened. Scores of persons, mainly Indians, were killed in riots several weeks ago at Durban and there was another flareup last Saturday.

Huge Food Chain Loses Its Appeal

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP) — The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the anti-trust conviction of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, and 24 officers and subsidiary companies.

The appeals court said the A. and P. "used its large buying power to coerce suppliers to sell to it at a lower price than to its competitors on the threat that it would place such suppliers on its private blacklist if they did not conform, or that A. and P. would go into the manufacturing business in competition with the recalcitrant suppliers."

The original case was heard by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley in Danville, Ill., in 1946. Judge Lindley fined the defendants a total of $175,000 after hearing 22 weeks of technical testimony on A. and P. operations.

In addition to anti-trust violation, he found them guilty of illegally favoring certain individuals and companies in business transactions.

Among the defendants was Carl Byoir, public relations counsel of A. and P., and Business Organization, Inc., a corporation through which Byoir conducted public relations for the company.

Ground Swells Rip Calif. Beach Homes

REDONDO BEACH, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP)—Forty-foot ground swells ripped homes on the strand between Redondo and Hermosa Beaches today, causing the evacuation of several families and $100,000 property damage.

Boulders from the huge seawall were tossed like marbles by the storm. Foundations were undermined, sections of sidewalk destroyed, paving caved in, and streets flooded.

Electricity was cut off as the storm knocked down power poles. The coast highway was blocked by boulders and debris swept in by the angry waves.

"Goon Squad" Tactics Condemned By NLRB

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—"Goon squad" tactics, exploited to intimidate non-strikers in a labor dispute, were condemned by the National Labor Relations Board today in a decision against the CIO-United Furniture Workers.

The board found the union guilty of seven unfair labor practices arising from picket-line violence in a strike at the Smith Cabinet Manufacturing Company, Salem, Ind., which began September 4, 1947. The trouble was finally quieted and the plant re-opened after the company secured a court injunction.

Witnesses testified that while the union was fighting for recognition as the bargaining agent in the plant of 400 employes, outbreaks of violence developed such as few recent strikes have produced.

"Wrong Baby," They Say

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Colvin, Toledo, Ohio, contending they were given the "wrong baby" after Mrs. Colvin gave birth to a child at Riverside Hospital, have filed suit for $100,000 damages against the hospital and Dr. Abraham H. Steinberg. The Colvins are pictured above with their daughter, Linda, 2, and the baby, Diane, 10 months. They say they don't know to whom Diane belongs. Carl M. Westhoff, hospital superintendent, insists the baby is Mrs. Colvin's.

'Confessions' Of Bulgarian Churchmen Made Public On Eve Of Treason Trial

Documents Called Mass Pleas Of Guilt

By DIMITER MISHEV

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Bulgarian Justice Ministry made public tonight voluminous documents represented as mass pleas of guilt and repentence by 15 Protestant churchmen going on trial tomorrow on charges of spying for the United States and Britain.

Through the 2,266 pages ran such phrases as:

"I admit my guilt.

"I repent.

"I beg clemency.

"I want to be given a new chance to work for the motherland."

Defendents "Freely Confessed"

Ilia Timev, deputy minister of justice, produced the statements at a news conference. Newsmen were shown three volumes of files of the pre-trial investigations with hundreds of pages in the Handwriting, Timev said, of the defendants.

The government announced previously that all had "fully confessed."

Timev produced 144 pages which he said were in the handwriting of Rev. Vassil Georgiev Ziapkov, 48, head of the Congregational Church in Bulgaria and religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches—Congregational, Baptist, Methodist and Pentecost.

Ziapkov is accused of being the main figure in plots to send American and British observers information about the Bulgarian army, movements of troops, extent of armaments and disposition of Soviet troops in the country after 1944. He also is charged with slandering Russia.

Helped Negotiate Treaty

A member of the delegation in Paris which negotiated the peace treaty for Bulgaria, Ziapkov is charged with "carrying out the instructions of foreign intelligence of England and America."

Timev showed 172 similar pages he said were written by Rev. Yanko Nikolev Ivanov, 48, supervisor of the Methodist Church and deputy religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches; 250 pages attributed to Rev. Georgi Nikolov Chernev, 46, head of the Fentecost Church; and 46 pages attributed to Rev. Nikola Mikailov Naumov, 49, secretary of the Union Board of Baptist Churches.

Israel Makes New Bid For U.N. Membership

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Israel made a new bid tonight for membership in the United Nations.

Israeli spokesmen said their country expected to be admitted soon since Israel has been recognized now by 39 members, or more than a two-thirds majority of the 58 United Nations.

Israel's previous bid for United Nations membership failed in the Security Council last December 17.

Bikini Data Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) demanded in a House speech today that the public be let in on what happened in the Bikini atom bomb tests.

French Assembly Denounces Reds

PARIS, Friday, Feb. 25 (AP)—The National Assembly voted today condemnation of French Communist leaders for alleged treasonable statements and expressed confidence in the government to punish them.

The vote, 386 to 182, climaxed lengthy debate in the lower house of parliament. During the talks Premier Henri Queuille threatened to take legal action against the Communist leaders for attempts to "undermine the morale of the nation and the army."

The voting would seem to support the Premier if he seeks legal action against the Communists for statements interpreted by many deputies as treasonable appeals to the French people to welcome the Red army if Russia should invade France.

But the Assembly turned down a motion calling on the government to prosecute Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the Communist Party.

Struggle Over Berlin Extended To Hospitals

BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP) — The East-West struggle over Berlin touched even the sick today. American, British and French authorities ordered Western Berlin hospitals to admit no more patients from the Soviet sector of the city.

An exceptions was made for emergency and accident cases. The Western Allies said they were forced to take action because 17 per cent of the 28,810 patients in Western Berlin's hospitals are residents of the Soviet sector.

MacArthur Asks Legislators Not To Summon Him

Senate Committee Accedes To Request

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur turned down tonight any idea of a congressional invitation to Washington which would enable him to explain at first-hand the Far Eastern military situation.

The legislators immediately acceded to the request from Gen. MacArthur that Congress extend no such invitation to him.

Chairman Tydings (D) Md., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made this known today in an announcement that he had received a personal communication from the Far Eastern Supreme Allied Commander.

Tydings said MacArthur expressed the hope he would not be called home at this time because, as the Senator put it, "his views are well known to the administration and to the War Department and pressing problems in Japan" make the trip inadvisable. Tydings added:

"We decided not to ask him to come at the present time."

The Senator emphasized that he had not communicated with MacArthur. Tydings explained that the General apparently had learned from news dispatches that Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., had asked the Armed Services Committee to issue an invitation to MacArthur.

It was the second time within two years that the great military figure has asked that he not be taken away from his job of rebuilding war-torn Japan.

On the other occasion, the House Foreign Affairs Committee wanted his views on United States aid to China and other Far Eastern problems.

The current situation arose after reports of a difference of opinion between MacArthur and the Army on the importance of Japan as a defense position if war breaks out.

Says "Special Interests" Try To Defeat Plan

President Declares He May Tour Nation To Reaffirm Support

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — President Truman tonight struck two-fistedly at "pressure groups" and "die-hard reactionaries" who he said are trying to wreck his program for the "welfare" of America.

He told more than 3,500 cheering Democratic Party victory celebrants that he may make a nationwide tour to tell the people about that program and what his critics are trying to do to wreck it.

Despite their "propaganda" and their efforts to "confuse," he said, "we will enact the programs to which we are committed."

The President spoke informally first at the first of two Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners at the Mayflower Hotel.

Here, he got roars of laughter and cheers as he declared about 90 per cent of the people thought another would be President by now.

But he said he is more than happy now to have together the "September Democrats, the October Democrats," and the "Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday Democrats."

He said he is "sure the people are with us in our efforts to implement the Democratic platform of 1948."

Standing Ovations

The President was greeted with standing ovations at both the Mayflower and the Statler. He made his formal address at the latter.

Mr. Truman told cheering audience that the Taft-Hartley Act is "an insult to the working men and women of this country and they will not rest until it is destroyed."

The President's statement was immediately disputed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft told a reporter he had received "hundreds" of letters from working men and women urging Congress to keep the law intact.

President Truman said the Taft-Hartley Act was a "bad law", that all of the oratory in the world wouldn't change it into a good law.

The President's Statler audience interrupted him frequently with loud cheers, laughter and applause as he berated his opposition and interpolated occasionally in his own campaign style.

When he said he may get on the train again and make a tour of the country, loud cheers went up.

Loud applause also greeted his attack on lobbies, pressure groups, and "communists and commentators" who he said were controlled by "special interests."

He digressed again when he referred to those who are "trying to frighten the people with the old, worn out bugaboo that socialism is taking over in Washington."

No "Truth In It"

"They have been saying that for 16 years," he said when taking his eyes off his manuscript.

"There is not a word of truth in it, of course."

He left his manuscript again after saying his critics are running "full page ads" and "all we have on our side is the people."

He added informally, "thank God for that."

Mr. Truman said he found out in his campaign travels last year that the people are vitally interested in what their government is doing.

"This concern on the part of the people is a fine thing for the growth of democracy and responsible gov-

Cost Of Living Continues Drop

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Labor Department reported tonight a fourth straight month's drop in living costs.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics consumers price index declined .3 per cent between mid-December and mid-January. This continued a downtrend from the August-September all-time peak.

The new index for mid-January is 1.2 per cent above a year ago. It is 28.2 per cent over June, 1946, when major price controls were abandoned and 73.3 per cent above the August, 1939, level.

The drop from the August-September high is 2.1 per cent.

The mid-January index means that 338,000 employes of General Motors Corporation, whose wages ar pegged by contract to the government index, will take a two-cent hourly pay cut. They had obtained a three-cent pay increase under the contract arrangement when the index was on the rise.

Labor Bill Strategy Mapped By Republicans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Sen. Morse (R-Ore) said today he will introduce a substitute for the Truman labor bill next week if Senate Labor Committee Democrats block revision of the administration measure.

In that event, Morse said, he is hopeful that Sen. Ives (R-NY) and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) will join him. He made the announcement after a long conference with Ives.

"I am sure," said Morse, "that any bill backed by Ives, Taft and Morse will pass the Senate."

"Axis Sally" Tells Of Her Love For One-Time College Professor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—"Axis Sally" said today that the man she loved—a onetime college professor who was already married and the father of three-intluenced her tremendously in her wartime broadcasts from Germany.

Mildred E. Gillars, on trial for treason, nervously twisted her handkerchief as she told of her love for Max Otto Koischwitz, one of the directors of Nazi radio propaganda.

"Of course, I loved him," the 48-year-old woman said. "I consider Professor Kolschwitz to have been my destiny."

Koischwitz had spent 16 years in America, had become an American citizen, and had taught comparative languages at Hunter College.

But, said Miss Gillars, "he was so in love with the German landscape that each and every year he lived in America he returned to Germany."

In 1939, she said, he and his family returned—and never came back.

Maryland Senate Confirms Brice As New Vehicles Commissioner

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 24 (AP)—Using a parliamentary maneuver which cut off debate, the House killed a bill today which would have banned beer and liquor sales throughout Maryland on Sunday.

Meanwhile, the Senate confirmed Arthur H. Brice as the new motor vehicles commissioner. His name was included in Gov. Lane's "green-bag" list of executive nominations, which he sent in just as the Senate convened. He will begin a two-year term in May.

The Sunday-closing measure was brought to the House floor with an unfavorable committee report.

Delegate Deran (D-Harford), who sponsored the bill, made a motion to override the report.

Delegate McNulty then moved to table the bill. The motion was not debatable and carried, 62-40.

Afterwards, House leaders indicated the bill will remain on the table for the rest of the session. It would have placed taverns in Baltimore

Although this civil rights dispute was settled momentarily it probably will be revived tomorrow when the housing bill is thrown open to Senate debate.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) told reporters that Bricker intends to bring his amendment up on the floor and that he had requested a record vote to show how the committee had voted.

Cain Backs Bricker's Move

On the anti-segregation amendment only Sen. Cain (R-Wash) supported Bricker's move. On final passage, Sen. Robertson (D-Va) joined Bricker and Cain in opposition.

Here are major provisions of the bill:

1. Public housing — The government's cash contributions would increase progressively the first five years to a maximum of $308,000,000 and stay at that amount for 35 years longer. The 810,000 units would be built at the rate of 135,000 a year, with the President having authority to increase production to 250,000 annually or to cut it to 50,000.

2. A $1,500,000,000 slum clearance program to help localities in cleaning up blighted areas for redevelopment. Of the total $500,000,000 would be in grants over a five year period and the remainder in loans which would not run more than 40 years.

Rural Program Provided

3. A $262,500,000 four-year rural dwelling and building program to be handled under direction of the Secretary of Agriculture. Of this amount, $250,000,000 would be for loans and the remainder for grants.

The measure also would authorize the housing and home finance administrator to undertake a broad research program aimed at reducing building costs and speeding construction methods.

Maybank said the housing bill will be placed before the Senate as a bi-partisan measure.

44 Die In Plane Crashes In Peru And Hong Kong

[By The Associated Press]

Forty-four persons were killed today in two plane crashes in Peru and Hong Kong. Two other persons were badly hurt.

Two crewmen and 19 passengers burned to death when a transport plane upset and caught fire on a takeoff from Curzco airport, Lima, Peru. The accident occurred when a tire blew out. All the victims were Peruvians. Two others were injured in the crash.

In Hong Kong, 19 passengers and four crewmen died when a Cathay Pacific Airways passenger plane from Naila plunged into a rocky ravine at the west end of Braemer Reservoir in an almost isolated part of Northern Hong Kong island.

Riot Precaution

PRETORIA, South Africa, Feb. 24 (AP) — Two hundred police are being sent today to Durban where renewed rioting between Indians and Zulus is threatened. Scores of persons, mainly Indians, were killed in riots several weeks ago at Durban and there was another flareup last Saturday.

Huge Food Chain Loses Its Appeal

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP) — The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the anti-trust conviction of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, and 24 officers and subsidiary companies.

The appeals court said the A. and P. "used its large buying power to coerce suppliers to sell to it at a lower price than to its competitors on the threat that it would place such suppliers on its private blacklist if they did not conform, or that A. and P. would go into the manufacturing business in competition with the recalcitrant suppliers."

The original case was heard by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley in Danville, Ill., in 1946. Judge Lindley fined the defendants a total of $175,000 after hearing 22 weeks of technical testimony on A. and P. operations.

In addition to anti-trust violation, he found them guilty of illegally favoring certain individuals and companies in business transactions.

Among the defendants was Carl Byoir, public relations counsel of A. and P., and Business Organization, Inc., a corporation through which Byoir conducted public relations for the company.

Ground Swells Rip Calif. Beach Homes

REDONDO BEACH, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP)—Forty-foot ground swells ripped homes on the strand between Redondo and Hermosa Beaches today, causing the evacuation of several families and $100,000 property damage.

Boulders from the huge seawall were tossed like marbles by the storm. Foundations were undermined, sections of sidewalk destroyed, paving caved in, and streets flooded.

Electricity was cut off as the storm knocked down power poles. The coast highway was blocked by boulders and debris swept in by the angry waves.

"Goon Squad" Tactics Condemned By NLRB

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—"Goon squad" tactics, exploited to intimidate non-strikers in a labor dispute, were condemned by the National Labor Relations Board today in a decision against the CIO-United Furniture Workers.

The board found the union guilty of seven unfair labor practices arising from picket-line violence in a strike at the Smith Cabinet Manufacturing Company, Salem, Ind., which began September 4, 1947. The trouble was finally quieted and the plant re-opened after the company secured a court injunction.

Witnesses testified that while the union was fighting for recognition as the bargaining agent in the plant of 400 employes, outbreaks of violence developed such as few recent strikes have produced.

"Wrong Baby," They Say

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Colvin, Toledo, Ohio, contending they were given the "wrong baby" after Mrs. Colvin gave birth to a child at Riverside Hospital, have filed suit for $100,000 damages against the hospital and Dr. Abraham H. Steinberg. The Colvins are pictured above with their daughter, Linda, 2, and the baby, Diane, 10 months. They say they don't know to whom Diane belongs. Carl M. Westhoff, hospital superintendent, insists the baby is Mrs. Colvin's.

'Confessions' Of Bulgarian Churchmen Made Public On Eve Of Treason Trial

By DIMITER MISHEV

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Bulgarian Justice Ministry made public tonight voluminous documents represented as mass pleas of guilt and repentence by 15 Protestant churchmen going on trial tomorrow on charges of spying for the United States and Britain.

Through the 2,266 pages ran such phrases as:

"I admit my guilt.

"I repent.

"I beg clemency.

Defendents "Freely Confessed"

Ilia Timev, deputy minister of justice, produced the statements at a news conference. Newsmen were shown three volumes of files of the pre-trial investigations with hundreds of pages in the Handwriting, Timev said, of the defendants.

The government announced previously that all had "fully confessed."

Timev produced 144 pages which he said were in the handwriting of Rev. Vassil Georgiev Ziapkov, 48, head of the Congregational Church in Bulgaria and religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches—Congregational, Baptist, Methodist and Pentecost.

Ziapkov is accused of being the main figure in plots to send American and British observers information about the Bulgarian army, movements of troops, extent of armaments and disposition of Soviet troops in the country after 1944. He also is charged with slandering Russia.

Helped Negotiate Treaty

A member of the delegation in Paris which negotiated the peace treaty for Bulgaria, Ziapkov is charged with "carrying out the instructions of foreign intelligence of England and America."

Timev showed 172 similar pages he said were written by Rev. Yanko Nikolev Ivanov, 48, supervisor of the Methodist Church and deputy religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches; 250 pages attributed to Rev. Georgi Nikolov Chernev, 46, head of the Pentecost Church; and 46 pages attributed to Rev. Nikola Mikailov Naumov, 49, secretary of the Union Board of Baptist Churches.

Israel Makes New Bid For U.N. Membership

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 24 (AP) — Israel made a new bid tonight for membership in the United Nations.

Israeli spokesmen said their country expected to be admitted soon since Israel has been recognized now by 39 members, or more than a two-thirds majority of the 58 United Nations.

Israel's previous bid for United Nations membership failed in the Security Council last December 17.

Bikini Data Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) demanded in a House speech today that the public be let in on what happened in the Bikini atom bomb tests.

French Assembly Denounces Reds

PARIS, Friday, Feb. 25 (AP)—The National Assembly voted today condemnation of French Communist leaders for alleged treasonable statements and expressed confidence in the government to punish them.

The vote, 386 to 182, climaxed lengthy debate in the lower house of parliament. During the talks Premier Henri Queuille threatened to take legal action against the Communist leaders for attempts to "undermine the morale of the nation and the army."

The voting would seem to support the Premier if he seeks legal action against the Communists for statements interpreted by many deputies as treasonable appeals to the French people to welcome the Red army if Russia should invade France.

But the Assembly turned down a motion calling on the government to prosecute Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the Communist Party.

Struggle Over Berlin Extended To Hospitals

BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP) — The East-West struggle over Berlin touched even the sick today. American, British and French authorities ordered Western Berlin hospitals to admit no more patients from the Soviet sector of the city.

An exceptions was made for emergency and accident cases. The Western Allies said they were forced to take action because 17 per cent of the 28,810 patients in Western Berlin's hospitals are residents of the Soviet sector.

MacArthur Asks Legislators Not To Summon Him

Senate Committee Accedes To Request

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur turned down tonight any idea of a congressional invitation to Washington which would enable him to explain at first-hand the Far Eastern military situation.

The legislators immediately acceded to the request from Gen. MacArthur that Congress extend no such invitation to him.

Chairman Tydings (D) Md., of the Senate Afmed Services Committee, made this known today in an announcement that he had received a personal communication from the Far Eastern Supreme Allied Commander.

Tydings said MacArthur expressed the hope he would not be called home at this time because, as the Senator put it, "his views are well known to the administration and to the War Department and pressing problems in Japan" make the trip inadvisable. Tydings added:

"We decided not to ask him to come at the present time."

The Senator emphasized that he had not communicated with MacArthur. Tydings explained that the General apparently had learned from news dispatches that Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., had asked the Armed Services Committee to issue an invitation to MacArthur.

It was the second time within two years that the great military figure has asked that he not be taken away from his job of rebuilding war-torn Japan.

On the other occasion, the House Foreign Affairs Committee wanted his views on United States aid to China and other Far Eastern problems.

The current situation arose after reports of a difference of opinion between MacArthur and the Army on the importance of Japan as a defense position if war breaks out.

Maryland Senate Confirms Brice As New Vehicles Commissioner

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 24 (AP)—Using a parliamentary maneuver which cut off debate, the House killed a bill today which would have banned beer and liquor sales throughout Maryland on Sunday.

Meanwhile, the Senate confirmed Arthur H. Brice as the new motor vehicles commissioner. His name was included in Gov. Lane's "green-bag" list of executive nominations, which he sent in just as the Senate convened. He will begin a two-year term in May.

The Sunday-closing measure was brought to the House floor with an unfavorable committee report.

Delegate Deran (D-Harford), who sponsored the bill, made a motion to override the report.

Delegate McNulty then moved to table the bill. The motion was not debatable and carried, 62-40.

Afterwards, House leaders indicated the bill will remain on the table for the rest of the session. It would have placed taverns in Baltimore

ARTHUR H. BRICE

Says "Special Interests" Try To Defeat Plan

President Declares He May Tour Nation To Reaffirm Support

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — President Truman tonight struck two-fistedly at "pressure groups" and "die-hard reactionaries" who he said are trying to wreck his program for the "welfare" of America.

He told more than 3,500 cheering Democratic Party victory celebrants that he may make a nationwide tour to tell the people about that program and what his critics are trying to do to wreck it.

Despite their "propaganda" and their efforts to "confuse," he said, "we will enact the programs to which we are committed."

The President spoke informally first at the first of two Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners at the Mayflower Hotel.

Here, he got roars of laughter and cheers as he declared about 90 per cent of the people thought another would be President by now.

But he said he is more than happy now to have together the "September Democrats, the October Democrats," and the "Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday Democrats."

He said he is "sure the people are with us in our efforts to implement the Democratic platform of 1948."

Standing Ovations

The President was greeted with standing ovations at both the Mayflower and the Statler. He made his formal address at the latter.

Mr. Truman told cheering audience that the Taft-Hartley Act is "an insult to the working men and women of this country and they will not rest until it is destroyed."

The President's statement was immediately disputed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft told a reporter he had received "hundreds" of letters from working men and women urging Congress to keep the law intact.

President Truman said the Taft-Hartley Act was a "bad law", that all of the oratory in the world wouldn't change it into a good law.

The President's Statler audience interrupted him frequently with loud cheers, laughter and applause as he berated his opposition and interpolated occasionally in his own campaign style.

When he said he may get on the train again and make a tour of the country, loud cheers went up.

Loud applause also greeted his attack on lobbies, pressure groups, and "communists and commentators" who he said were controlled by "special interests."

He digressed again when he referred to those who are "trying to frighten the people with the old, worn out bugaboo that socialism is taking over in Washington."

No "Truth In It"

"They have been saying that for 16 years," he said when taking his eyes off his manuscript.

"There is not a word of truth in it, of course."

He left his manuscript again after saying his critics are running "full page ads" and "all we have on our side is the people."

He added informally, "thank God for that."

Mr. Truman said he found out in his campaign travels last year that the people are vitally interested in what their government is doing.

"This concern on the part of the people is a fine thing for the growth of democracy and responsible gov-

Cost Of Living Continues Drop

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Labor Department reported tonight a fourth straight month's drop in living costs.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics consumers price index declined .3 per cent between mid-December and mid-January. This continued a downtrend from the August-September all-time peak.

The new index for mid-January is 1.2 per cent above a year ago. It is 28.2 per cent over June, 1946, when major price controls were abandoned and 73.3 per cent above the August, 1939, level.

The drop from the August-September high is 2.1 per cent.

The mid-January index means that 338,000 employes of General Motors Corporation, whose wages ar pegged by contract to the government index, will take a two-cent hourly pay cut. They had obtained a three-cent pay increase under the contract arrangement when the index was on the rise.

Labor Bill Strategy Mapped By Republicans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Sen. Morse (R-Ore) said today he will introduce a substitute for the Truman labor bill next week if Senate Labor Committee Democrats block revision of the administration measure.

In that event, Morse said, he is hopeful that Sen. Ives (R-NY) and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) will join him. He made the announcement after a long conference with Ives.

"I am sure," said Morse, "that any bill backed by Ives, Taft and Morse will pass the Senate."

"Axis Sally" Tells Of Her Love For One-Time College Professor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—"Axis Sally" said today that the man she loved—a onetime college professor who was already married and the father of three—influenced her tremendously in her wartime broadcasts from Germany.

Mildred E. Gillars, on trial for treason, nervously twisted her handkerchief as she told of her love for Max Otto Koischwitz, one of the directors of Nazi radio propaganda.

"Of course, I loved him," the 48-year-old woman said. "I consider Professor Koischwitz to have been my destiny."

Koischwitz had spent 16 years in America, had become an American citizen, and had taught comparative languages at Hunter College.

But, said Miss Gillars, "he was so in love with the German landscape that each and every year he lived in America he returned to Germany."

In 1939, she said, he and his family returned—and never came back.

Pipe Line Steel Ban To Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The government announced today that it will again approve shipments of steel for the 1,067-mile oil pipe line under construction across Arabia. Such shipments have been banned for 10 months because of the steel shortage.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer announced the decision at a news conference. He said the military services had recommended it along with other agencies.

In addition to the shortage of steel, another reason for the suspension of licensing of exports of pipe for the line is understood to have been the question of whether the line could be defended in event of war—presumably a war with Russia.

Sawyer told reporters that "defensibility" of the line in event of "political trouble" was considered "among other things" when it was decided to allow resumption of pipe shipments.

He declined, however, to say whether the decision meant a belief that there is less liklihood of a need to defend it or greater ability to conduct a defense.

Challenge Accepted By Dixie Senators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Southern senators today grimly accepted the administration's challenge to a talking match next week over a proposed change in the Senate rules.

The change would make it easier to stop filibusters — time-consuming, action-stalling debate.

Cocktail Parties

For years, there has been a theory in this country that, if you want to sell anything from a washing machine or a newspaper feature to a daughter in marriage, all you have to do is give a cocktail party to soften up the customers. My observation, however, has been the results are usually contrary to expectations, namely the prospects don't get soft but stiff. Of course, in the case of the daughter, it is called a debut, but the score is the same.

Based on a brief experience of about thirty years, I subscribe to the belief that free liquor is a poor salesman, and a headache the next day does not make the customer feel any kindlier towards the host and his products. Of course, I admit cocktail parties may sell corn cures, because there is generally no place to sit down and your feet begin to hurt. I believe it was Metternich who said—"Favors past do gorge thee. Favors to come, ah! there's the rub." In simpler language, this means if you're going to sell anything do it on the way in. It's too late when the customer is leaving.

To be sure there is a constant din. It is customary to hire musicians who never stop playing and singing so the noise usually resembles what you would expect if the full Marine Corps band were playing "From the Halls of Montzuma To the Shores of Tripoli" in a telephone booth, and giving the tune the full treatment. Do you remember anything you ever heard at one of these festive gatherings, or have you ever heard anything? The acoustics generally prevent understanding or grasping what your neighbor says, or paying any attention to it. Here's an example:

Brock Pemberton, the well-known theatrical producer (Harvey, etc.), decided to try an experiment. The dialogue sounded like "yatata, yata, yatata." There were about one hundred persons in the laboratory called a hotel suite when he entered. He walked up to each covey and a few singles, and remarked quietly and seriously,

"How do you do? I'm glad to meet you. My wife died last night."

Of course, she hadn't for I am happy to report she is still alive and healthy, and even today within a stone's throw of this typewriter. But did he get sympathy? No. It just went on "yatata, yata, yatata." Try it yourself sometime unless this warning cures you of the habit of cocktail parties. Finally, to be sure you have indigestion next day, they pass around some dainties, called canapes, made up of various cold, kitchen scraps on toast which you wouldn't feed to a dog. Oh yes, I guess such affairs must bull the market for bicarbonate of soda, too.

To show how habit forming these parties may become, a friend of mine started out in a small way years ago to have in a few of his friends on Christmas night, but, as is usually the case, the gathering grew from ten or twelve to two or three hundred and from Martinis to champagne, and from an amateur piano player to a six-piece orchestra. Strangers passing hearing the music and the popping of corks would drop in and find themselves welcome since by this time, the host, himself, had trouble identifying his guests and only got to see a few of them anyway.

Like the jackpots of the giveaway radio programs, it grew and grew each year. Once a lady was found two days later under some coats in the hall closet. Finally, Santa Claus' son was coming home for Christmas on an airplane, so he overheard the conversation of two young men sitting behind him. They didn't know he was the offspring of the goose (sic) that laid the golden egg. Said the first,

"What are you going to do Christmas night, Bill?"

"I don't know—why?" asked the other.

"Well, there an old guy up where I live gives a big party with music and champaigne. Why don't you come to it?"

"Do you know him?"

"No, but anybody can go. He won't know the difference. What do you say?"

When the son reported this conversation to his father, with a sigh of relief, he called the whole thing off forever. To be sure to make it stick, he took a trip to Honolulu. But people came anyway and were very indignant when they found the house dark. The erstwhile host felt much better than usual the day after Christmas.

"Miss Rahl, be sure to make a note to remind me to give our annual cocktail party for the publishers in April."

Eastern German Reds In Trouble As West Booms

By BRACK CURRY

BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP)— The Communists are in trouble in Eastern Germany.

While Western Germany booms, Communist plans to weld the Soviet occupation zone into a satellite state with a planned economy are foundering on the rocks of shortages, ineptitude, graft and covert German opposition.

This word comes from the Communists themselves.

Little news seeps out of Eastern Germany throught other than Soviet channels. News correspondents are barred. Foreign diplomats are excluded. But the Soviet press and Soviet emissaries in Berlin blazed forth for all to see the Communist headaches in Germany.

They tick off the cause of their troubles in a seemingly endless stream: Sabotage, red tape, disinterest, the Allied counterblockade, inefficiency, economic scandals, hoarding.

Through Crack In Certain

Through the crack in the iron curtain that is Berlin, let's take a look at what the Communists say about their zone of Germany over a period of just one month:

The minister-president (governor) of the Soviet-occupied state of Saxony starts the ball rolling by admitting severe economic losses in Eastern Germany from the Allied counterblockade. He reports four big industries fell far short of production quotas. He publicly blames the failure on lack of raw materials Western Germany, an inadequate force of technicans and an overstrained transport system.

(The Allied counterblockade was imposed when the Soviets stopped the shipment of food and other raw materials from Eastern Germany to Western Germany. Many Russian zone technicians have fled to the West to escape forced or deportation. By reliable accounts the Soviets have carted into Russia vast quantites of rolling stock.)

Next comes the newspaper "taegliche Rundschau"—the Kremlin's mouthpiece in Germany. It accuses German farmers in the Soviet zone of hoarding livestock and failing to deliver their quotas of meat and milk to meet the civilian ration.

Workers "Laying Down"

Neuses Deutschland, officials organ of the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party, complains workers in the Soviet sector of Berlin aren't working hard enough. It threatens to publish a blacklist of backsliders.

The Communist newspaper says that even socialized industries in East Berlin are failing to meet their quotas. It says non- fulfillment of orders in Eastern Berlin is crippling industry in the Soviet zone.

Another Russian-controlled newspaper reports a scandal among railroad police at Leipzig. In Russian-occupied Mecklenburg the chief of German railways demands greater efforts from workers and "substantial increase in production to meet our plan quotas."

Taegliche Rundschau chimes in with an "outrageous economic scandal" involving members of the German government of Soviet-occupied Saxony-Anhalt. It claims this group stole huge stocks of medicines and sold them for personal profit.

P. Morenov, chief of the manpower division of Russian military government, claims the speedup campaign in Soviet zone industries has falsely inflated wages. Wages must be "drastically revised dawnward," he declaires.

While Western Germany booms, Communist plans to weld the Soviet occupation zone into a satellite state with a planned economy are foundering on the rocks of shortages, ineptitude, graft and covert German opposition.

This word comes from the Communists themselves.

Little news seeps out of Eastern Germany throught other than Soviet channels. News correspondents are barred. Foreign diplomats are excluded. But the Soviet press and Soviet emissaries in Berlin blazed forth for all to see the Communist headaches in Germany.

They tick off the cause of their troubles in a seemingly endless stream: Sabotage, red tape, disinterest, the Allied counterblockade, inefficiency, economic scandals, hoarding.

Through Crack In Certain

Through the crack in the iron curtain that is Berlin, let's take a look at what the Communists say about their zone of Germany over a period of just one month:

The minister-president (governor) of the Soviet-occupied state of Saxony starts the ball rolling by admitting severe economic losses in Eastern Germany from the Allied counterblockade. He reports four big industries fell far short of production quotas. He publicly blames the failure on lack of raw materials Western Germany, an inadequate force of technicans and an overstrained transport system.

(The Allied counterblockade was imposed when the Soviets stopped the shipment of food and other raw materials from Eastern Germany to Western Germany. Many Russian zone technicians have fled to the West to escape forced or deportation. By reliable accounts the Soviets have carted into Russia vast quantites of rolling stock.)

Next comes the newspaper "taegliche Rundschau"—the Kremlin's mouthpiece in Germany. It accuses German farmers in the Soviet zone of hoarding livestock and failing to deliver their quotas of meat and milk to meet the civilian ration.

Workers "Laying Down"

Neuses Deutschland, officials organ of the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party, complains workers in the Soviet sector of Berlin aren't working hard enough. It threatens to publish a blacklist of backsliders.

The Communist newspaper says that even socialized industries in East Berlin are failing to meet their quotas. It says non- fulfillment of orders in Eastern Berlin is crippling industry in the Soviet zone.

Another Russian-controlled newspaper reports a scandal among railroad police at Leipzig. In Russian-occupied Mecklenburg the chief of German railways demands greater efforts from workers and "substantial increase in production to meet our plan quotas."

Taegliche Rundschau chimes in with an "outrageous economic scandal" involving members of the German government of Soviet-occupied Saxony-Anhalt. It claims this group stole huge stocks of medicines and sold them for personal profit.

P. Morenov, chief of the manpower division of Russian military government, claims the speedup campaign in Soviet zone industries has falsely inflated wages. Wages must be "drastically revised dawnward," he declaires.

Marriage Is Not Something To Be Taken Lightly

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Recently, the boy I've been dating for two years has asked me to marry him. I've gone out with other boys in that time, but none of them interested me, and I found that I really care for him. Still the question of marriage has raised a few doubts in my mind. Although I've said yes, I don't want to set a date in the near future and yet I'm afraid that if I keep avoiding any definite talk about it, I'll lose him. So, you see, I can't decide what to do. Will you help me?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) Marriage is nothing to consider seriously unless you're absolutely sure of your own feelings. Since you do have doubts, don't commit yourself further. It's only fair to be as honest with him as you are with yourself. Sit down and analyze your own feelings. Think out these doubts of yours, and you'll be able to tell just how you stand when you total up your feelings for and against your marriage. Then, when you have something positive to go on, discuss the whole situation with the boy. It's important for both of you to know how the other feels about this, and a serious talk may help to clear up many questions.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Several of my friends and I make up a close little crowd, and we've gone through grammar school, junior high, and two years of high school together. We have the same interests, the same likes and dislikes, and we've never taken in anyone new. I suppose that's the wrong way to feel, but we've been friends so long, that no one else ceemed to fit. Now, one of our classmates is trying her best to crash our circle. No matter where we go we meet her, and not a day goes by that she doesn't call one or all of us and ask to join us in our plans. We've tried to discourage her, but it hasn't worked. Without being rude, how can we go about letting her know that we are not interested?"

(A) There's a chance that she might add something to your little circle, and if you included her in a few of your doings, you might find that she did fit in. If it didn't turn out that way, she would realize it and drop out of her own free will. It wouldn't help the reputation of your crowd to be downright rude to her, but if she just didn't mix, she wouldn't try to include herself in your affairs any longer.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: For a couple of months, a boy I've been dating divided his time between me and another girl. Then, he decided to ask her to go steady and stopped calling me altogether. It didn't take long for the news to get around school and I've had to take a lot of kidding. It embarrasses me, and I don't know how to answer it. Can you tell me what to do?"

(A) That joking may seem like fun to certain people and as long as you show that it makes you uncomfortable, they'll keep it up. You can't tackle each individual, so you'll just have to learn to ignore the talk when it starts. Grit your teeth and shrug it off with a smile. If you can successfully act as though you no longer care and have forgotten the whole thing, they'll find another target for their "humor."

Economists who long for the hoss-and-buggy days forget we never got oats for nothing.

It's a complicated subject and hasn't changed any since Bill Bryan tried to repeal the law of supply and demand. Bill's slogan was an eye-for-an-eye. And he would stick his thumb in both.

Governments are like individuals. The more people you owe the more people you have rooting for you.

What I want to know is where is that posterity that was going to pay all this? Starting with 1932 it should be paying in some apprentice taxes right now.

The Unemployment Compensation act of Wisconsin was the first adopted by any state in the Union, going into effect on July 1, 1934, and affecting more than 155 employers and about 400,000 employes receiving less than $1,500 annually.

Commissioner Wilkinson Helps Clear Atmosphere

The issuance of statements of views and opinions, which were delayed far beyond the time they should have been, have done much to bring about some semblance of clarification as to how a bill to change the law pertaining to qualification requirements of a county engineer came about and how it got to Annapolis.

Charles N. Wilkinson, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and John J. Smith, recently named to the position of county engineer, say that, while they had knowledge that Delegate Reed of the Allegany county delegation to the Maryland Legislature contemplated such a measure, they did not request it.

So it would seem that Delegate Reed, after making known his intentions to Messrs. Wilkinson and Smith, and not having received any discouragement from those in whom he confided, proceeded to carry out his plan. His mistake was in failing to submit his proposed bill to the county board members for their approval or rejection. Because he did not, members of the county delegation at Annapolis were probably led to the belief that the county commissioners had sanctioned it. Chairman Whitworth was certainly of that belief when he first announced that that was his understanding. He later qualified the remark by saying he had been informed Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Smith had asked Mr. Reed to introduce it.

It is good, however, to learn now from Commissioner Wilkinson that he did not suggest or ask that the measure be introduced and that he feels, as do we and other members of the county board, that "the law as it stands is a good law and needs no amendment."

In the face of this, Delegate Reed should withdraw the measure or the delegation, to which it was returned from the third reading calendar, should shelve it in the interest of everybody.

When the republic gets older and everybody acquires a sufficient number of forefathers, Chiang Kai-shek's move in retiring to the tombs of his ancestors, to think things over when things get tough, may become quite an American custom.

Norway Will Come Into North Atlantic Treaty

The decision of the dominant Labor Party in favor of Norway's joining the North Atlantic security pact will give great impetus to that move toward democratic security. This approval, which will be supported in the Olso parliament by all parties except the small Communist group, is significant for two reasons. It is the decision of a weak power lying on the border of mighty Russia, and it is a decision unforced by the United States.

Ever since Foreign Minister Lange showed his interest in the proposed treaty, Norway has been the target of warnings and veiled threats from Moscow. The Norwegian defiance of Russian displeasure and the rejection of "neutrality," as urged by Sweden, should impress other interested powers in Western Europe, which, according to some of our correspondents, are now doubtful about American help in a crisis.

The same correspondents who have exaggerated the "fears and suspicions" of Western Europe have charged that the United States "blundered" in trying to "force" Norway into the Atlantic pact. Foreign Minister Lange's recent visit to Washington was, in fact, his own idea. Our State Department hesitated to encourage Norway at the outset, fearing that if she turned down the pact the effect would be unfortunate in other Western countries. The Department even considered informing Lange that a visit at this time would be inopportune. But Lange arrived before a note could be sent.

It is clear now that the State Department's fears were groundless. The only hint of pressure was the Washington announcement that countries in Europe outside the proposed pact could not count on American military supplies. Since our production of arms is limited and our own needs are tremendous, that was a necessary precaution. It would be folly for the United States to risk denying military equipment to countries which have linked their security with ours, in order to sell arms to other countries which still cherish the illusion of neutrality.

The fightingest spirit in America today is shown by the bureaucrat who asks for an appropriation of double the amount he hopes to get, and then won't give in a fraction of a dollar on the sum.

Hoover Group Aiming Its Sights At Sacred Cow

It was inevitable that the Hoover Commission on government reorganization should turn its attention to the sprawling Post Office Department. The resulting report, just submitted to Congress could be loaded with dynamite.

The commission has moved in where angels might fear to tread. It has found an obsolete administrative structure, outmoded laws and regulations, and poor accounting methods. It recommends modernization and, above all, removal of the Post Office from politics by making postmasters career men and divorcing the postmaster generalship from a political party.

Right there the commission is aiming its sights at a sacred cow. Almost from time immemorial the Post Office Department has been the greatest source of political patronage. The rewarding of the faithful with postmasterships is practically an established American custom. And until President Truman appointed a career man as Postmaster General, that job almost always went to the national chairman of the party in power.

Common sense indicates that any business can be better run by men who are experts than by outsiders who are handed a job on a gravy platter. The Post Office Department, however, has always operated on the opposite theory. As a matter of fact it was quite coincidental but interesting that, on the very day the commission released its report, the President asked the Senate to confirm the appointment of some 2,000 postmasters.

The Hoover Commission has already made some other recommendations that may not prove popular in Congress. It probably will make more in subsequent reports. But it is hard to think of any that will stir up quite the hornets' nest that this one on the Post Office Department is likely to disturb.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

No Appetite

NOW and then we read of a prominent man or woman who is being treated for malnutrition. This is puzzling because nutritional disorders and an inadequate vitamin intake usually are associated with poverty and never should beset one who can afford the best of food. But it happens and, as the saying goes, "money isn't everything."

When appetite wanes, fewer calories are consumed. Should the situation continue over a long period of time, deficiencies may develop. Such individuals are prone to skip a meal or two, especially if they eat in restaurants. Others dawdle at the table, swallow a little of this or that, and the plate returns to the kitchen half-empty. More goes into the garbage pail than into the stomach.

* * *

Some of these persons have legitimate reasons for not eating. Perhaps they are bothered with stomach ulcers or an irritable bowel and food produces distress. Others may have remained on the diet long after there was need for restrictions. Still other are too busy and tired to bother with meals. The food faddist who often allows himself only dull menus, may lose interest in eating.

There are many more who have lost appetite because of worry, anxiety, or fear. They go about their business in the usual fashion but inwardly are mildly unhappy and dissatisfied with their lot. The man or woman who craves companionship but is forced to live alone falls into this category as well as the husband or wife whose personalities do not "click." For the time being, life holds no future and even though successful in business, such a trivial and routine matter as eating proves boresome.

In this respect, emotional upsets can contribute to nutritional disorders. The condition is comparable to the behavior of the teen-ager in the throes of puppy-love. Adults, with their peace of mind disturbed, react in the same way. Financial reverses, a sudden death in the family, or a broken love affair may be the trigger mechanism. Thereafter, mental depression appears and some may go on like this for months—so long, in fact that the original incident that caused the change in mood has been forgotten. Sooner or later, weight loss ensues along with signs and symptoms of vtiamin deficiencies. Furthermore, the unbalanced diet leads to weakness and fatigue and, if the cause is not understood, additional anxieties about their health will arise.

• — • — •

When this vicious cycle is recognized, food and vitamin pills are the remedy. Many physicians have told such individuals to "eat anything and everything." Those on a diet often are startled but when the good effects are noted, they are convinced. By this time, the majority are psychologically ready to discuss the basic cause; after it is explained, improvement is more rapid. By starting life anew, or making adjustments here or there, a happier and more healthful existence is possible. Even when a different viewpoint cannot be acquired they get along better by taking the time to eat—not as a pleasure but a prescription on doctor's orders.

ANEMIA AND BLOOD LOSS

R. writes: Could bleeding gums cause anemia?

Reply

Yes. The amount of blood lost is small but if oozing continues day after day and month after month, a deficit will occur ultimately.

BONE INFECTION

A. W. writes: I am 15 years old and a victim of osteomyelitis since the age of 8. After operations, healing takes place for a short time but the trouble always returns. Is there any chance for me to recover completely and become a normal boy?

Reply

Sometimes this disorder is extremely stubborn but most cures occur when all of the infected bone is removed and penicillin is administered for some time thereafter.

"WHOOPLESS" COUGH

Mrs. G. writes: Can a child have whooping cough without the whoop?

Reply

Yes, and diagnosis must be made thru laboratory tests. In such circumstances, the condition is mistaken for a persistent cold and all too often is passed to others because no one is aware of the fact that the disease is present.

The giveaway craze has even hit Palm Springs.

Yes, sir, the competition among the plush hotels is so terrific that the latest gimmick for bringing in customers is to offer them all kinds of inducements.

At George Raft's club, "The Desert Retreat," they feature the only perfumed swimming pool in the world. They had a little trouble at first. The girls refused to go into the pool until they were promised that lifeguards with asthma would be hired.

I wouldn't say the perfume is strong, but the diving board was quivering and no one was on it.

At the famous Bel-Air hotel they serve orchid sandwiches. It tried one and all afternon I had to explain to my stomach about the birds and the bees.

Then at Sam Levin's Palm Springs Biltmore they have a sunken bathtub in each room that holds over one hundred gallons of water. It's great that you have to wait until a tide comes in before you can take a bath.

Yes, they are trying every angle they can think of to bring guests to the hotel. In fact, they thought of everything but reducing the rate.

Gratitude Train's French Railroadmen Returning To France Filled With Enthusiasm For America and the American People; Will Be Good-Will Ambassadors

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—The historic journey of 49 French "40 men-8 horses" boxcars through the U.S.A. is just about over. Except where heavy snow delayed the ceremony the boxcars have all been delivered.

The French committee of railroadmen, who spent months collecting the gifts that filled these cars, did not have the pleasure of seeing President Truman. Though urged to attend, Truman went to a concert a few blocks away from where they stood in the cold, presenting their gesture of friendship to the people of Washington.

Nor did George Allen, the Assistant Secretary of State who annually asks Congress for several million dollars to promote cultural relations with the rest of the world, take the trouble to go out in the cold to greet the visiting Frenchmen.

The French gratitude train committee had performed this momentous task without one cent of help from Mr. Allen's budget or from any U. S. source; yet the State Department, though specifically requested to do so, was not willing to send automobiles to the railroad station to meet the French visitors in Washington.

However, Vice President Barkley together with Senators Vandenberg and Connally with Attorney General Tom Clark and Undersecretary of State Jimmy Webb were out in the cold to greet the French.

Governors Did Selves Proud

And a great many governors, mayors, and patriotic citizens were far wiser and more hospitable than the State Department. Governor Tom Mabry of New Mexico sent his patrol cars across the desert to bring the French committee to Santa Fe; Governor Frank Carlson got up early in the morning and rode with them all through Kansas. Governors Scott of North Carolina and Clements of Kentucky threw open their homes. Governors Gibson of Vermont, Dever of Massachusetts and Pastore of Rhode Island staged special dinners and lunches. Governor Warren of California traveled all across his state to greet them.

And so on—the hospitality list of the American people is too long to mention here and the net result is that these Frenchmen are going home enthusiastic rooters for the U.S.A. They did not get to know Washington officialdom but they did get to know the American people.

They were made Kentucky colonels, honorary members of the Lions Club of Cheyenne, Wyo., inspected the great Goodyear rubber plant at Akron, watched the Pueblo Indians dance in New Mexico and enjoyed the charm and hospitality of the south. And they are going back to France better ambassadors for the U.S.A. than 100 Jefferson Cafferys. For Jefferson Caffery—a better than average ambassador — mixes only with the French upper crust, who are friends of the United States anyway.

These French railroadmen, on the other hand, mingle with the workers of France—the people the communists are trying to wean away and who to some extent have already been weaned away. They will mingle with the real people of France and they will be better ambassadors than any we have sent to Paris since Benjamin Franklin.

Spread Gospel Of America

Take the case of M. Charles D'Hagues, a shop foreman of the French Railways, as a member of the Gratitude Train. He appeared before the joint legislatures of more states than Secretary of State Dean Acheson and probably as many as President Truman—the legislatures of Vermont, Arizona and New Mexico. M. D'Hagues is from the backbone of France and he has met and mingled with the backbone of America. Thanks to the reception he received here, he is going back to France, back to his job as a shop foreman, to spread the gospel of America. He will be a great ambassador.

Most of our official ambassadors give dinners and cocktail parties to which the upper crust of government are invited but it's the people of European countries, not the upper crust, who are deciding issues today. And while Secretary of State Acheson was so busy negotiating a North Atlantic pact that he could not greet the visiting Frenchmen he overlooked the fact that no treaty is worth more than the paper it's written on unless public opinion backs it up, and that arms shipped to Europe may fall into the hands of an enemy unless the men of Europe are ready to stand up and use those arms.

That is one of the most important points missed by the high-up planners of the State Department and the Pentagon. They are so far up in the stratosphere, so busy writing pacts and shipping arms to Europe, that they forget about people.

Friendship Foundation Needed

The government of France which signs the North Atlantic Pact may be out of office the following day. But the people of France go on forever. And as long as the French people stand with the American people we build on a foundation far more solid than pacts or treaties.

What most Americans don't realize is that Moscow, up until a year ago, had made great inroads upon the French and Italian people. Approximately one-third of them voted communist. Moscow prides itself on having a hold on people—all its propaganda is directed to that goal, not to governments. Despite this, 6,000,000 French people—in answer to the friendship train—organized a train of gratitude to the United States. They did this without any inspiration from their government on a purely people-to-people basis.

Stalin probably would have given his left arm had the French people sent such a train to Russia, because he specializes in winning over people. But the French didn't send it to him. They sent their train to the American people instead.

And that's why, despite the cold-shoulder given the Frenchmen by President Truman and the State Department, the receptions accorded them by the Mayor Joe Smiths of Oakland, California, and the Mayor William O'Dwyers of New York and the Mayor George Welches of Grand Rapids and the Mayor Fletcher Bowrons of Los Angeles and the Mayor Jim Curleys of Boston and all the others were so important.

For they saw the importance of this people-to-people government and they, together with the governors and a large part of the rest of the American people, gave the French the rousing welcome they so well deserved and will always remember.

Prominent Chinese I know said the other day he has proof that the multi-million dollar U. S. arms shipment to the National government late last year was "sabotaged by delays." Not much of the stuff arrived in time to be used against the Chinese Red armies.

He agrees with Gen. Chennault, former head of the Flying Tigers, that the Reds will attempt to cross the Yangtze some time next month. But he doesn't think they can do it if only a modest bit of additional military aid is sent to the Chinese government forces. He said:

"There have been no great depleting battles in our war. Our forces are mostly intact, though badly equipped. The Chinese Red armies are poorly led and could be easily turned back, when they attempt to move into southern China."

If China falls, he added, Mao will be no Tito. "Mao heads a thoroughly indoctrinated, loyal-to-Moscow Communist Party movement nearly 30 years old. He will never vary from the line."

My friend grows annoyed whenever he reads in a U. S. paper that China has been hopelessly divided for centuries. "We were a united country two centuries before the birth of Christ," he said. "We have been united throughout a good two-thirds of our history."

As for the future of China he believes that if the Reds are beaten China should go socialistic: "The only great progress we have made in recent years was in government railroading, government banking and government steel and munitions. Many countries do not need socialism, and yours is one of them. China does."

The announcement that Lloyd Paul Stryker will defend Alger Hiss, the brilliant young ex-State Department official indicted on perjury charges by a federal grand jury probing Communist espionage, recalls that the distinguished attorney took part in one of the last great national trials—the Jimmy Hines case.

I asked recently, "Whatever became of interesting trials?" The answer is that the war cheapened individual life and brought home to all of us—including editors—the enormity of the vaster questions of genocide, international relations, conspiracy and the like.

The cynical butchering, via sashweight, of a sleeping magazine editor by his ever-loving frau and her lover could no longer hold the public's attention. Nor could the expose of a politician, unless he was a top man whose depravity reached beyond the borders of his state.

The trial of the immediate future, I think, will be considered momentous only if its involves huge implications that touch all of us, however slightly. The pattern was set, perhaps, in the unprecedented trials of such German leaders as did not do away with themselves. The Hiss trial probably will be in the mood of that future.

Spanish has been added to the list of "working languages" at UN, and the annual cost of translation of UN speeches into that flowing tongue will come to $2,000,000.

Its acceptance to a list which previously was confined to the English and French tongues has caused Russian and Chinese delegates to the world federation to renew their demands that their languages, too, must be made official. At present, only condensations of UN activities recorded—some time later—in both Russian and Chinese.

Babel-on-Flushing-Bay becomes more of a reality the hour. One or two of UN's meeting rooms are equipped with a remarkable short-wave radio which enables wearers of earphones to listen to, say, a sonorous Saude Arabian speaker being interpreted in English, French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian.

But beyond those rooms, a man must await the tedious translations into the language he knows—one of the reasons, beyond the veto, why UN has been unable to make the strides we all believed and hoped it would.

Any effort to choose one national language as the sole official tongue will be crushed. Gromyko, for instance, could speak better English than many of the people of this country, but would speak only in Russian—because to dip into any other tongue, he felt, would be a reflection on Moscow and an unwarranted kow-tow to the U. S.

Why not Esperanto? It is tied to no land—not even Graustark—and could be mastered by every UN delegate and the hovering reporters in a few short months. It is, as we say knowingly in our set, "La Neutrale-con de La Lingvo."

President Truman's Use Of Term "S.O.B." Stirs Capital

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—President Truman's use of the term "S.O.B." in a public gathering at which women were in attendance has stirred Washington. Mr. Truman did not, of course, say what he meant by the initials—he might have meant "Sons of Beelzebub"—but most people here feel he made an unfortunate slip of the tongue for which he should be forgiven.

Certainly Mr. Truman isn't the type of man who uses language of that kind normally. He was provoked to indignation by newspaper criticism. Some Presidents can take adverse comments, and some cannot.

The particular episode which angered Mr. Truman had to do with criticism of the acceptance by his military aide, General Vaughan, of a decoration from the Argentine government. It is true that President Peron, who bestowed the decoration, is a dictator and that many people in the United States have been alienated by the course of events in Argentina, where liberty has been trampled upon. But a presidential aide could not publicly offend the Argentine embassy, which offered the decoration, without seeming to reflect the position of the President of the United States. Just at the moment, friendly relations are being maintained with Argentina for a host of practical reasons. To accept the decoration was a step taken as the best way to handle a delicate problem. To have refused it would have caused an international incident and unnecessary embarrassment for the United States.

President Shows Little Tact

But Mr. Truman wasn't discussing the merits of the case in his address to the Reserve Officers Association. He was indignant at the newspaperman and radio commentator, who, of course; was well within his rights in raising the question as to the meaning of the decoration and its acceptance by the President's aide. Again and again Mr. Truman has shown little tact in handling critics. He should have ignored altogether the criticism about the Argentine decoration. There is no rule that requires the President to defend all members of his official family from criticism. In a democracy and with a free press, it is natural that many things distasteful to a president will be printed, and he can reply with vehemence, too. He showed in the last campaign on the stump that he knew how to answer attacks.

To use improper language, however, is a grievous error which is sometimes difficult to correct. Many people, for instance, have been arguing for a long time that, in books and plays, words in common usage—even if vulgar or profane—should be printed because they have been so widely used as to become part of the vocabulary of people in various walks of life. It has been contended that realism demands the use of any and all language that reflects what was said.

Perhaps these debates on what is or is not proper to permit in books and plays will be affected now by the precedent established here this week. It will be contended that if a President of the United States uses a term, it certainly has something approaching official sanction.

Should Express His Regret

It would be regrettable, however, if the impression created upon the youth of the land is that language hitherto deemed improper had suddenly been given sanction through usage by a President of the United States in a public meeting.

After Mr. Truman's remarks were published on the front pages of the Washington morning papers, together with dispatches by the Associated Press in newspapers reaching here from other cities, speculation started as to what Mr. Truman would do about it. It had been announced that he would make mention of the episode.

The only way out for the President, it was suggested on all sides, was a public expression of regret and apology. Such a step never hurts a public man. For it is human to err, and Mr. Truman is human.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Case Of Anna Louise Strong

IN 1917-18, a little daily newspaper was published in Petrograd by an American, H. Custis Vezey, called the Russian Daily News. I was its editor for some ten months. The newspaper was actually owned by a British merchant in Russia. On the staff were Manuel Komroff, the novelist, and Lola Kinel, a Polish lady now in America. The wartime control was in the British military mission.

In February, 1918, the newspaper was confiscated as an enemy property by the Bolsheviks and we were all sent out of the country. In due course, it reappeared as the Moscow Daily News, edited by Anna Louise Strong, an American with exceedingly strong pro-Soviet leanings. Its ownership, as that of all Soviet newspapers, is lodged in either the Soviet government or the Russian communist party. No private newspapers may be published in that country.

Anna Louise Strong must have been satisfactory to both the Communist Party and the government of Soviet Russia to have been given that job. Its most recent editor is Michael Borodin, who, from 1925-7, was in China as representative of the Third International in an attempt to conquer that country by Soviet Russia.

For years, the record shows that in this country and in many parts of the world Ann Louise Strong was one of the leading apologists for Soviet Russia, always finding everything excellent in that country and generally not so good anywhere else, particularly in the United States. There never has been any question as to her strong feeling for Soviet Russia and her devotion to everything Russian. And for more than two decades the Russians have accepted her as such.

Suddenly, she is denounced for espionage and is ordered deported from Russia to America. What has she done?

Her most recent work, "Dawn In China," is a panegyric of the Chinese communists and particularly their leader, Mao Tze-Tung. This book was issued by the Soviet Information Bureau and was published serially in every communist newspaper in every country. It was published in this manner in the Daily Worker in New York up to the moment that she was declared a spy, when it was suddenly cut off.

There is evidence that the Soviet Information Bureau edited her copy, for "Borba," the official newspaper of the Yugoslav Communist Party, published a letter from Anna Louise Strong in which she said:

"In case 'Dawn In China' is being prepared for publication as a book but still has not been printed I want to point out certain publishing changes that were made in Moscow by the editor of the Soviet Information Bureau. I do not have time to send you personally those changes, but the Soviet Information Bureau will send you a copy of their edition, if you want it, through their representative in Belgrade."

It is possible that Anna Louise Strong got into trouble in Soviet Russia by deviation from the Communist Party line. One must be a mental gymnast, capable of jumping from one position to another as fast as the policy of the politburo changes. Or it is possible that Mao Tze-Tung in China is unorthodox, which Americans must not confuse with being anti-communist. One can be schismatic without being a heretic.

But Americans must beware of former friends of communism and of converts to anti-communism. They may be smeared and attacked by their own partisans with the object of giving them a good name that they may continue to do bad things. The Communist Party is quite capable of that.

Perhaps Anna Louise Strong, in her old age, has seen the error of her ways and suffers from nostalgic patriotism. That is hard to believe. The only sure test would be if she did some overt act that would bring great harm to her former associates. Less than that is not worthy of notice.

The word, spy, is being used freely and correctly: There are a lot of people engaged in espionage these days. Sometimes the charge cannot be made to stick because, while everyone who should knows the truth, the evidence will not stand up. It is better to be suspicious. Americans who have had close relations with the communist party and Soviet Russia need prolonged testing.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE M. ADAMS

One Step at a Time

In the days of my youth I recall that a boy was glad to get any kind of useful job that would give him a start. And the starting salary was usually satisfactory, for the opportunity was what he had his eye upon.

Today almost the first question asked by the applicant for a position is: "What salary do you pay?" He wants to take six steps before he has taken one. A step at a time takes one far. The home that is built substantially and well, upon a quickly built foundation, at an early date begins to crack and settle in the wrong places. It's that way in the building of one's success in life. If the foundation is faulty the entire structure of character is injured.

One step at a time is better than trying to take two or three steps at a time, and slipping down the ladder! The plodder isn't spectacular but he takes his time and does his work well—one step at a time—and more often than not outdistances the one who is in a hurry.

Many who have only a scant knowledge of American history, often have asked why such a comparatively unknown man as Rutherford Hayes could have been elected to the Presidency of the United States, much less even nominated. I used to think this way until I made a study of the early life of this man, who kept steadily climbing, gaining both experience and prestige with every step forward. Though he was not popular, he had an honesty and a directness of purpose that many more brilliant men never had. And he had courage.

The child learns to walk—one step at a time. It's nature's way. Too rapid a pace often results in a setback. The fanned tortoise only took a step at a time—but he beat the hare! Or so it is said.

Every day we read in our newspaper of some man suddenly selected for an important place, and we wonder why we haven't heard of him before. The reason is that he was undoubtedly devoting his time to one step at a time until people began to note that he had climbed high! People are always looking for a man high up on a ladder.

Commissioner Wilkinson Helps Clear Atmosphere

The issuance of statements of views and opinions, which were delayed far beyond the time they should have been, have done much to bring about some semblance of clarification as to how a bill to change the law pertaining to qualification requirements of a county engineer came about and how it got to Annapolis.

Charles N. Wilkinson, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and John J. Smith, recently named to the position of county engineer, say that, while they had knowledge that Delegate Reed of the Allegany county delegation to the Maryland Legislature contemplated such a measure, they did not request it.

So it would seem that Delegate Reed, after making known his intentions to Messrs. Wilkinson and Smith, and not having received any discouragement from those in whom he confided, proceeded to carry out his plan. His mistake was in failing to submit his proposed bill to the county board members for their approval or rejection. Because he did not, members of the county delegation at Annapolis were probably led to the belief that the county commissioners had sanctioned it. Chairman Whitworth was certainly of that belief when he first announced that that was his understanding. He later qualified the remark by saying he had been informed Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Smith had asked Mr. Reed to introduce it.

It is good, however, to learn now from Commissioner Wilkinson that he did not suggest or ask that the measure be introduced and that he feels, as do we and other members of the county board, that "the law as it stands is a good law and needs no amendment."

In the face of this, Delegate Reed should withdraw the measure or the delegation, to which it was returned from the third reading calendar, should shelve it in the interest of everybody.

When the republic gets older and everybody acquires a sufficient number of forefathers, Chiang Kai-shek's move in retiring to the tombs of his ancestors, to think things over when things get tough, may become quite an American custom.

Norway Will Come Into North Atlantic Treaty

The decision of the dominant Labor Party in favor of Norway's joining the North Atlantic security pact will give great impetus to that move toward democratic security. This approval, which will be supported in the Olso parliament by all parties except the small Communist group, is significant for two reasons. It is the decision of a weak power lying on the border of mighty Russia, and it is a decision unforced by the United States.

Ever since Foreign Minister Lange showed his interest in the proposed treaty, Norway has been the target of warnings and veiled threats from Moscow. The Norwegian defiance of Russian displeasure and the rejection of "neutrality," as urged by Sweden, should impress other interested powers in Western Europe, which, according to some of our correspondents, are now doubtful about American help in a crisis.

The same correspondents who have exaggerated the "fears and suspicions" of Western Europe have charged that the United States "blundered" in trying to "force" Norway into the Atlantic pact. Foreign Minister Lange's recent visit to Washington was, in fact, his own idea. Our State Department hesitated to encourage Norway at the outset, fearing that if she turned down the pact the effect would be unfortunate in other Western countries. The Department even considered informing Lange that a visit at this time would be inopportune. But Lange arrived before a note could be sent.

It is clear now that the State Department's fears were groundless. The only hint of pressure was the Washington announcement that countries in Europe outside the proposed pact could not count on American military supplies. Since our production of arms is limited and our own needs are tremendous, that was a necessary precaution. It would be folly for the United States to risk denying military equipment to countries which have linked their security with ours, in order to sell arms to other countries which still cherish the illusion of neutrality.

The fightingest spirit in America today is shown by the bureaucrat who asks for an appropriation of double the amount he hopes to get, and then won't give in a fraction of a dollar on the sum.

Hoover Group Aiming Its Sights At Sacred Cow

It was inevitable that the Hoover Commission on government reorganization should turn its attention to the sprawling Post Office Department. The resulting report, just submitted to Congress could be loaded with dynamite.

The commission has moved in where angels might fear to tread. It has found an obsolete administrative structure, outmoded laws and regulations, and poor accounting methods. It recommends modernization and, above all, removal of the Post Office from politics by making postmasters career men and divorcing the postmaster generalship from a political party.

Right there the commission is aiming its sights at a sacred cow. Almost from time immemorial the Post Office Department has been the greatest source of political patronage. The rewarding of the faithful with postmasterships is practically an established American custom. And until President Truman appointed a career man as Postmaster General, that job almost always went to the national chairman of the party in power.

Common sense indicates that any business can be better run by men who are experts than by outsiders who are handed a job on a gravy platter. The Post Office Department, however, has always operated on the opposite theory. As a matter of fact it was quite coincidental but interesting that, on the very day the commission released its report, the President asked the Senate to confirm the appointment of some 2,000 postmasters.

The Hoover Commission has already made some other recommendations that may not prove popular in Congress. It probably will make more in subsequent reports. But it is hard to think of any that will stir up quite the hornets' nest that this one on the Post Office Department is likely to disturb.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

No Appetite

NOW and then we read of a prominent man or woman who is being treated for malnutrition. This is puzzling because nutritional disorders and an inadequate vitamin intake usually are associated with poverty and never should beset one who can afford the best of food. But it happens and, as the saying goes, "money isn't everything."

When appetite wanes, fewer calories are consumed. Should the situation continue over a long period of time, deficiencies may develop. Such individuals are prone to skip a meal or two, especially if they eat in restaurants. Others dawdle at the table, swallow a little of this or that, and the plate returns to the kitchen half-empty. More goes into the garbage pail than into the stomach.

* * *

Some of these persons have legitimate reasons for not eating. Perhaps they are bothered with stomach ulcers or an irritable bowel and food produces distress. Others may have remained on the diet long after there was need for restrictions. Still other are too busy and tired to bother with meals. The food faddist who often allows himself only dull menus, may lose interest in eating.

There are many more who have lost appetite because of worry, anxiety, or fear. They go about their business in the usual fashion but inwardly are mildly unhappy and dissatisfied with their lot. The man or woman who craves companionship but is forced to live alone falls into this category as well as the husband or wife whose personalities do not "click." For the time being, life holds no future and even though successful in business, such a trivial a routine matter as eating proves boresome.

In this respect, emotional upsets can contribute to nutritional disorders. The condition is comparable to the behavior of the teen-ager in the throes of puppy-love. Adults, with their peace of mind disturbed, react in the same way. Financial reverses, a sudden death in the family, or a broken love affair may be the trigger mechanism. Thereafter, mental depression appears and some may go on like this for months—so long, in fact that the original incident that caused the change in mood has been forgotten. Sooner or later, weight loss ensues along with signs and symptoms of vtiamin deficiencies. Furthermore, the unbalanced diet leads to weakness and fatigue and, if the cause is not understood, additional anxieties about their health will arise.

When this vicious cycle is recognized, food and vitamin pills are the remedy. Many physicians have told such individuals to "eat anything and everything." Those on a diet often are startled but when the good effects are noted, they are convinced. By this time, the majority are psychologically ready to discuss the basic cause; after it is explained, improvement is more rapid. By starting life anew, or making adjustments here or there, a happier and more healthful existence is possible. Even when a different viewpoint cannot be acquired they get along better by taking the time to eat—not as a pleasure but a prescription on doctor's orders.

Gratitude Train's French Railroadmen Returning To France Filled With Enthusiasm For America and the American People; Will Be Good-Will Ambassadors

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—The historic journey of 49 French "40 men-8 horses" boxcars through the U.S.A. is just about over. Except where heavy snow delayed the ceremony the boxcars have all been delivered.

The French committee of railroadmen, who spent months collecting the gifts that filled these cars, did not have the pleasure of seeing President Truman. Though urged to attend, Truman went to a concert a few blocks away from where they stood in the cold, presenting their gesture of friendship to the people of Washington.

Nor did George Allen, the Assistant Secretary of State who annually asks Congress for several million dollars to promote cultural relations with the rest of the world, take the trouble to go out in the cold to greet the visiting Frenchmen.

The French gratitude train committee had performed this momentous task without one cent of help from Mr. Allen's budget or from any U. S. source; yet the State Department, though specifically requested to do so, was not willing to send automobiles to the railroad station to meet the French visitors in Washington.

However, Vice President Barkley together with Senators Vandenberg and Connally with Attorney General Tom Clark and Undersecretary of State Jimmy Webb were out in the cold to greet the French.

Governors Did Selves Proud

And a great many governors, mayors, and patriotic citizens were far wiser and more hospitable than the State Department. Governor Tom Mabry of New Mexico sent his patrol cars across the desert to bring the French committee to Santa Fe; Governor Frank Carlson got up early in the morning and rode with them all through Kansas. Governors Scott of North Carolina and Clements of Kentucky threw open their homes. Governors Gibson of Vermont, Dever of Massachusetts and Pastore of Rhode Island staged special dinners and lunches. Governor Warren of California traveled all across his state to greet them.

And so on—the hospitality list of the American people is too long to mention here and the net result is that these Frenchmen are going home enthusiastic rooters for the U.S.A. They did not get to know Washington officialdom but they did get to know the American people.

They were made Kentucky colonels, honorary citizens of Dallas, honorary members of the Lions Club of Cheyenne, Wyo., inspected the great Goodyear rubber plant at Akron, watched the Pueblo Indians dance in New Mexico and enjoyed the charm and hospitality of the south. And they are going back to France better ambassadors for the U.S.A. than 100 Jefferson Caffery's. For Jefferson Caffery—a better than average ambassador — mixes only with the French upper crust, who are friends of the United States anyway.

These French railroadmen, on the other hand, mingle with the workers of France—the people the communists are trying to wean away and who to some extent have already been weaned away. They will mingle with the real people of France and they will be better ambassadors than any we have sent to Paris since Benjamin Franklin.

Spread Gospel Of America

Take the case of M. Charles D'Hagues, a shop foreman of the French Railways, as a member of the Gratitude Train. He appeared before the joint legislatures of more states than Secretary of State Dean Acheson and probably as many as President Truman—the legislatures of Vermont, Arizona and New Mexico. M. D'Hagues is from the backbone of France and he has met and mingled with the backbone of America. Thanks to the reception he received here, he is going back to France, back to his job as a shop foreman, to spread the gospel of America. He will be a great ambassador.

Most of our official ambassadors give dinners and cocktail parties to which the upper crust of government are invited but it's the people of European countries, not the upper crust, who are deciding issues today. And while Secretary of State Acheson was so busy negotiating a North Atlantic pact that he could not greet the visiting Frenchmen he overlooked the fact that no treaty is worth more than the paper it's written on unless public opinion backs it up, and that arms shipped to Europe may fall into the hands of an enemy unless the men of Europe are ready to stand up and use those arms.

That is one of the most important points missed by the high-up planners of the State Department and the Pentagon. They are so far up in the stratosphere, so busy writing pacts and shipping arms to Europe, that they forget about people.

Friendship Foundation Needed

The government of France which signs the North Atlantic Pact may be out of office the following day. But the people of France go on forever. And as long as the French people stand with the American people we build on a foundation far more solid than pacts or treaties.

What most Americans don't realize is that Moscow, up until a year ago, had made great inroads upon the French and Italian people. Approximately one-third of them voted communist. Moscow prides itself on having a hold on people—all its propaganda is directed to that goal, not to governments. Despite this, 6,000,000 French people—in answer to the friendship train—organized a train of gratitude to the United States. They did this without any inspiration from their government on a purely people-to-people basis.

Stalin probably would have given his left arm had the French people sent such a train to Russia, because he specializes in winning over people. But the French didn't send it to him. They sent their train to the American people instead.

And that's why, despite the cold-shoulder given the Frenchmen by President Truman and the State Department, the receptions accorded them by the Mayor Joe Smiths of Oakland, California, and the Mayor William O'Dwyers of New York and the Mayor George Welches of Grand Rapids and the Mayor Fletcher Bowrons of Los Angeles and the Mayor Jim Curleys of Boston and all the others were so important.

For they saw the importance of this people-to-people government and they, together with the governors and a large part of the rest of the American people, gave the French the rousing welcome they so well deserved and will always remember.

Prominent Chinese I know said the other day he has proof that the multi-million dollar U. S. arms shipment to the National government late last year was "sabotaged by delays." Not much of the stuff arrived in time to be used against the Chinese Red armies.

He agrees with Gen. Chennault, former head of the Flying Tigers, that the Reds will attempt to cross the Yangtze some time next month. But he doesn't think they can do it if only a modest bit of additional military aid is sent to the Chinese government forces. He said:

"There have been no great depleting battles in our war. Our forces are mostly intact, though badly equipped. The Chinese Red armies are poorly led and could be easily turned back, when they attempt to move into southern China."

If China falls, he added, Mao will be no Tito. "Mao heads a thoroughly indoctrinated, loyal-to-Moscow Communist Party movement nearly 30 years old. He will never vary from the line."

My friend grows annoyed whenever he reads in a U. S. paper that China has been hopelessly divided for centuries. "We were a united country two centuries before the birth of Christ," he said. "We have been united throughout a good two-thirds of our history."

As for the future of China he believes that if the Reds are beaten China should go socialistic: "The only great progress we have made in recent years was in government railroading, government banking and government steel and munitions. Many countries do not need socialism, and yours is one of them. China does."

The announcement that Lloyd Paul Stryker will defend Alger Hiss, the brilliant young ex-State Department official indicted on perjury charges by a federal grand jury probing Communist espionage, recalls that the distinguished attorney took part in one of the last great national trials—the Jimmy Hines case.

I asked recently, "Whatever became of interesting trials?" The answer is that the war cheapened individual life and brought home to all of us—including editors—the enormity of the vaster questions of genocide, international relations, conspiracy and the like.

The cynical butchering, via sashweight, of a sleeping magazine editor by his ever-loving frau and her lover could no longer hold the public's attention. Nor could the expose of a politician, unless he was a top man whose depravity reached beyond the borders of his state.

The trial of the immediate future, I think, will be considered momentous only if its involves huge implications that touch all of us, however slightly. The pattern was set, perhaps, in the unprecedented trials of such German leaders as did not do away with themselves. The Hiss trial probably will be in the mood of that future.

Spanish has been added to the list of "working languages" at UN, and the annual cost of translation of UN speeches into that flowing tongue will come to $2,000,000.

Its acceptance to a list which previously was confined to the English and French tongues has caused Russian and Chinese delegates to the world federation to renew their demands that their languages, too, must be made official. At present, only condensations of UN activities recorded—some time later—in both Russian and Chinese.

Babel-on-Flushing-Bay becomes more of a reality , the hour. One or two of UN's meeting rooms are equipped with a remarkable short-wave radio which enables wearers of earphones to listen to, say, a sonorous Saude Arabian speaker being interpreted in English, French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian.

But beyond those rooms, a man must await the tedious translations into the language he knows—one of the reasons, beyond the veto, why UN has been unable to make the strides we all believed and hoped it would.

Any effort to choose one national language as the sole official tongue will be crushed. Gromyko, for instance, could speak better English than many of the people of this country, but would speak only in Russian—because to dip into any other tongue, he felt, would be a reflection on Moscow and an unwarranted kow-tow to the U. S.

Why not Esperanto? It is tied to no land—not even Graustark—and could be mastered by every UN delegate and the hovering reporters in a few short months. It is, as we say knowingly in our set, "La Neutralecon de La Lingvo."

President Truman's Use Of Term "S.O.B." Stirs Capital

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—President Truman's use of the term "S.O.B." in a public gathering at which women were in attendance has stirred Washington. Mr. Truman did not, of course, say what he meant by the initials—he might have meant "Sons of Beelzebub"—but most people here feel he made an unfortunate slip of the tongue for which he should be forgiven.

Certainly Mr. Truman isn't the type of man who uses language of that kind normally. He was provoked to indignation by newspaper criticism. Some Presidents can take adverse comments, and some cannot.

The particular episode which angered Mr. Truman had to do with criticism of the acceptance by his military aide, General Vaughan, of a decoration from the Argentine government. It is true that President Peron, who bestowed the decoration, is a dictator and that many people in the United States have been alienated by the course of events in Argentina, where liberty has been trampled upon. But a presidential aide could not publicly offend the Argentine embassy, which offered the decoration, without seeming to reflect the position of the President of the United States. Just at the moment, friendly relations are being maintained with Argentina for a host of practical reasons. To accept the decoration was a step taken as the best way to handle a delicate problem. To have refused it would have caused an international incident and unnecessary embarrassment for the United States.

President Shows Little Tact

But Mr. Truman wasn't discussing the merits of the case in his address to the Reserve Officers Association. He was indignant at the newspaperman and radio commentator, who, of course; was well within his rights in raising the question as to the meaning of the decoration and its acceptance by the President's aide. Again and again Mr. Truman has shown little tact in handling critics. He should have ignored altogether the criticism about the Argentine decoration. There is no rule that requires the President to defend all members of his official family from criticism. In a democracy and with a free press, it is natural that many things distasteful to a president will be printed, and he can reply with vehemence, too. He showed in the last campaign on the stump that he knew how to answer attacks.

To use improper language, however, is a grievous error which is sometimes difficult to correct. Many people, for instance, have been arguing for a long time that, in books and plays, words in common usage—even if vulgar or profane—should be printed because they have been so widely used as to become part of the vocabulary of people in various walks of life. It has been contended that realism demands the use of any and all language that reflects what was said.

Perhaps these debates on what is or is not proper to permit in books and plays will be affected now by the precedent established here this week. It will be contended that if a President of the United States uses a term, it certainly has something approaching official sanction.

Should Express His Regret

It would be regrettable, however, if the impression created upon the youth of the land is that language hitherto deemed improper had suddenly been given sanction through usage by a President of the United States in a public meeting.

After Mr. Truman's remarks were published on the front pages of the Washington morning papers, together with dispatches by the Associated Press in newspapers reaching here from other cities, speculation started as to what Mr. Truman would do about it. It had been announced that he would make mention of the episode.

The only way out for the President, it was suggested on all sides, was a public expression of regret and apology. Such a step never hurts a public man. For it is human to err, and Mr. Truman is human.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Case Of Anna Louise Strong

IN 1917-18, a little daily newspaper was published in Petrograd by an American, H. Custis Vezey, called the Russian Daily News. I was its editor for some ten months. The newspaper was actually owned by a British merchant in Russia. On the staff were Manuel Komroff, the novelist, and Lola Kinel, a Polish lady now in America. The wartime control was in the British military mission.

In February, 1918, the newspaper was confiscated as an enemy property by the Bolsheviks and we were all sent out of the country. In due course, it reappeared as the Moscow Daily News, edited by Anna Louise Strong, an American with exceedingly strong pro-Soviet leanings. Its ownership, as that of all Soviet newspapers, is lodged in either the Soviet government or the Russian communist party. No private newspapers may be published in that country.

Anna Louise Strong must have been satisfactory to both the Communist Party and the government of Soviet Russia to have been given that job. Its most recent editor is Michael Borodin, who, from 1925-7, was in China as representative of the Third International in an attempt to conquer that country by Soviet Russia.

For years, the record shows that in this country and in many parts of the world Ann Louise Strong was one of the leading apologists for Soviet Russia, always finding everything excellent in that country and generally not so good anywhere else, particularly in the United States. There never has been any question as to her strong feeling for Soviet Russia and her devotion to everything Russian. And for more than two decades the Russians have accepted her as such.

Suddenly, she is denounced for espionage and is ordered deported from Russia to America. What has she done?

Her most recent work, "Dawn In China," is a panegyric of the Chinese communists and particularly their leader, Mao Tze-Tung. This book was issued by the Soviet Information Bureau and was published serially in every communist newspaper in every country. It was published in this manner in the Daily Worker in New York up to the moment that she was declared a spy, when it was suddenly cut off.

There is evidence that the Soviet Information Bureau edited her copy, for "Borba," the official newspaper of the Yugoslav Communist Party, published a letter from Anna Louise Strong in which she said:

"In case 'Dawn In China' is being prepared for publication as a book but still has not been printed I want to point out certain publishing changes that were made in Moscow by the editor of the Soviet Information Bureau. I do not have time to send you personally those changes, but the Soviet Information Bureau will send you a copy of their edition, if you want it, through their representative in Belgrade."

It is possible that Anna Louise Strong got into trouble in Soviet Russia by deviation from the Communist Party line. One must be a mental gymnast, capable of jumping from one position to another as fast as the policy of the politburo changes. Or it is possible that Mao Tze-Tung in China is unorthodox, which Americans must not confuse with being anti-communist. One can be schismatic without being a heretic.

But Americans must beware of former friends of communism and of converts to anti-communism. They may be smeared and attacked by their own partisans with the object of giving them a good name that they may continue to do bad things. The Communist Party is quite capable of that.

Perhaps Anna Louise Strong, in her old age, has seen the error of her ways and suffers from nostalgic patriotism. That is hard to believe. The only sure test would be if she did some overt act that would bring great harm to her former associates. Less than that is not worthy of notice.

The word, spy, is being used freely and correctly: There are a lot of people engaged in espionage these days. Sometimes the charge cannot be made to stick because, while everyone who should knows the truth, the evidence will not stand up. It is better to be suspicious. Americans who have had close relations with the communist party and Soviet Russia need prolonged testing.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE M. ADAMS

One Step at a Time

In the days of my youth I recall that a boy was glad to get any kind of useful job that would give him a start. And the starting salary was usually satisfactory, for the opportunity was what he had his eye upon.

Today almost the first question asked by the applicant for a position is: "What salary do you pay?" He wants to take six steps before he has taken one. A step at a time takes one far. The home that is built substantially and well, upon a quickly built foundation, at an early date begins to crack and settle in the wrong places. It's that way in the building of one's success in life. If the foundation is faulty the entire structure of character is injured.

One step at a time is better than trying to take two or three steps at a time, and slipping down the ladder! The plodder isn't spectacular but he takes his time and does his work well—one step at a time—and more often than not outdistances the one who is in a hurry.

Many who have only a scant knowledge of American history, often have asked why such a comparatively unknown man as Rutherford Hayes could have been elected to the Presidency of the United States, much less even nominated. I used to think this way until I made a study of the early life of this man, who kept steadily climbing, gaining both experience and prestige with every step forward. Though he was not popular, he had an honesty and a directness of purpose that many more brilliant men never had. And he had courage.

The child learns to walk—one step at a time. It's nature's way. Too rapid a pace often results in a setback. The famed tortoise only took a step at a time—but he beat the hare! Or so it is said.

Every day we read in our newspaper of some man suddenly selected for an important place, and we wonder why we haven't heard of him before. The reason is that he was undoubtedly devoting his time to one step at a time until people began to note that he had climbed high! People are always looking for a man high up on a ladder.

Missouri River Flood Threatens

[By The Associated Press]

Fast-melting snow sent the Missouri River over its banks near its headwaters in Western Montana yesterday, stirring fears that major floods may be in the making.

A Weather Bureau forecast of warmer weather spreading into the snowladen Dakotas together with ice jams in the mighty Missouri posed the possibility of floods. Growing backwaters might spread over thousands of acres of lowlands along the big river's course.

Cold weather held firm last night in Eastern Montana and the Dakotas, but drainage engineers agreed a fast thaw could produce widespread inundations, particularly with the ice-bound stretches serving as strong temporary natural dams.

Water was high in the Missouri River northwest of Atchinson, Kans., and stream spread over its banks in parts of Montana, near its headwaters. R. A. Dightman, of the Weather Bureau's Helena station, said flooding might become critical in the Montana reaches by Saturday if mild weather persists.

Meanwhile, at Kansas City, Mo., Red Cross, Army and federal agencies' representatives met to plan for a possible flood emergency if the Missouri rampages.

Yugos Call For Slovene Province In Austria

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Yugoslavia asked the Big Four today to set up a self-governing Slovene Province in Southern Austria as a compromise move to break the Austrian treaty deadlock.

A Yugoslav spokesman hinted that Premier Marshal Tito's government would cut its territorial and reparations demands on Austria if some 80,000 Austrian Slovenes are granted autonomy.

City and 10 counties in the same position as those in the 13 counties with Sunday-closing laws.

The much debated measure adding a sixth grounds for divorce cleared its last legislative hurdle when the House, after a series of roll calls, concurred in a Senate amendment and sent it along to the Governor.

The delegates voted down a bill originally designed to limit advertising by chiropodists, after Delegate Luber (D-Balto 5th) contended it would give practitioners the right to perform "major surgical operations" on the feet.

The vote was 39-39, and the measure failed for lack of a constitutional majority.

If the divorce bill is signed by the Governor, it will allow a plaintiff to sue for absolute divorce if the defendant has been convicted of a felony, sentenced to prison for three years or more, and has served 18 months.

It touched off the hottest House debates of the session before it was passed originally and sent to the Senate a few weeks ago.

When it came back on the House floor today for concurrence in a technical amendment tacked to it by the senators, the delegates got into a battle of roll calls.

When the last was completed, Sybert announced the result was 63-48 for final passage.

A bill to require some 50 Maryland industries to pay their workers every week, instead of twice monthly, met temporary defeat today.

After hearing predictions that railroads might have to cut wages to pay for costs of more frequent payrolls, the House Ways and Means Committee decided to blackball the bill.

Members voted 10-8 to submit an unfavorable report to the House floor, where the possibility of a reversal still exists.

ERP Is Termed Vital To Britain

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 24 (AP)—The No. 3 man in Britain's Foreign Office, Christopher P. Mayhew, said today every scrap of Marshall Plan aid continues to be vital to Britain.

The Undersecretary for Parliamentary Affairs commented after finding himself in the middle of a growing tempest started by his own speech to the United Nations yesterday giving an optimistic picture of Britain's economic recovery.

Mayhew's associates said he had been irked by reports in America that Britain is down and out. They said his speech was meant to counter such rumors.

He said in a statement today that Britain could not have recovered as she has without aid and that the Marshall Plan helps Britain play a better role in European recovery.

Mayhew spoke after President Truman, in response to a question, told his White House news conference Marshall Plan aid would go on until Europe's recovery is assured.

Senatorial criticism flared in Washington about the speech by Mayhew yesterday on the world economic situation in the United Nation Economic and Social Council.

Worried Mother Asks Her Son To Surrender

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—A worried mother used a loudspeaker today to plead with her 13-year-old son to give himself up to police.

Mrs. Edda Berg, mother of Bobby Berg, accompanied deputy sheriffs on a tour of the area where Bobby and Earl Potter, 16, are believed hiding after threatening to "shoot it out" with officers. Both were reported armed.

Police Chief Roland Kelley said the two youths are wanted for questioning in connection with half a dozen burglaries and the theft of two boats. A third youth, Edward Sewell, 17, was arrested Tuesday and gave police the location of loot caches.

Youth's Amputated Right Leg May Help Girl To Walk Again

Joe's crippled leg, unusable from birth, was amputated at the New Jersey Orthopedic Hospital to enable doctors to fit an artificial limb.

And from the amputated leg of the 11-year-old boy, doctors grafted three five-inch strips of bone which they think will let little Carole Ann walk normally for the first time in five years.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wenzel, West New York, was crippled first by infantile paralysis. Later, she developed a spinal tumor which destroyed one of her vertebrae.

What was needed, doctors said, was a bone graft to repair the breach caused by the tumor. By coincidence, they said, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lipani, Passaic, brought little Joe into the hospital just then.

Md. Doctors Asked To Take Initiative

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor (D-Md.) called upon the medical profession in Maryland today to take the initiative in working out a positive medical care program "to halt the progress of movements looking to socialized medicine."

In a letter to the governing board of the Maryland Medical and Chirurgical Faculty, he said:

"From present indications some program providing medical care is due for adoption by the Congress soon x x x.

"I have previously stated my attitude as being opposed to federal control of the practice of medicine or federal control of medical education. But if we are to halt the progress of movements looking to socialized medicine, such as has been adopted in England and New Zealand, then we must have a positive program which will afford protection to the health of the American people at all levels.

"Such leadership should come from the medical profession."

Taft Is Worried Over Arms Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said tonight there are "grave doubts" in his mind that Congress ought to authorize the sending of American arms to European nations.

Taft, who favors a North Atlantic security agreement along the lines of the Rio defense pact, told a reporter he doesn't think any such treaty "necessarily" should be accompanied with rearmament aid.

"The general policy of providing arms for European nations or other nations raises grave doubts in my mind," said the Ohio Senator, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

"Such a policy is in no sense a necessity in connection with the proposed North Atlantic pact," he continued. "In the case of some European countries, we can hardly tell now whether such arms eventually would be used for or against us.

"A year or so ago, the Army wanted to give arms to Latin-American countries. The recent history of revolutions there apparently has changed some official minds."

Couple And Neighbor Found Shot To Death

NEEDLES, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP) — A young city employe, his wife and their elderly ranch neighbor were found shot to death today.

Victims of the triple slaying were Ernest Winstead, 24, who lived on a ranch north of town; his wife, Frances Winstead, 22, and their neighbor, Willis Pugh, 70.

Negroes Report Wanton Beating By White Men

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 24 (AP)—Three 'teen-aged negro boys told police today they had been wantonly beaten by five armed white men, all curiously interested in Brotherhood Week.

Police in both Columbus, Ga., and Phenix City, Ala., said tonight they still were unable to establish a motive for the beatings.

The boys, Robert Ford, 16, Matthew Brown and Ernest Chester, both 17, turned up a few minutes after midnight at the home of a white furniture salesman in nearby Phenix City.

All told police later that the unmasked white men picked them up at gun point as they left a basketball game at the Spencer High School in Columbus and drove them across the river into Alabama.

There, the three reported, the men questioned them about speeches made at school concerning Brotherhood Week and the activities in Columbus of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Yugos Call For Slovene Province In Austria

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Yugoslavia asked the Big Four today to set up a self-governing Slovene Province in Southern Austria as a compromise move to break the Austrian treaty deadlock.

A Yugoslav spokesman hinted that Premier Marshal Tito's government would cut its territorial and reparations demands on Austria if some 80,000 Austrian Slovenes are granted autonomy.

Maryland Senate

City and 10 counties in the same position as those in the 13 counties with Sunday-closing laws.

The much debated measure adding a sixth grounds for divorce cleared its last legislative hurdle when the House, after a series of roll calls, concurred in a Senate amendment and sent it along to the Governor.

The delegates voted down a bill originally designed to limit advertising by chiropodists, after Delegate Luber (D-Balto 5th) contended it would give practitioners the right to perform "major surgical operations" on the feet.

The vote was 39-39, and the measure failed for lack of a constitutional majority.

If the divorce bill is signed by the Governor, it will allow a plaintiff to sue for absolute divorce if the defendant has been convicted of a felony, sentenced to prison for three years or more, and has served 18 months.

It touched off the hottest House debates of the session before it was passed originally and sent to the Senate a few weeks ago.

When it came back on the House floor today for concurrence in a technical amendment tacked to it by the senators, the delegates got into a battle of roll calls.

When the last was completed, Sybert announced the result was 63-48 for final passage.

A bill to require some 50 Maryland industries to pay their workers every week, instead of twice monthly, met temporary defeat today.

After hearing predictions that railroads might have to cut wages to pay for costs of more frequent payrolls, the House Ways and Means Committee decided to blackball the bill.

Members voted 10-8 to submit an unfavorable report to the House floor, where the possibility of a reversal still exists.

ERP Is Termed Vital To Britain

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 24 (AP)—The No. 3 man in Britain's Foreign Office, Christopher P. Mayhew, said today every scrap of Marshall Plan aid continues to be vital to Britain.

The Undersecretary for Parliamentary Affairs commented after finding himself in the middle of a growing tempest started by his own speech to the United Nations yesterday giving an optimistic picture of Britain's economic recovery.

Mayhew's associates said he had been irked by reports in America that Britain is down and out. They said his speech was meant to counter such rumors.

He said in a statement today that Britain could not have recovered as she has without aid and that the Marshall Plan helps Britain play a better role in European recovery.

Mayhew spoke after President Truman, in response to a question, told his White House news conference Marshall Plan aid would go on until Europe's recovery is assured.

Senatorial criticism flared in Washington about the speech by Mayhew yesterday on the world economic situation in the United Nation Economic and Social Council.

Worried Mother Asks Her Son To Surrender

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—A worried mother used a loudspeaker today to plead with her 13-year-old son to give himself up to police.

Mrs. Edda Berg, mother of Bobby Berg, accompanied deputy sheriffs on a tour of the area where Bobby and Earl Potter, 16, are believed hiding after threatening to "shoot it out" with officers. Both were reported armed.

Police Chief Roland Kelley said the two youths are wanted for questioning in connection with half a dozen burglaries and the theft of two boats. A third youth, Edward Sewell, 17, was arrested Tuesday and gave police the location of loot caches.

CWA To Seek Hike

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Communication Workers of America, representing 200,000 telephone workers, will set a fourth round wage boost, President Joseph A. Beirne announced tonight.

Youth's Amputated Right Leg May Help Girl To Walk Again

Joe's crippled leg, unusable from birth, was amputated at the New Jersey Orthopedic Hospital to enable doctors to fit an artificial limb.

And from the amputated leg of the 11-year-old boy, doctors grafted three five-inch strips of bone which they think will let little Carole Ann walk normally for the first time in five years.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wenzel, West New York, was crippled first by infantile paralysis. Later, she developed a spinal tumor which destroyed one of her vertebrae.

What was needed, doctors said, was a bone graft to repair the breach caused by the tumor. By coincidence, they said, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lipani, Passaic, brought little Joe into the hospital just then.

Md. Doctors Asked To Take Initiative

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP) — Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor (D-Md.) called upon the medical profession in Maryland today to take the initiative in working out a positive medical care program "to halt the progress of movements looking to socialized medicine."

In a letter to the governing board of the Maryland Medical and Chirurgical Faculty, he said:

"From present indications some program providing medical care is due for adoption by the Congress soon x x x.

"I have previously stated my attitude as being opposed to federal control of the practice of medicine or federal control of medical education. But if we are to halt the progress of movements looking to socialized medicine, such as has been adopted in England and New Zealand, then we must have a positive program which will afford protection to the health of the American people at all levels.

"Such leadership should come from the medical profession."

Taft Is Worried Over Arms Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said tonight there are "grave doubts" in his mind that Congress ought to authorize the sending of American arms to European nations.

Taft, who favors a North Atlantic security agreement along the lines of the Rio defense pact, told a reporter he doesn't think any such treaty "necessarily" should be accompanied with rearmament aid.

"The general policy of providing arms for European nations or other nations raises grave doubts in my mind," said the Ohio Senator, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

"Such a policy is in no sense a necessity in connection with the proposed North Atlantic pact," he continued. "In the case of some European countries, we can hardly tell now whether such arms eventually would be used for or against us.

"A year or so ago, the Army wanted to give arms to Latin-American countries. The recent history of revolutions there apparently has changed some official minds."

Couple And Neighbor Found Shot To Death

NEEDLES, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP) — A young city employe, his wife and their elderly ranch neighbor were found shot to death today.

Investigators said they believed the killing stemmed from robbery.

Negroes Report Wanton Beating By White Men

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 24 (AP)—Three 'teen-aged negro boys told police today they had been wantonly beaten by five armed white men, all curiously interested in Brotherhood Week.

Police in both Columbus, Ga., and Phenix City, Ala., said tonight they still were unable to establish a motive for the beatings.

The boys, Robert Ford, 16, Matthew Brown and Ernest Chester, both 17, turned up a few minutes after midnight at the home of a white furniture salesman in nearby Phenix City.

All told police later that the unmasked white men picked them up at gun point as they left a basketball game at the Spencer High School in Columbus and drove them across the river into Alabama.

There, the three reported, the men questioned them about speeches made at school concerning Brotherhood Week and the activities in Columbus of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Teamsters To Seek Wage Boost Today

Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, and the Tri-State Coat and Towel Service will begin contract negotiations at 2 p. m. today, C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, said yesterday.

The union is seeking a $7.50 weekly pay increase for the six drivers involved and will ask for a change in the vacation clause.

Truckers Fined For Overloading

Three persons appeared in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday as the beginning of a drive to curb overloading of trucks to keep highway damage to a minimum.

Two defendants, Belmont Athey, Route 4, and Harold B. Miller, 325 Davidson Street, were fined $50.75 each after they pleaded guilty to operating trucks with loads in excess of weight listed on registration cards. Both were arrested Wednesday on Route 40 at Clarysville.

A. William Meyers, Route 2, won an acquittal verdict on charge of having an axle load of 22,400 pounds, the amount set down by the State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

Meyers claimed he paid a license fee of $200 for a registration card which specified he could carry a load of 55,000 pounds. The State Motor department granted the license, he said, but failed to notify him about axle weights.

Policymakers Weigh Question Of Aid To Tito

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE, Feb. 24 (AP)—Should the United States strengthen Marshal Tito with direct economic aid? Or allow Yugoslavia to go its way alone — more or less isolated between the quarreling East and West?

These questions trouble American policymakers as they study this Balkan country's stubborn fight to safeguard its independence from Russian domination. A decision can be expected soon.

Responsible diplomats here say it will favor aid to Tito, in the terms of much-needed machinery and credits — with no political conditions attached.

Why?

It has been more than seven months since the cominform cast off Tito and his lieutenants with accusations they were pursuing an independent policy of nationalism. Since then Yugoslavia has been under the diplomatic microscope as the western world wondered whether:

1. The action is a new and strange piece of Soviet strategy or the first genuine break in the unity of Eastern Europe.

2. Tito and his aides could resist political and economic pressure from Russia and retain his hold over Yugoslav's mixed peoples.

The answers have become increasingly apparent. The war of words between Tito and the Cominform has sharpened. Yugoslavia has had some of its trade ties and nearly all of its cultural relations pacts with the eastern countries severed. Tito has looked with increasing interest toward conclusion of trade pacts with the west.

Meanwhile, he has shown no sign of stepping down. He has won from the Yugoslav Communist Party direct endorsement of his policies. He remains in full control of the army and the secret police. What opposition there is to his policies remains disorganized, virtually voiceless.

Upon that foundation has been raised the argument, in some influential American quarters, that the time has come for immediate United States aid with dollars as the chips.

Proponents' Arguments

Proponents of this policy argue that it would:

1. Set up an example for other countries under Russian domination with encouragement for them to regain their independence.

2. Demonstrate United States willingness to do business with a Communist government provided it is peace-minded and non-expansionist in its foreign policies.

3. Simultaneously strengthen Yugoslavia as an independent state while wooing Tito at least to the point where he would remain neutral in the event of a conflict between the East and West.

4. Put the aid on a straight trade basis with Yugoslavia guaranteeing payment — in terms of raw material within a specified period — for machinery received now. For example, Yugoslavia has a crying need for mining machinery. With this machinery, it could jack up output beyond its own immediate needs and furnish a supply source of strategic minerals for the United States.

Obviously, there are arguments against the help-Tito program — but its proponents contend the Western Powers stand to gain more than they might loose.

Why?

It has been more than seven months since the cominform cast off Tito and his lieutenants with accusations they were pursuing an independent policy of nationalism. Since then Yugoslavia has been under the diplomatic microscope as the western world wondered whether:

1. The action is a new and strange piece of Soviet strategy or the first genuine break in the unity of Eastern Europe.

2. Tito and his aides could resist political and economic pressure from Russia and retain his hold over Yugoslav's mixed peoples.

The answers have become increasingly apparent. The war of words between Tito and the Cominform has sharpened. Yugoslavia has had some of its trade ties and nearly all of its cultural relations pacts with the eastern countries severed. Tito has looked with increasing interest toward conclusion of trade pacts with the west.

Meanwhile, he has shown no sign of stepping down. He has won from the Yugoslav Communist Party direct endorsement of his policies. He remains in full control of the army and the secret police. What opposition there is to his policies remains disorganized, virtually voiceless.

Upon that foundation has been raised the argument, in some influential American quarters, that the time has come for immediate United States aid with dollars as the chips.

Proponents' Arguments

Proponents of this policy argue that it would:

1. Set up an example for other countries under Russian domination with encouragement for them to regain their independence.

2. Demonstrate United States willingness to do business with a Communist government provided it is peace-minded and non-expansionist in its foreign policies.

3. Simultaneously strengthen Yugoslavia as an independent state while wooing Tito at least to the point where he would remain neutral in the event of a conflict between the East and West.

4. Put the aid on a straight trade basis with Yugoslavia guaranteeing payment — in terms of raw material within a specified period — for machinery received now. For example, Yugoslavia has a crying need for mining machinery. With this machinery, it could jack up output beyond its own immediate needs and furnish a supply source of strategic minerals for the United States.

Obviously, there are arguments against the help-Tito program — but its proponents contend the Western Powers stand to gain more than they might loose.

Assignments Raise Air Lift Morale

WIESBADEN, Germany. (AP) — Morale is on the upsurge among Vittles airmen. Tempers of the men who fly food and fuel to blockaded Berlin wore thin as the summer dragged on into fall without a sign of the break in the crisis.

Aside from indulging in the traditional American soldier's love of "griping," the men of the lift figured they had a real complaint. They didn't know how long their assignments would last or when, if ever, they could have their families join them. Some had come from as far away as Japan on a few days' notice, leaving their families behind.

Discontent became so widespread that the Air Force Times, the airmen's newspaper, said there were good grounds for the "gripes" and something should be done about the situation. It advocated a rotation system. This was done and morale rose at once. Lift crews received assurances that they were on a six months tour of duty. At the end of that time, they would either be placed on permanent station, and thus be allowed to have their families join them, or would be sent back home.

Lift duty thus has become a definite assignment instead of a life with no end in sight.

County Farmers Study PMA Plan For Coming Year

Price Support And Loans Outlined

County committeemen of the agricultural program under the Production and Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture met here yesterday and discussed accomplishments of 1948 and plans for 1949.

Miss Elizabeth Hoover, chief clerk, opened the discussion with a report on the 1948 soil building program in Allegany County. Her records show that 231 farmers in Allegany County participated in one or more recommended practices. During the year a total of 2,736 tons of lime were used, 208 tons of fertilizer added to the soil, 93 acres of new permanent pasture were established, 4,700 cubic yards of earth was moved to create drainage ditches; and 334 acres of land were completed into contour strips for strip cropping. The total cost for the year was $10,000, Miss Hoover said.

Leonard Burns, vice chairman, of the state committee, and John Lee Abell, field representative, both of College Park, were among the guest speakers. Burns outlined the 1949 program, and Abell spoke of "Price Support" and "Corn Loans."

Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, discussed co-operation with the extension service, and Burns spoke again on "Green Pastures."

Albert O'Neal, county chairman, presided and explained that the meeting was called as a training session for community committeemen.. There are nine communities comprising the county-wide program and each was represented yesterday by one or more members. A total of 13 committeemen attended.

She also took part in the county "I Speak for Democracy" contest held last fall.

Active in high school affairs, she is a member of the Fort Hill Auxiliary and Players, the a cappella choir, glee club, Thespians and choral speaking choir. She has been a cheerleader for two years.

Miss Nellie Willison, English instructor at Fort Hill, assisted Miss Greene and Mrs. Miller in arrangements.

Warm Weather Causes Orchardists Alarm

Area orchardists expressed alarm yesterday for fear a sudden cold snap will wipe out the crop, since the unseasonably warm winter caused the trees to be advanced at least a month ahead of normal.

The danger to the peach crop is reported especially acute.

Flourine Project Checked Here

Dr. Richard C. Leonard, chief of the division of oral hygiene of the State Department of Health, and Dr. George Nevitt, dental consultant of the U. S. Public Health Service, checked the results of the dental treatment in several Cumberland schools by the use of flourine applications to the teeth of pupils yesterday and Wednesday.

Dr. Leonard said the demonstration here is being compared with work being done in other sections of the state to determine the efficiency of the project.

During the year a total of 2,736 tons of lime were used, 208 tons of fertilizer added to the soil, 93 acres of new permanent pasture were established, 4,700 cubic yards of earth was moved to create drainage ditches; and 334 acres of land were completed into contour strips for strip cropping. The total cost for the year was $10,000, Miss Hoover said.

Leonard Burns, vice chairman, of the state committee, and John Lee Abell, field representative, both of College Park, were among the guest speakers. Burns outlined the 1949 program, and Abell spoke of "Price Support" and "Corn Loans."

Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, discussed co-operation with the extension service, and Burns spoke again on "Green Pastures."

Albert O'Neal, county chairman, presided and explained that the meeting was called as a training session for community committeemen. There are nine communities comprising the county-wide program and each was represented yesterday by one or more members. A total of 13 committeemen attended.

March 9, at 9 a. m. with the group to discuss experiences at Lake Success and the forum.

Mrs. Miller said the local AAUW group hopes to sponsor one or more high school students each year to attend the Herald Tribune forum.

Arrangements for Miss Linn's trip were made through Mrs. William H. Maltbie, Baltimore, director of the United Nations Association of Maryland.

The daughter of Mrs. H. H. Linn, 477 Goethe Street, Miss Linn served as moderator of a high school forum on recreation in Cumberland held recently by the AAUW.

She also took part in the county "I Speak for Democracy" contest held last fall.

Active in high school affairs, she is a member of the Fort Hill Auxiliary and Players, the a cappella choir, glee club, Thespians and choral speaking choir. She has been a cheerleader for two years.

Miss Nellie Willison, English instructor at Fort Hill, assisted Miss Greene and Mrs. Miller in arrangements.

The visit to New York will be Miss Linn's first trip there.

The delegation chairman added that so far as he knew the Governor's supplemental budget does not provide funds for the Frostburg institution.

Warm Weather Causes Orchardists Alarm

Area orchardists expressed alarm yesterday for fear a sudden cold snap will wipe out the crop, since the unseasonably warm winter caused the trees to be advanced at least a month ahead of normal.

The danger to the peach crop is reported especially acute.

Flourine Project Checked Here

Dr. Richard C. Leonard, chief of the division of oral hygiene of the State Department of Health, and Dr. George Nevitt, dental consultant of the U. S. Public Health Service, checked the results of the dental treatment in several Cumberland schools by the use of flourine applications to the teeth of pupils yesterday and Wednesday.

Dr. Leonard said the demonstration here is being compared with work being done in other sections of the state to determine the efficiency of the project.

Income Tax Refunds Received In State

Federal refunds or credits of $500 or more in the year ended last June 30 were received by approximately 3,000 Maryland taxpayers, according to a U. S. Treasury Department report.

The treasury is required by law to make public all refunds of $500 or more. The refunds do not necessarily reflect overpayments for any one year.

Among Maryland firms receiving refunds are R. Greene Annan, Cumberland and Pittsburg, $14,521; Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Baltimore, $49,440 (excess profits); and Morton W. Peskin, Cumberland, $7,370.

$139.35 Forfeited On Driving Charge

Allen Earl Kelley, 407 Bedford Street, forfeited bonds totaling $139.35 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court when he failed to appear for a hearing on three state motor law charges.

He forfeited $101.45 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, $26.45 on a charge of failing to stop after an accident and $11.45 on a charge of reckless driving. He was arrested Tuesday on Greene Street by Officer J. W. Brown who said his car struck a vehicle belonging to Sol Clickman, Bowling Green, which had been parked along Route 220 at Bowling Green.

MIRROR of your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Will a girl who really loves one man kiss others?

Answer: That may depend, not on how "really" she loves him, but on what a kiss means to her. And remember, kisses mean quite different things to different people. In pre-war Japan, for instance, a kiss was considered so extreme an intimacy that the censors cut all kissing scenes out of the movies. At the other extreme, I know social groups in which a kiss is regarded as merely a bit more cordial than a handshake. But courtship is difficult when certain actions appear terribly important to one partner and trivial to the other.

Do "wisecrackers" have a sense of humor?

Answer: Not always, at any rate. The typical wisecrack is a form of wit, the essence of which is to deflate someone by making him look ridiculous, and particularly, doing this under conditions in which he can't show resentment because it is "only a gag." It is closer to the practical joke—which is almost pure sadism—than to humor, which prompts us to laugh at ourselves as well as others. The wisecracker who is short on humor will betray the fact by getting angry if you suggest he is ever "unintentionally funny."

Can words help drive people to drink?

Answer: Yes, and I do mean only "harsh words." For the feelings with which words become associated may affect our attitude toward the things they describe. A Swedish psychologist, Dr. O. Sundet, calls attention to the fact that in the Scandinavian languages the words which describe a person who does not drink have a disagreeable implication, while those for intoxication suggest sympathetic feelings. To make abstinence from liquor popular would take a new national vocabulary, which would be a long, hard job.

"Democicratic War" Against Reds Is Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24 (INS)—Dr. Homer P. Rainey, preseident of Stephen College, at Columbia, Mo., urged the United States today not to imitate Soviet "methods of repression" in fighting Communist progapanda attacks.

The educator asserted some people insist America cannot save democratic ideals except by the use of undemocratic methods.

This idea, Dr. Rainey said, is "equivalent to telling us that democracy can save itself from being murdered only by committing suicide."

Dr. Rainey added:

"Fortunately, most Americans don't believe that democracy is in quite so desperate a state as that. They feel that democracy is immensely more robust than its timid friends and its optimitsic enemies are capable of realizing."

The college president, in his keynote address to the National Association of Junior Colleges, which opened its convention today, said he consideded Russian propaganda a "major challenge" to American education. Dr. Rainey declared that Communism which seeks to tear down the old society and build a new one, knows only how to destroy.

He said:

"In the 30 years since they came into power in Russia, the Communists have done amazingly little to fulfill their promises.

"In those 30 years social improvement . . . has made great strides for labor in America. For the workers of Soviet Russia, the blessings of revolution are seen in new names for old evils."

In Christian times the beauty of the amethyst endeared it to the church fathers, and it became the apostolic stone of bishops. In ancient times it had been the creature of the pagan god Bacchus.

Lamb Kabobs For Outdoor, Indoor Eating

MENU

Lamb en Brochette
Parsleyed Potatoes
Buttered Green Peas
Cabbage Salad
Cherry Cobbler
Milk Coffee

All foods are good, of course, but some are just plain fun besides. Meats en brochettes, kabobs or kebabs—whichever you prefer to call them—are a very good example. Adapted from Armenian cooking, these kabobs are also an example of the good food we can borrow from some of our neighbors abroad.

The principle of the kabob is that bite-sized cubes of tender meats are strung on skewers with harmonizing foods, then broiled indoors or over an outdoor fireplace, or strung on picnic forks or sticks and cooked over an open fire. They are as informal as the day is long, and as much fun to eat as they are to cook.

The possibilities for foods that can go en brochette is endless. In fact each time you make the kabobs they may have a new character. For meats, there are lamb, beef, all the ready-to-serve meats, ham, Canadian-style bacon, and the canned luncheon loaves that can be cut into cubes. Some veteran kabob makers like to soak the cubed meat in French dressing for an hour or two before stringing it on the skewers with the other foods. Good foods to accompany the meats might include cubes of pineapple, small whole onions, bacon (twined on the stick particularly with lamb) small cooked potatoes, tomato quarters, cubes of egg plant, and any other foods that seem to combine well with the meats.

Cook Kabobs Slowly

The secret of perfection in cooking the kabobs as well as any other meat is to cook them slowly. In your broiler, this means that they must be 2 to 3 inches from the heat. The grate on your outdoor fireplace undoubtedly holds the meat away from the fire, but in cooking the kabobs over an open campfire it's up to you to keep them tender by cooking them over the coals, rather than over the direct flame.

Cook until the meat seems cooked through, probably about 6 to 8 minutes on each side. The kabob may then be eaten directly from the skewer, or if you are dining outdoors you may prefer to slide it into a bun.

Lamb en Brochette

1½ pounds boneless lamb, cut in 1½-inch cubes
8 slices bacon
2 medium tomatoes, cut in quarters
24 button mushrooms
Salt and pepper

Thread one end of a bacon slice on a skewer; alternate with a cube of lamb, a mushroom, a quarter of tomatoe, another mushroom, and a second cube of lamb. Repeat for remaining skewers. Place on broiler rack in broiler, about 2 inches from heat. Broil slowly, turning occasionally, until all sides are browned. Allow about 15 minutes for broiling. Season with salt and pepper and serve very hot. 8 servings.

In making a Spanish Sauce for omelet add a pinch or two of sugar to the onions, green pepper and tomatoes to point up the flavor.

SAVES LEG WORK

To eliminate daily trips to the large refuse can at the rear of the back yard, a small galvanized steel garbage pail can be set just outside the kitchen door. It may be used for daily disposal and then be emptied into the larger can as often as necessary by the man of the house. These rust-resistant pails are made in a variety of sizes and have sturdy bail handles for easy carrying.

Top The Meal With Orange Rice Dessert

That top-top of the meal, called the dessert, is an important part of the pleasure of eating. Sometimes it involves making a cake or a pie which leaves a lot of dishes to wash up. But it can come easily as this Orange Rice. It can be served hot or cold at the option of the cook and those who sit and eat. We know better than to say "it's good for everyone" but without a murmur it's easy to see that rice plus a fresh fruit, such as oranges, combines delight in taste plus that untalked of but nice-to-know-about addition of treating those important bodies of ours....well. Besides that, this is the grand ending for a meal that's not too rich for the young or the adults of the family...perfectly satisfying for all.

ORANGE RICE

Two cups fluffy cooked white rice; three oranges, peeled and divided into segments. Place the cooked rice in a serving bowl and cover the top with orange segments and then with lemon sauce.

FLUFFY WHITE RICE

Put 1 cup of white rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups cold water in a 2-quart sauce-pan. Cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more, during which time the water will be absorbed, making the rice deliciously tender. Remove the lid and permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Never stir rice. But do lift rice gently with a fork when testing for consistency.

LEMON SAUCE

One level tablespoon cornstarch; 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind; one-half cup sugar; one cup water.

Cook the above ingredients together until clear...it takes about five minutes. Take from the fire and add the juice of one lemon (about two tablespoons) and two tablespoons butter or margarine. Mix well and pour over the rice and oranges.

We like it warm, but it's good cold too...a matter of taste we would say.

Penquins differ from other birds in not having any specially developed quill feathers on their wings. The flippers or wings are covered with small, scale-like feathers.

Corn Bread Pie Stars On Cincinnatian

"Corn Bread Pie," a rare old Southern dish, occupies the feature spot on the dining car menu of the B and O's famous "Cincinnatian" this month.

It is one of a series of old favorites that the chefs on the Cincinnati-Washington-Baltimore streamliner are bringing back to popular attention. The recipe follows:

CORN BREAD PIE

1 pound ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1 can tomato soup
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 cup canned whole kernel corn (drained)
½ cup green pepper

Brown the beef and onion in a skillet; add soup, water, seasoning, corn and green pepper. Simmer for 15 minutes. Fill pie dish ¾ full to allow for corn bread top.

For topping, sift together ¾ cup corn meal; 1 tablespoon flour; 1 tablespoon sugar; ½ teaspoon salt; 1½ teaspoons baking powder. Add 1 beaten egg and ⅓ cup milk. Stir lightly and fold in 1 tablespoon melted fat.

Place meat mixture in greased chicken pie dish and cover with corn topping. Do not be surprised when the topping disappears into the meat mixture. It will rise during baking and form a good layer of corn bread. Bake in a hot oven 20 to 25 minutes.

William Clark was an American soldier and explorer, and brother of George William Clark. He was also an associate of Meriwether Lewis on the famous Lewis and Clark expedition which left St. Louis in May, 1804, crossed the continent, reaching the mouth of the Columbia river in November, 1805, and arriving at St. Louis on its return in September, 1807.

Baked Goods Are Best Buy

Bakery products are the best buy in today's market basket, the American Bakers Association declared today, pointing out that they have increased less in price since 1940 than any other major category of food.

The association cited a recent report of the National Industrial Conference Board which revealed that bakery products had risen only 68.8 per cent, compared with the average for all foods of 113.5 per cent.

Best buy, next to baked goods, was canned and dried foods which have risen 92.4 per cent. In third place were fresh fruits which have risen 98.4 per cent.

The board's report, based on information from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, compared the period Septmeber 1947-August 1948 with September 1939-August 1940.

The bakers also stated that, "penny for penny, enriched bread gives you more of the things body needs, more generously, than any other food you eat at every meal."

Pointing, as an exemple, to the dietary allowance recommended by the National Research Council for a growing girl 13 to 15 years of age, the bakers explained that six slices of enriched bread per day provide 19 per cent of her required proteins, nine per cent of her calcium, 20 per cent of her iron, 32 per cent of her thiamine, 13 per cent of her riboflavin, 29 per cent of her niacin, and 17 per cent of her calories.

St. Valentine, whose festival is a highlight of the month of February, vouchsafed for the tradition that the marriage of Mary and Joseph was solemnized with an amethyst ring.

B. And O. Dish

Corn Bread Pie Stars On Cincinnatian

"Corn Bread Pie," a rare old Southern dish, occupies the feature spot on the dining car menu of the B and O's famous "Cincinnatian" this month.

It is one of a series of old favorites that the chefs on the Cincinnati-Washington-Baltimore streamliner are bringing back to popular attention. The recipe follows:

CORN BREAD PIE

1 pound ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1 can tomato soup
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 cup canned whole kernel corn (drained)
½ cup green pepper

Brown the beef and onion in a skillet; add soup, water, seasoning, corn and green pepper. Simmer for 15 minutes. Fill pie dish ¾ full to allow for corn bread top.

For topping, sift together ¾ cup corn meal; 1 tablespoon flour; 1 tablespoon sugar; ½ teaspoon salt; 1½ teaspoons baking powder. Add 1 beaten egg and ½ cup milk. Stir lightly and fold in 1 tablespoon melted fat.

Place meat mixture in greased chicken pie dish and cover with corn topping. Do not be surprised when the topping disappears into the meat mixture. It will rise during baking and form a good layer of corn bread. Bake in a hot oven 20 to 25 minutes.

Cook It With Pineapple

SAUSAGE-PINEAPPLE PLATTER . . . Good at any meal . . .

By CECIL BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If your family really appreciate the good flavor of pineapple, there are lots of ways you can use it to advantage—in main dishes, as well as in salads and desserts. Here, for instance, is a sausage and pineapple platter that's delightful for either a sit-down or stand-up supper.

Sausage-Pineapple Platter

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, two-thirds cup milk, 10 small sausages (about one pound), 10 pineapple slices.

Method: For the biscuit mixture sift the flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in the shortening until the mixture is like coarse corn meal. Add milk and stir until all the dry ingredients are moistened. Pat out the dough on a lightly floured board or on a pastry cloth and roll into a rectangular shape, eight by ten inches. Cut the rectangle into 10 strips, each one inch wide and eight inches long. Now wrap a biscuit strip around each sausage. Arrange sausages like the spokes of a wheel on a well-greased heat-resistant glass well-and-tree platter. Cut pineapple slices in half and arrange between sausage rollups and in border near edge of platter. Bake in a moderately hot (375 F.) oven for about 30 minutes.

Because we had such a large crop of cranberries this year you'll probably still find them in your market all this month. Couple them with pineapple for a dressing when you're roasting a chicken or a duck for Sunday dinner and you'll have a new and delicious poultry accompaniment. Here's the recipe:

Cranberry Pineapple Dressing

Ingredients: 1 cup fresh cranberries, 1 small can crushed pineapple with juice (about 1 cup), grated rind of 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon powdered ginger, 4 cups dry bread crumbs, ¼ cup butter or margarine.

Method: Chop cranberries and blend with pineapple and lemon rind. Mix sugar, salt and seasonings with bread crumbs. Mix dry ingredients with melted butter or margarine. Add fruit and mix lightly. If more liquid is needed add water. This makes enough dressing for a 4-pound chicken or duck.

When it comes to salads, remember that pineapple teams beautifully with any bland cheese—cream and cottage, in particular. This combination, served on watercress with a tangy French dressing, really is superb.

Cottage pudding or plain cake with crushed pineapple and whipped cream is a simple and delectable dessert. The crushed fruit is also delicious over vanilla ice cream and with custards.

The year 1949 will commemorate the death of the two Austrian composers, the Johann Strausses, father and son. The father was born in 1804 and died 100 years ago, in 1849; the son Johann (the waltz king) was born in 1825, and died 50 years ago, in 1899. Both were born in Vienna, which is also true of Johann's two younger brothers, Josef and Edward.

The "City of a Hundred Towers" was an appellation applied to Pavia, Italy, from its many towers and steeples.

Couple them with pineapple for a dressing when you're roasting a chicken or a duck for Sunday dinner and you'll have a new and delicious poultry accompaniment. Here's the recipe:

Cranberry Pineapple Dressing

Ingredients: 1 cup fresh cranberries, 1 small can crushed pineapple with juice (about 1 cup), grated rind of 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon powdered ginger, 4 cups dry bread crumbs, ¼ cup butter or margarine.

Method: Chop cranberries and blend with pineapple and lemon rind. Mix sugar, salt and seasonings with bread crumbs. Mix dry ingredients with melted butter or margarine. Add fruit and mix lightly. If more liquid is needed add water. This makes enough dressing for a 4-pound chicken or duck.

When it comes to salads, remember that pineapple teams beautifully with any bland cheese—cream and cottage, in particular. This combination, served on watercress with a tangy French dressing, really is superb.

Cottage pudding or plain cake with crushed pineapple and whipped cream is a simple and delectable dessert. The crushed fruit is also delicious over vanilla ice cream and with custards.

The year 1949 will commemorate the death of the two Austrian composers, the Johann Strausses, father and son. The father was born in 1804 and died 100 years ago, in 1849; the son Johann (the waltz king) was born in 1825, and died 50 years ago, in 1899. Both were born in Vienna, which is also true of Johann's two younger brothers, Josef and Edward.

The "City of a Hundred Towers" was an appellation applied to Pavia, Italy, from its many towers and steeples.

Blunk Addresses Keyser Rotary

KEYSER, W. Va.—A discussion on ethics of Rotary by Adolph Blunk, Cumberland, at the Keyser Rotary weekly luncheon yesterday marked the local club's observance of Rotary's 44th birthday anniversary.

Blunk, president of the C & W Transportation Company, Cumberland, and Cumberland's entry for District Rotary Governor, used as his subject "Service to Mankind through International Relations."

Stating that this country remained in isolation until the close of the Second World War, Blunk said the organization of the United Nations in San Francisco four years ago was the first step made to bring people of all nations together for the purpose of solving the world's problems.

To solve the problems of peace, Blunk said, the peoples of the world must first find the basis for international understanding. In his opinion, Blunk declared, the three most capable existing organizations to work toward a solution are Rotary International, International YMCA and the International Junior Chamber of Commerce Association.

David G. Nuzum, president of the local Rotary Club, presided at the luncheon. Guests were introduced by Thomas Bess, Jr., secretary.

Suits Filed As Result Of Crash

Two suits asking a total of $2,600 damages as a result of a two-car collision February 13 on Route 220 near Pea Vine Run Road were filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

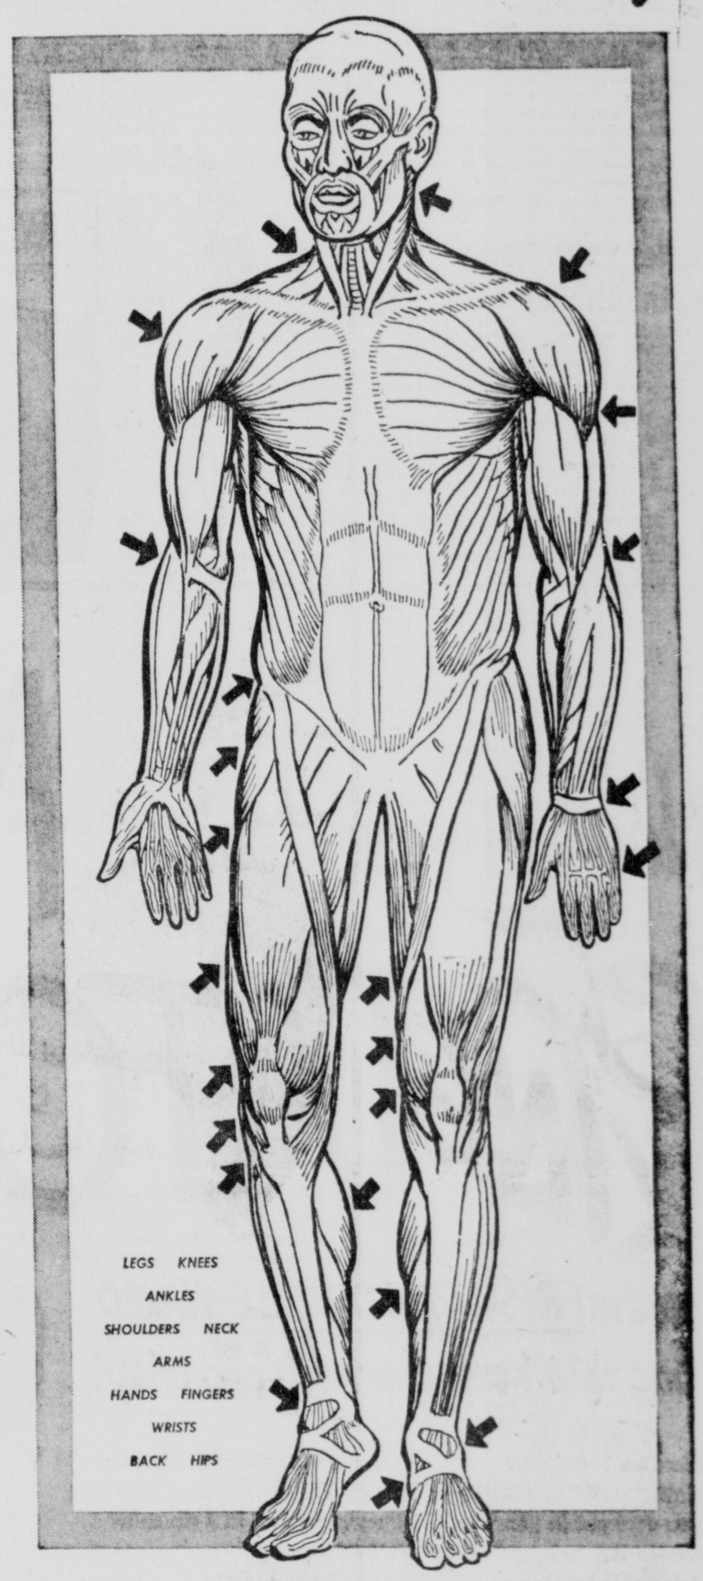
DEVELOPED AFTER THREE YEARS OF EXTENSIVE TESTS IN HOSPITAL CLINICS

IMDRIN has been a closely guarded experimental secret before release for public use. Yes, medical men, after three years of extensive hospital tests, have proved conclusively that IMDRIN works internally toward amazing reduction of pain, heat, redness, and swelling in the joints. Patients undergoing IMDRIN therapy in these hospital clinics often were able to resume comfortable living completely, after other remedies had failed. Every victim of rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis, sciatica, gout, neuralgia, etc., should investigate this new development of modern medicine. Ask for IMDRIN at Rand stores. Truly IMDRIN is today's big proprietary success.



Relieves Pain and Suffering After 20 Years of Torture!

"I call IMDRIN a miracle and you can understand why when I tell you that the pain which had tortured and crippled me, and for which there seemed no relief, was gone after I had taken IMDRIN. Now, for the first time in years, I can move about without pain and enjoy life once again. Surely the thousands of unfortunates like me who are seeking relief from the pains of arthritis should be happy to learn about the blessed, fast-acting ingredient which IMDRIN contains. It surely goes to work fast and gets results."

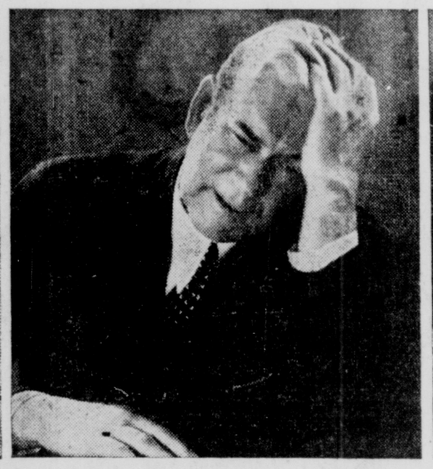
"I had arthritis and rheumatism so bad I could hardly get around. In fact, I went to several doctors who told me that my case was hopeless and that they could do nothing for me. Well, I had about given up hope when I saw your ad in the paper and bought a bottle of IMDRIN. I really think it's a wonder. I feel better with every dose I take. It seems like a dream to be free of so much pain."

MRS. A. R. WEBB
311 N. Bryan Street, Amarillo, Texas



"I am not getting paid for these words, but I want everyone to know what I know about IMDRIN. I had rheumatism and arthritis in my left shoulder and arm so bad I could hardly use it. Everytime I moved my arm it hurt just like sticking a knife into it. I was like a one-armed person. I tried all kinds of remedies that did no good. Then I tried IMDRIN. Now since I have IMDRIN, I suffer no more pain! No one can realize the wonderful relief it gives a person that suffered like I did. IMDRIN is worth hundreds of dollars to me."

A. C. STOCKTON
111 N. Wheaton Avenue, Wheaton, Illinois

"Even though my daughter is a registered nurse she could not find anything to help her agonizing arthritic pains. She tried everything but nothing did her any good. Then she bought IMDRIN and she has had miraculous results. I am going to tell all my friends about the wonderful relief from IMDRIN. It really is an amazing remedy.

WHERE RHEUMATISM STRIKES ...AND HOW TO DETECT IT!

Rheumatic and arthritic pain and inflammation can strike the joints in any of the indicated affected areas. (See arrows in chart above.) But these diseases have many forms and each form has varying symptoms. Rheumatoid arthritis is an infection of the joints which fill with fluid; the skin around them may be red, the joints themselves swollen and painful. Still another form is specific infectious arthritis.

All these various forms of arthritis and rheumatism are accompanied by pain; very often swelling and loss of function of the joints. Hospital and clinical test patients undergoing IMDRIN therapy, some of whom had suffered hopelessly for as long as twenty years, were able to resume more happy, active living once the pain subsided and their confidence grew. In cases where the joints were swollen, IMDRIN, working internally, reduced swelling and eased pain rapidly. These patients, many of whom had given up hope, were able to once again resume comfortable living. It is true that response to IMDRIN varied occasionally and your own experience may or may not coincide with that of patients tested. But IMDRIN today is your greatest hope. IMDRIN, with the new wonder-working ingredient, may give you the same blessed successful results. Get IMDRIN today!

How IMDRIN Helps You!

If you have suffered the tortures of the damned because of rheumatic and arthritic pains, swelling and stiffness . . . if you get up mornings dreading the suffering the day may hold, and do it day after day, month after month, year after year . . . listen! IMDRIN may answer your problem of comfortable living. In case after case IMDRIN has proved its potency. IMDRIN is one of the fastest arthritic and rheumatic pain relievers known to medical science. Cases deemed almost hopeless . . . persons who suffered and waited and hoped for as long as twenty years were able to live happy comfortable human lives once again. No other medicament for rheumatism and arthritis can make this amazing statement . . . and back it up with proven hospital and clinical records. DON'T GIVE UP HOPE. Amazing new IMDRIN brings new hope of a better life for you . . . and it is as close to you right now as your nearest drug store. Get IMDRIN today. Use only as directed. Income Tax Primer

Use Long Form If Deductions Exceed Ten Per Cent Of Income

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(AP)—Did you pay large medical bills, interest on a home-purchase loan or substantial local taxes during 1948?

If you did—even though your income was under $5,000—you may be able to reduce your income tax by using the long form 1040 and itemizing your allowable deductions.

Among allowable deductions are certain taxes, most interest payments, medical expenses which exceed five per cent of your income, losses from fire, storm and theft, and contributions.

Check carefully to see whether your deductions amount to more than 10 per cent of your income. You have the choice of taking a standard allowance for deductions amounting to 10 per cent of income or of listing your deductions, taking whatever they total.

Most people save tax money by taking the 10 per cent allowance because their allowable deductions actually total less than 10 per cent of their income.

If you use form 1040-A or the short form 1040, which you usually may do if income is less than $5,000, you will find no place to itemize deductions. These two simpler forms automatically provide a 10 per cent deduction allowance in the tax table.

Persons with income of $5,000 or more must use long form 1040. They can either figure the 10 per cent deduction (up to a limit of $1,000 or itemize their deductions.

Persons with income of less than $5,000 are allowed to itemize their deductions on the long form. But a taxpayer with less than $5,000 income is not permitted to take the 10 per cent deduction allowance on that form.

In other words, if he uses the long form the only way he can claim deductions is by itemizing them. So if your income is less than $5,000 and you want to get the 10 per cent allowance, make your return on form 1040-A or short form 1040, whichever you want—or are permitted to use.

On page 3 of form 1040 you will find a place to itemize deductions. Remember you deduct only that portion of medical expenses (paid in 1948) above five per cent of your income.

Medical expenses include fees paid to osteopaths, chiropractors and authorized Chritsian Science practitioners as well as doctors, surgeons and dentists. They also include payment of nurses (including nurses' board when paid by the taxpayer), hospital and laboratory fees.

Also deductible is money paid for medicine, artificial teeth and limbs, crutches, eyeglasses and hearing devices and amounts paid for accident or health insurance or for membership in group hospitalization associations. However, you cannot deduct expenses which a hospitalization association paid for you.

Taxpayers who claim only one exemption (that is, himself) are limited to medical deduction of not more than $1,250. Taxpayers who are single, or who are married and file separate returns and have dependents, are limited to medical deductions of not more than $2,500.

Married couples filing a joint return and claiming two exemptions (husband and wife) are limited to medical deductions of not more than $2,500.

Married couples filing a joint return and claiming three exemptions (husband, wife and one dependent) are limited to medical deductions of not more than $2,750.

Married couples filing a joint return and claiming four or more exemptions are limited to a maximum of $5,000. In no case can a medical deduction of more than $5,000 be allowed. The limit used to be $2,500.

Special exemptions for a blind taxpayer or a taxpayer who is 65 or older are not considered as exemptions in fixing the various limits on medical deductions.

Income Tax Primer

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(AP)—Did you pay large medical bills, interest on a home-purchase loan or substantial local taxes during 1948?

If you did—even though your income was under $5,000—you may be able to reduce your income tax by using the long form 1040 and itemizing your allowable deductions.

Among allowable deductions are certain taxes, most interest payments, medical expenses which exceed five per cent of your income, losses from fire, storm and theft, and contributions.

Check carefully to see whether your deductions amount to more than 10 per cent of your income. You have the choice of taking a standard allowance for deductions amounting to 10 per cent of income or of listing your deductions, taking whatever they total.

Most people save tax money by taking the 10 per cent allowance because their allowable deductions actually total less than 10 per cent of their income.

If you use form 1040-A or the short form 1040, which you usually may do if income is less than $5,000, you will find no place to itemize deductions. These two simpler forms automatically provide a 10 per cent deduction allowance in the tax table.

Persons with income of $5,000 or more must use long form 1040. They can either figure the 10 per cent deduction (up to a limit of $1,000 or itemize their deductions.

Persons with income of less than $5,000 are allowed to itemize their deductions on the long form. But a taxpayer with less than $5,000 income is not permitted to take the 10 per cent deduction allowance on that form.

In other words, if he uses the long form the only way he can claim deductions is by itemizing them. So if your income is less than $5,000 and you want to get the 10 per cent allowance, make your return on form 1040-A or short form 1040, whichever you want—or are permitted to use.

On page 3 of form 1040 you will find a place to itemize deductions. Remember you deduct only that portion of medical expenses (paid in 1948) above five per cent of your income.

Medical expenses include fees paid to osteopaths, chiropractors and authorized Chritsian Science practitioners as well as doctors, surgeons and dentists. They also include payment of nurses (including nurses' board when paid by the taxpayer), hospital and laboratory fees.

Also deductible is money paid for medicine, artificial teeth and limbs, crutches, eyeglasses and hearing devices and amounts paid for accident or health insurance or for membership in group hospitalization associations. However, you cannot deduct expenses which a hospitalization association paid for you.

Taxpayers who claim only one exemption (that is, himself) are limited to medical deduction of not more than $1,250. Taxpayers who are single, or who are married and file separate returns and have dependents, are limited to medical deductions of not more than $2,500.

Married couples filing a joint return and claiming two exemptions (husband and wife) are limited to medical deductions of not more than $2,500.

Married couples filing a joint return and claiming three exemptions (husband, wife and one dependent) are limited to medical deductions of not more than $3,750.

Married couples filing a joint return and claiming four or more exemptions are limited to a maximum of $5,000. In no case can a medical deduction of more than $5,000 be allowed. The limit used to be $2,500.

Special exemptions for a blind taxpayer or a taxpayer who is 65 or older are not considered as exemptions in fixing the various limits on medical deductions.

Blood Typing To Begin Thursday

FROSTBURG—The work of typing blood of new members of the Miners' Hospital Blood Donors Club will begin Thursday, March 3, at the hospital with technicians and other members of the staff in charge.

Approximately 25 will be notified to be at the hospital at that time, and other dates for typing the remainder of new volunteer donors will be announced.

Adam Kalbaugh, chairman of the drive for new members, presided at a meeting at City Hall last night when plans were made for the continuation of the service.

The club, with its new members, numbers about 325 and Kalbaugh stated that while its primary purpose is to serve the local hospital, members decided to continue with its policy of giving blood in cases of emergency whenever needed in the county.

The drive will continue for the next several weeks.

Those wishing to become members may do so by contacting either Kalbaugh or Miners Hospital.

Celanese Worker Fined On Motor Charge

As no serious injury was reported, city charges of reckless driving were waived.

At Potomac State she is a member of the Folio Book Club, Players Club, Medi-sci Club and Epsilon Chapter, of Sigma Iota Phi Sorority, and is president of the Newman Club.

Elected as her escort yesterday was Norman Keisel, of Clarksburg, while John Little, of Strasburg, Va., was runnerup.

Runnersup to the May Queen were Miss Marion Hutson, of 720 Oldtown Road, Cumberland, and Miss Harriett Ahern, of Keyser.

Members of the Queen's court will be Irene Andrews, Grafton; Yolanda Colabrese, Albert; Glendine Sanders, Kingwood; Jeannie Reed, Pennsboro; Margaret McLaughlin, Keyser; Eva Chapman, Spencer; Elaine Cole, 304 Waverly Terrace, Cumberland, who was Miss Catamount this year, and Mary Vogel, Grafton.

Lawrence Anciok, Pennsgrove, N. J.; Lou Donato, Pittsburgh; Neil Gutshall, Norton, Sam Shay, Terra Alta, John Gentile, Piedmont; and William Foley, 1896 Bedford Road, William MecKenzie, Route 4 and Gilbert Storey, 522 Cumberland Street, all of Cumberland.

The climax of the May Day Festival will be a dance in the college gymnasium held under the direction of Mrs. Madge Nuce, women's physical education director.

Blood Typing To Begin Thursday

FROSTBURG—The work of typing blood of new members of the Miners' Hospital Blood Donors Club will begin Thursday, March 3, at the hospital with technicians and other members of the staff in charge.

Approximately 25 will be notified to be at the hospital at that time, and other dates for typing the remainder of new volunteer donors will be announced.

Adam Kalbaugh, chairman of the drive for new members, presided at a meeting at City Hall last night when plans were made for the continuation of the service.

The club, with its new members, numbers about 325 and Kalbaugh stated that while its primary purpose is to serve the local hospital, members decided to continue with its policy of giving blood in cases of emergency whenever needed in the county.

The drive will continue for the next several weeks.

Those wishing to become members may do so by contacting either Kalbaugh or Miners Hospital.

Hyndman P.-T.A. Plans Election

HYNDMAN, Pa.—The Londonderry Township P-TA met recently in the school auditorium with Mrs. John A. Topper, president, in charge.

Mrs. Topper appointed a nominating committee consisting of Alvin Lowery, Edgar Stallings, Mrs. Sylvia McCoy, Mrs. Geraldine Kelly and Mrs. Ona Bruner. The committee will prepare a slate for the election of officers, which will be held at the April meeting.

Dr. John Topper gave a brief report on the physical examinations conducted in grades 1, 3, 5 and 7. He stated that he was glad to report that not one case of heart disease was found. In his findings, nose and throat conditions ranked first, lack of Vitamin D, posture and care of fingernails followed in the order given. He encourages parents to have these faults corrected as soon as possible.

H. M. Carpenter, principal of the school, presented a copy of the school handbook which is now being printed and will soon be sent to every parent in the township. This book is a summary of the work of the school in general, all the activities connected with the school, as well as employes, directors and county officials. It is possible for each citizen of Londonderry Township to have one of these copies.

Entertainment was provided by the second and fifth grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Anna McClay and Mrs. Blanche Wise with Mrs. Esther M. Hardinger at the piano. The program consisted of a tableau, "America," a drill, "Star Sangled Banner," and a playlet, "Her Royal Valentine."

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24—(INS)—Gregory Peck, who would rather work than eat, should be two Pecks for the jobs he has coming up. On April 18 he starts "Twelve O'Clock High" at 20th Century-Fox, the Sy Bartlett-Beirne Lay thriller of the U. S. Air Force high command in England.

Louella Parsons

I can tell Greg that he will be hustled through his scenes like a man in a revolving door—not because 20th wants to get rid of him—but because of his next assignment. He must be free late in the spring for "Quo Vadis," the super-spectacle M-G-M film in Italy.

P.S.: I couldn't be happier reporting that Greg and his pretty little wife, Greta, are like honeymooners these days. Greta plans to join him in Europe after the birth of the expected baby and will go on an honest to goodness sightseeing tour for themselves.

Hurray and three cheers for Bing Crosby, Frank Capra, the director, and the Paramount bosses who approved Frances Gifford for one of the top roles in "Riding High," formerly called "Broadway Bill."

It is Frances' first picture since her automobile accident, and just the morale builder she needs. Coleen Gray is the other girl, as I told you.

This picture, starring Bing, should set Frances on her merry movie way again.

Here's something special for all the stars who had so much fun performing wtih Ringling Brothers circus for charity last summer:

If you really want to hit the sawdust trail for a week or two the Cole Brothers circus is spending half a million dollars to get movie and stage headliners to travel with the show.

A luxurious private car is being furnished at the winter quarters in Louisville—and I mean luxurious. Maid and valet services are included, plus a private car and chauffeur in every town. All the movie stars have to do as appear—unless, of course, they have some special talent such as singing or dancing.

• — • — •

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dolly O'Brien has just undergone a serious operation in Palm Beach. Her friends are pulling for her to get well.

Bo Roos is a grandfather for the second time. His daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Clark, welcomed a daughter.

Life is full of strange quirks. Al Jolson started in life with Lou Dockstader's minstrels. Now a television company is getting ready a minstrel show hoping Al will accept it.

• — • — •

Barbara Ford, John's sweet and pretty daughter, who was so depressed at the time of Bob Walker's mad escapades, has accepted an invitation to Margaret Whiting's dinner and shower, and will go with Buddy Pepper. Nancy Guild, who is the guest of honor, expects her baby in two weeks.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr., according to a friend of mine in the east, is doing the work of ten men, speaking for CARE and the United Nations, and exploiting his movie, "The Fighting O'Flynn" in all the important eastern cities.

I also had a nice letter from Mary Lee Fairbanks, who says she is so tired that she has gone to her farm in Virginia to rest. "But it was all exciting for Doug, and I am proud of him," she said.

Natalie Thompson and Kenneth Friede, her husband, will arrive here Monday for a visit. Natalie was once married to Bob Hutton and has many friends in our town.

Amalita Marks, beautiful Italian actress, has been with Leo Gorcey's mother and Leo at Ensenada for several days. His romance with her is serious.

Jimmy Durante delighted the paying customers at The Kings when he sat down to the piano and sang ditty after ditty to Marjorie Little, who was there with him. For a time it looked as if Jimmy and Marjorie were cooling.

That's all today.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By Lichty

"I always get confused about the European situation . . . I never can remember which country is the powder keg and which is the tinder box . . ."

The Mocambo was gay on Washington's birthday, with Franchot Tone and Georgette Windsor in ringside seats. This is the first time Franchot has been out with anyone since he and Jean Wallace parted.

Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman, at the same place, in animated conservation. Ingrid leaves soon for Rome.

SUSIE Q. SMITH By Linda and Jerry Walter

"That was a swell dinner, Mrs. Smith . . . now, Susie, what d'ya say we go to Joe's for a few hamburgers!"

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and to aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

The '49 Model John J. Anthony

John J. Anthony—a new dynaflow 1949 model Anthony—is back on the air again after a rather longish pause for retooling. The former hack driver and eminent authority on agony has been missing quite a few years which left an awful hole in radio. A girl who wanted to hear a little quiet suffering on the air was driven to soap opera, which to your true connoisseur is synthetic stuff. For the real, honest, unexpurgated misery there wasn't anything like Anthony.

John Crosby

The '49 model Anthony, now edging toward fifty years, has a softer contour and more rounded lines than the old pre-war model though the inside of him is essentially the same. Anthony appears to have taken a course in benignity. He doesn't upbraid the petitioners as in the old days. "What! You have been unfaithful to this woman!") More and more he lays the blame for their own frailty in the lap of God. Where in the old days he used to tell them to return to their husbands and stop playing around, he now invokes the assistance of God to straighten everything out. It's a full hour program and the Almighty, if he takes care of all these problems, is going to have his hands full.

• — • — •

Anthony, I should say, has as usual felt the pulse of the time and subtly changed his emphasis. "Good luck and God bless you," he told a woman the other night. The woman's husband had told her "in so many words" to get out. She was opposed to this project and had come to consult the good, gray human relations counsellor who is fully familiar with matrimonial problems, having spent some time thinking about it in alimony jail.

"Consult your pastor," he told the lady before dismissing her with that benign "God bless you."

A nineteen-year-old boy consulted him concerning his father who had suffered a heart attack and was now "in an institution." "You join with me in a prayer," said Mr. Anthony. "Let's think about it hard. Let me hope and pray for you."

Years ago Anthony outraged all the recognized social agencies with his easy, unstudied and flippant solutions of the most complex problems of human relationship. Now he has escaped their jurisdiction by putting everything in the hands of the Deity where it's rather difficult to diagnose the results and sacrilegious to protest if there aren't any.

"The problem you present is really a prayer," he tells a mother who is worried about her truant son, "a prayer from a mother's heart."

• — • — •

Anthony, of course, is still workat the old stand of human suffering and he still can't quite prevent himself from smacking his lips with enthusiasm over an especially juicy case. He even gets this enthusiasm into the commercials which he rolls off his tongue sonorously, sanctimoniously and, at the same time, happily:

"We want you who suffer the agonies and tortures of arthritic pains to go to your druggist and ask for. . ." I didn't catch the name of the product. Something that gives "quick, lasting relief" from arthritis, which may surprise a great many doctors. Whatever it is you can't get it from God. That, at least, you have to get from the corner druggist.

Joe Louis Offered Minimum Of $300,000 To Meet Savold

Philadelphia Night Club Owner Would Stage Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis today was offered a minimum of $300,000 to fight Lee Savold for the title.

Frank Palumbo, night club owner and co-manager of Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, made the offer.

"I expect to contact Louis within 24 hours," Palumbo said. "Joe already knows we would like for him to meet Savold here and I have made arrangements to speak to him by telephone. I am hopeful he will come to Philadelphia and talk over the details."

The Brown Bomber is now on an exhibition tour in Kingston, Jamaica.

Everything is up to Louis. He can:

1—Pick his own date—anytime during the summer of 1949 in Philadelphia.

2—Take the $300,000 guarantee or 47½ per cent of the gate, whichever is larger. Louis also was offered 47½ per cent of the radio and television rights.

3—Make a counter offer.

"I'm willing to compromise if it's to everybody's advantage," Palumbo said.

Charity Will Benefit

The fight would be under the personal promotion of the night club impressario, his first venture in this field.

And charity will benefit if the 15-round championship bout comes off.

"The Police Athletic Fund will be one of the main beneficiaries," Palumbo said.

Site of the proposed bout has not been selected. Palumbo hinted it would be held either at Municipal Stadium (seating 110,000); Franklin Field (75,000), or Shibe Park (40,000).

Savold's manager, Billy Daly, said he jumped at the chance.

"I don't even care what our cut will be," Daly insisted. "All I'm interested in is getting Savold in the same ring with Louis."

Palumbo said all details haven't been ironed out but Savold "probably will get about 20 per cent."

"We'll take it," Daly beamed.

If the fight falls through, Savold will leave next week for Ireland where he has a March 17 engagement with Irish Champion Jerry McDermott.

Lost To Woodcock

The 32-year-old Savold, two years younger than Louis, lost his last fight to British heavyweight king Bruce Woodcock on December 6, 1948.

All told, Savold has 50 knockouts to his credit—plus a string of defeats. He's been licked by Joe Kaksi and Elmer (Violent) Ray, both contenders for Louis' crown.

Cerdan To Fight

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan, world middleweight champion, will fight British Champion Dick Turpin here March 29.

French Promoter Joe Longman, who acts for Cerdan, said American objections to Cerdan fighting here had been waived. Cerdan has contracted for a series of fights in the United States this spring and summer.

Site Of Army-Navy Game Kept Secret, Philly Mayor Says

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24 (AP)—The site of the 1949 Army-Navy football game is a secret only Washington officials can disclose, Mayor Bernard Samuel said today.

The gridiron classic has been played in Philadelphia's municipal stadium since 1936 except during the war years of 1942-43-44.

Municipal Stadium seats 105,000 and Samuel said he hopes to book the contest for the next three years.

But, he said, that's up to Army-Navy officials in the nation's capital.

The mayor said Capt. H. H. Caldwell, director of athletics at the Naval Academy, sought information last month concerning availability of Municipal Stadium for Nov. 26.

"It was our understanding that similar information was being requested from certain cities such as New York, Chicago, and Cleveland," Samuel said in a statement.

"The facts and figures resulting from the survey are in the office of the Secretary of the Navy where a decision will be made."

Army is the home team for the 1949 service classic. The mayor's statement made no specific mention of Army department officials.

DeJohn Favored Over Pete Mead In Garden Bout

LaStarza, Buonvino Meet On Same Card

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Joey De John, promising Syracuse, N. Y. middleweight and Roland La Starza, unbeaten Bronx heavyweight, are top heavy favorites to win co-featured 10-rounders tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

De John, who has complied an amazing knockout streak in upstate N. Y., will have the partisan backing of some 2,000 home town admirers in his first Garden main go—a return match with Pete Mead of Grand Rapids, Mick.

It was Mead, an experienced batter who fought many of the top men in the division, who ended De John's 30-bout win streak with a fifth round knockout at Buffalo, December 2, 1947. That is the one big black mark on the record of 22-year-old De John and he knows it. He has lost only two of 62 fights. The other was a decision to Willie Jeeter.

La Starza, undefeated in 29 pro starts, is like De John, a 5 to 12 choice. He is expected to whip Gino Buonvino, the roly poly heavyweight from Bari, Italy. After a sizzling performance against Gene Gosney in December, 21-year-old La Starza decisioned Bill Weinberg in a ten that was generally ovedlooked the night Vince Foster flattened Tony Pellone in specacular fashion.

PVC Cage Race Could End In Tie Tonight

Ridgeley High At Moorefield In Top Battle

Jackets' Win Would Tie Race; LaSalle Is Host To Allegany

Whether there will be a single champion or co-champions in the Potomac Valley Conference will hinge on the outcome of tonight's contest between the Ridgeley High School Blackhawks and Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets at Moorefield, W. Va.

At the present time Ridgeley is leading the race with an 8-1 record while Moorefield holds the runner-up berth with an 11-3 record.

If Ridgeley cops tonight's game the Blackhawks will have retained the title with a 9-1 record and a percentage mark of .900. Four defeats and 11 wins would give Moorefield an average of .733.

Moorefield won at Ridgeley by the score of 38-30 for the Hawks' lone defeat in the conference and if Moorefield repeats tonight the conference will have co-champions. If the Jackets sweep the series here's how the schools will stand at the finish:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Moorefield	12	3	.800
Ridgeley	8	2	.800

Moorefield's other defeats were two at the hands of Keyser and one at Piedmont.

The Jackets will be playing their third conference game of the week. Johnny Paugh's team topped Franklin on Monday and lost at Keyser on Wednesday. Keyser, twice victorious over Moorefield, has lost two games to Ridgeley.

Conference rules specify that each school must play 10 games to be a title contender and the team or teams with the highest percentage at the close of the campaign will be recognized as champion or co-champions.

The game is a "natural" and should jam the Moorefield High gym to the rafters.

In other PVC tilts tonight Romney's at Piedmont, Petersburg at Mathias and Capon Bridge at Wardensville.

Allegany At LaSalle

LaSalle and Allegany will provide the fireworks here tonight. The game is the grand finale of the three-cornered city series and will be staged on SS. Peter and Paul court at 8 o'clock.

Allegany took the opener by the score of 27-23 and it should be another close contest tonight. Fort Hill won the city title with a 4-0 record. Allegany now stands second with 1-2 and LaSalle is last with 0-3.

Fort Hill, victorious in 19 of 20 games, will be angling for its 8th straight tonight when it plays John Cobourne's Martinsburg High quint in Martinsburg, W. Va., it what looms as a topnotch attraction. The Sentinels edged Martinsburg here 35-30 and may run into plenty of trouble in the Bulldogs' doghouse.

Important Girls' Game

And last but not least is that girls' contest at Frostburg today at 3:30 between Fort Hill and Beall. If Fort Hill wins the title is theirs but if Beall spills the Hilltoppers to two teams will share the W.M.I. title this season. Their first meeting here ended in a 15-15 deadlock. Fort Hill has won 5, lost 1 and tied 1 while Beall has 4 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie.

Moose Score 71-34 Win, Play Keyser On Sunday

Jimmie Angellatta's Loyal Order of Moose basketeers trounced the Original Revenuers last night on SS. Peter and Paul court by the score of 71-34.

Tommy Geatz was the "big gun" for the victors with 28 points, including 10 field goals and eight for eight at the free throw mark. Don Lilya chipped in 16 points. Steiner was high man for the Revenuers with 11 tallies.

The local Moose team will go after its 25th win on Sunday when it plays the Keyser Moose in the preliminary to the Dukes-Butler game at SS. Peter and Paul gym. Lineups:

Rio Grande Open Led By Douglas

Delaware Golfer's 63 Heads Field Of 124

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 24 (AP)—Dave Douglas, golf's thin man, rolled in with an eight under par 63 today to grab a two stroke lead in the first round of the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley Open.

Playing even more brilliantly than two weeks ago when he surprised everybody by winning the Texas Open at San Antonio, the Wilmington, Del., professional didn't miss a putt as he tore around the 6,095 yard Harlingen municipal course.

Tied for second place were Al Smith of Winston Salem, N. C., Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., with 67's.

Exactly 50 players in the starting field of 134 that was cut to 124 at the finish by withdrawals bested par on the wind swept layout. It required a three under par 68 to get into the top 20. Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., the favorite had a 69; Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., last year's champion, wound up with a 71, and Jimmie Demaret of Ojai, Calif., who lost to Mangrum in a play off here in 1948, had 68.

Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., virtually shot himself out of the tournament with a three over par 74.

Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., got a 71, George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., also had a 71.

34 Boxers Already Entered In S. A. Show Here In March

Deadline Is March 3, 4 Trophies Donated

Thirty-four boxers — 17 in the open division and a like number in the novice division — have already filed entries for the South Atlantic A.A.U. championship tournament to be staged at the State Armory, March 7, 14 and 21, Clifton Van Roby, Western Maryland boxing commissioner announced last night.

Among the latest entrants is Jimmie Childress, former local middleweight, who fought two rousing battles here within the last year. Childress claims to have won 37 bouts by decision, scored 15 knockouts, lost three via decisions and was knocked out once — by Bill Mann, local slugger. Jimmie will fight in the open division.

Jenkins In Novice Class

Clarence Jenkins, former St. Mary's Boys' Club 134-pounder, will return to the ring after a long layoff and will fight in the lightweight class of the novice division. He is handled by O. J. "Zip" Hutson.

A Baltimore entry is Charles Lambert, 200-pound scrapper from the Northwest Police Boys' Club. He is managed by Harry Scott.

Commissioner Roby also has received word from AAU headquarters in Baltimore that the Cross Country Club team will compete in the tournament.

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, through James Wilkinson, chairman of the athletic committee, will provide ushers, ticket sellers and ticket takers for the three-day tourney. Tickets are on sale at the Central Y.M.C.A., Wilson Hardware Company and the Sport Shoppe.

Four Trophies Donated

The deadline for entries is midnight March 3. All boxers must be registered with the A.A.U.

The Harvey Jewelry Company is donating a trophy to the team scoring the most points in the tourney. The second place team will receive a trophy from the Sport Shoppe. A trophy for the outstanding boxer will be presented by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce and a local boxing fan who desires that his name be withheld is giving a prize to the outstanding novice mittman.

PVC Cage Race Could End In Tie Tonight

Jackets' Win Would Tie Race; LaSalle Is Host To Allegany

Whether there will be a single champion or co-champions in the Potomac Valley Conference will hinge on the outcome of tonight's contest between the Ridgeley High School Blackhawks and Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets at Moorefield, W. Va.

At the present time Ridgeley is leading the race with an 8-1 record while Moorefield holds the runner-up berth with an 11-3 record.

If Ridgeley cops tonight's game the Blackhawks will have retained the title with a 9-1 record and a percentage mark of .900. Four defeats and 11 wins would give Moorefield an average of .733.

Moorefield won at Ridgeley by the score of 38-30 for the Hawks' lone defeat in the conference and if Moorefield repeats tonight the conference will have co-champions. If the Jackets sweep the series here's how the schools will stand at the finish:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Moorefield	12	3	.800
Ridgeley	8	2	.800

Moorefield's other defeats were two at the hands of Keyser and one at Piedmont.

The Jackets will be playing their third conference game of the week. Johnny Paugh's team topped Franklin on Monday and lost at Keyser on Wednesday. Keyser, twice victorious over Moorefield, has lost two games to Ridgeley.

Conference rules specify that each school must play 10 games to be a title contender and the team or teams with the highest percentage at the close of the campaign will be recognized as champion or co-champions.

The game is a "natural" and should jam the Moorefield High gym to the rafters.

In other PVC tilts tonight Romney's at Piedmont, Petersburg at Mathias and Capon Bridge at Wardensville.

Allegany At LaSalle

LaSalle and Allegany will provide the fireworks here tonight. The game is the grand finale of the three-cornered city series and will be staged on SS. Peter and Paul court at 8 o'clock.

Allegany took the opener by the score of 27-23 and it should be another close contest tonight. Fort Hill won the city title with a 4-0 record. Allegany now stands second with 1-2 and LaSalle is last with 0-3.

Fort Hill, victorious in 19 of 20 games, will be angling for its 8th straight tonight when it plays John Cobourne's Martinsburg High quint in Martinsburg, W. Va., it what looms as a topnotch attraction. The Sentinels edged Martinsburg here 35-30 and may run into plenty of trouble in the Bulldogs' doghouse.

Important Girls' Game

And last but not least is that girls' contest at Frostburg today at 3:30 between Fort Hill and Beall. If Fort Hill wins the title is theirs but if Beall spills the Hilltoppers to two teams will share the W.M.I. title this season. Their first meeting here ended in a 15-15 deadlock. Fort Hill has won 5, lost 1 and tied 1 while Beall has 4 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie.

Rio Grande Open Led By Douglas

Delaware Golfer's 63 Heads Field Of 124

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 24 (AP)—Dave Douglas, golf's thin man, rolled in with an eight under par 63 today to grab a two stroke lead in the first round of the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley Open.

Playing even more brilliantly than two weeks ago when he surprised everybody by winning the Texas Open at San Antonio, the Wilmington, Del., professional didn't miss a putt as he tore around the 6,095 yard Harlingen municipal course.

Tied for second place were Al Smith of Winston Salem, N. C., Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., with 67's.

Exactly 50 players in the starting field of 134 that was cut to 124 at the finish by withdrawals bested par on the wind swept layout. It required a three under par 68 to get into the top 20. Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., the favorite had a 69; Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., last year's champion, wound up with a 71, and Jimmie Demaret of Ojai, Calif., who lost to Mangrum in a play off here in 1948, had 68.

Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., virtually shot himself out of the tournament with a three over par 74.

Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., got a 71, George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., also had a 71.

34 Boxers Already Entered In S. A. Show Here In March

Deadline Is March 3, 4 Trophies Donated

Thirty-four boxers — 17 in the open division and a like number in the novice division — have already filed entries for the South Atlantic A.A.U. championship tournament to be staged at the State Armory, March 7, 14 and 21, Clifton Van Roby, Western Maryland boxing commissioner announced last night.

Among the latest entrants is Jimmie Childress, former local middleweight, who fought two rousing battles here within the last year. Childress claims to have won 37 bouts by decision, scored 15 knockouts, lost three via decisions and was knocked out once — by Bill Mann, local slugger. Jimmie will fight in the open division.

Jenkins In Novice Class

Clarence Jenkins, former St. Mary's Boys' Club 134-pounder, will return to the ring after a long layoff and will fight in the lightweight class of the novice division. He is handled by O. J. "Zip" Hutson.

A Baltimore entry is Charles Lambert, 200-pound scrapper from the Northwest Police Boys' Club. He is managed by Harry Scott.

Commissioner Roby also has received word from AAU headquarters in Baltimore that the Cross Country Club team will compete in the tournament.

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, through James Wilkinson, chairman of the athletic committee, will provide ushers, ticket sellers and ticket takers for the three-day tourney. Tickets are on sale at the Central Y.M.C.A., Wilson Hardware Company and the Sport Shoppe.

Four Trophies Donated

The deadline for entries is midnight March 3. All boxers must be registered with the A.A.U.

The Harvey Jewelry Company is donating a trophy to the team scoring the most points in the tourney. The second place team will receive a trophy from the Sport Shoppe. A trophy for the outstanding boxer will be presented by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce and a local boxing fan who desires that his name be withheld is giving a prize to the outstanding novice mittman.

Bob Keller Signs With A's,, To Join Tarboro, N. C., Club

Robert "Bob" Keller, youthful slugging outfielder of the Moorefield American Legion team, co-champions of the 1948 Interstate Baseball League, has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League, John "Dutch" Brennan, of Baltimore, regional scout for the major league team informed the News last night.

Keller, a powerful built lad who hits a long ball, is a graduate of Moorefield (W.Va.) High School where he starred on the baseball team for several seasons. He was graduated in June, 1948.

Brennan announced that Keller has been assigned to the Tarboro, North Carolina Club of the Coastal Plain League, a Class D circuit and will report for training about April 1.

Keller's home is at Fisher in Hardy county, W. Va.

Brennan stated that the Athletics may hold a baseball school in this section this year. The Westvaco park at Westernport is one of the sites under consideration, he said.

Ted Williams Says Terms OK

Boston Sox Slugger Will Sign Contract

BOSTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Slugger Ted Williams tonight agreed to sign his 1949 Boston Red Sox contract during a telephone conversation from Everglades City, Fla., with General Manager Joe Cronin.

Ever since the 1949 salaries of Joe DiMaggio and Lou Boudreau were estimated at $90,000 and $85,000 respectively, the baseball folk have assumed that Williams would become the highest salaried player in baseball history.

The Red Sox policy is to refrain from discussing financial matters with players and Williams, in the past, always has respected it. But several close to both parties have predicted that Williams' 1949 salary would be in the vicinity of $100,000.

"Ted reported he was very happy about his new contract and reported that he and his family were in excellent health. He will report in Sarasota on March 6," Cronin said.

Asked if Williams had agreed to sign for more than the reported $80,000 he received last season, Cronin said, "Ted is very, very happy about his new contract."

AHS, Fort Hill Girls Play For Title March 4

Battle For County Class "A" Title At SS. Peter-Paul Gym

Allegany and Fort Hill will play for the Class A girls' basketball title of Allegany County on Friday, March 4, at 8 p. m., in SS. Peter and Paul gym, Arthur G. Ramey, director of the Maryland State Scholastic Basketball tournament announced last night.

Ramey conferred with representatives of both schools yesterday at the Allegany County Board of Education Building to arrange plans for the contest. Ralph R. Webster, principal, Coach Mary Hawks Martin of Allegany and Victor D. Heisey, principal, and Coach Henrietta Paupe Snyder of Fort Hill attended the session.

During the regular season Allegany split even in two contests with the Hilltoppers. In the opener at Fort Hill, the home team won 20-15. AHS, however, turned the tables in the return game at Campobello, 11-10.

The winner of the "rubber" game will qualify for the inter-county contests.

Only One Definite Starter Slated To Oppose Coaltown In Rich Event

Officials To Decide On Betting Issue

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Only one definite starter appeared today against Calumet Farm's Coaltown in the $50,000 added Widener and Hialeah officials debated whether to permit betting on the big race.

Cherry Oca Stable's First Nighter will go postward in Saturday's mile and a quarter feature, Trainer Harold Simmons announced. He apparently will shoot for the $10,000 second money.

Hialeah officials will decide the betting issue after all names are in the starter's box at 10 a. m. tomorrow. If there is no betting, they plan to add a ninth race to Saturday's program.

Calumet's General Manager Ben Jones and Trainer H. A. (Jimmy) Jones would not reveal whether Faultless and Free America would be entered with Coaltown, but it appeared likely Faultless would be the swifty's running mate. The entry may go postward at 1-20.

Faultless was second in last Saturday's McLennan which Coaltown won handily and was regarded as the most likely running mate again this week. Free America never was a factor in the McLennan.

Mrs. E. L. Hopkins' Three Rings and Dixiana Stable's Shy Guy also will be entered but either is expected to challenge Coaltown. Both trainers said their horses would not run and indicated they were entered "just in case" anything should happen to Coaltown before post time.

Shy Guy closed very fast in the McLennan and finished third, with Three Rings fourth.

Another possible starter was E. E. Voynow's Stud Poker. Trainer Paul Kelley said the six-year-old son of Bahram would start if the track is fast. Stud Poker did not compete in the McLennan.

Entries for the Widener closed last Dec. 15 with 49 nominations.

Warren Wright's Calumet Farm headed the list with six.

AHS, Fort Hill Girls Play For Title March 4

Battle For County Class "A" Title At SS. Peter-Paul Gym

Allegany and Fort Hill will play for the Class A girls' basketball title of Allegany County on Friday, March 4, at 8 p. m., in SS. Peter and Paul gym, Arthur G. Ramey, director of the Maryland State Scholastic Basketball tournament announced last night.

Ramey conferred with representatives of both schools yesterday at the Allegany County Board of Education Building to arrange plans for the contest. Ralph R. Webster, principal, Coach Mary Hawks Martin of Allegany and Victor D. Heisey, principal, and Coach Henrietta Paupe Snyder of Fort Hill attended the session.

During the regular season Allegany split even in two contests with the Hilltoppers. In the opener at Fort Hill, the home team won 20-15. AHS, however, turned the tables in the return game at Campobello, 11-10.

The winner of the "rubber" game will qualify for the inter-county contests.

33rd Dodger Signed

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (INS)—Bob Morgan, Montreal shortstop in 1948 signed a Brooklyn contract today. He became the 33rd Dodger to enter the fold. Morgan will be one of seven or eight candidates battling for the Dodger third base assignment.

Only One Definite Starter Slated To Oppose Coaltown In Rich Event

Officials To Decide On Betting Issue

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Only one definite starter appeared today against Calumet Farm's Coaltown in the $50,000 added Widener and Hialeah officials debated whether to permit betting on the big race.

Cherry Oca Stable's First Nighter will go postward in Saturday's mile and a quarter feature, Trainer Harold Simmons announced. He apparently will shoot for the $10,000 second money.

Hialeah officials will decide the betting issue after all names are in the starter's box at 10 a. m. tomorrow. If there is no betting, they plan to add a ninth race to Saturday's program.

Calumet's General Manager Ben Jones and Trainer H. A. (Jimmy) Jones would not reveal whether Faultless and Free America would be entered with Coaltown, but it appeared likely Faultless would be the swifty's running mate. The entry may go postward at 1-20.

Faultless was second in last Saturday's McLennan which Coaltown won handily and was regarded as the most likely running mate again this week. Free America never was a factor in the McLennan.

Mrs. E. L. Hopkins' Three Rings and Dixiana Stable's Shy Guy also will be entered but either is expected to challenge Coaltown. Both trainers said their horses would not run and indicated they were entered "just in case" anything should happen to Coaltown before post time.

Shy Guy closed very fast in the McLennan and finished third, with Three Rings fourth.

Another possible starter was E. E. Voynow's Stud Poker. Trainer Paul Kelley said the six-year-old son of Bahram would start if the track is fast. Stud Poker did not compete in the McLennan.

Entries for the Widener closed last Dec. 15 with 49 nominations.

Warren Wright's Calumet Farm headed the list with six.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Constance Bennett is generally considered the shrewdest business woman who ever starred on the screen. She has made almost as much in outside ventures as she did when she was one of the highest-salaried actresses in Hollywood.

"I don't know why Connie works sa har," said a friend. "After all, she can't take it with her."

"If Connie can't take it with her," replied one of Miss Bennett's sisters grimly, "she won't go."

A long-time inmate of an insane asylum was pronounced cured by the examining board and came to bid the director goodby before faring into the outside world. "What are your plans?" asked the director.

"I haven't quite made up my mind," confided the ex-patient. "I may resume my medical practice. I've also been thinking of becoming a newspaper reporter. Then, on the other hand, I may be a tea-kettle."

Copyright, 1949, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Furniture ads of 200 years ago informed prospective customers that there would be no haggling over prices. "To avoid trouble, the price will be 130 guineas," they read, indicating that if buyers didn't like the price they could stay away from the sale.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved son, Francis Lee Beck, who gave his all four years ago today, February 25, 1945 in Germany, that others may live.

Four years have gone dear Francis,
Since you last did feel your pain,
Far from loved ones to comfort you,
As you gave your all that day.
The source of sorrow has not stopped
Nor the streams of tears be stayed,
God alone knows how much we missed you,
Throughout these four years.

Sadly missed by Father and Mother, Sister and Brother.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved son, Francis Lee Beck, who gave his all four years ago today, February 25, 1945 in Germany, that others may live.

Four years have gone dear Francis,
Since you last did feel your pain.
Far from loved ones to comfort you,
As you gave your all that day.
The source of sorrow has not stopped
Nor the streams of tears be stayed,
God alone knows how much we missed you.
Throughout these four years.

Sadly missed by Father and Mother, Sister and Brother.

Rails Provide Motive Power As Market Retreats Again

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Railway stocks supplied the motive power for another retreat in today's market.

Others lower included General Motors, Chrysler, Willys-Overland, Firestone, Schenely, Coca-Cola, International Business Machines, Newport Industries, American Telephone, General Electric, Standard Electric, Standard Oil (NJ), Paramount Pictures, and Loew's.

Off one-fourth point or less were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, and Youngstown Sheet.

Homestake Mining at 38½ was up 1⅛ and fractional improvement was noted in Dcme and McIntyre Porcupine.

The bond market took its worst beating today since the post-election slump.

Six Baltimore and Ohio issues fell one to more than two points. Six Missouri Pacific liens were off more than a point. Three Southern Pacific bonds were off two or more and three Frisco railways dropped a point or more.

Three New York Central bonds again touched new 1948-49 lows.

The Erie Railroad's "G" 3½'s lost 3½ at 52¼.

Other losses of one to more than two points distributed among the speculative and higher grade rails included Jersey Central 5s, Chicago Great Western 4s, Milwaukee income 4½s, Colorado and Southern 4½s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, Rio Grande 3s-4s.

Higher by fractions to more than a point were American Telephone 2⅝s of '57, Detroit Edison 3s of '70, Michigan Bell Telephone 3⅛s, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico 5s of '54, Pittsburgh Steel 4¼s (up 1⅞ at 103) and Southern Indiana Railway 3¾s.

Long-term United States government bonds generally were off 1-32 in over-the-counter trade.

Rails Provide Motive Power As Market Retreats Again

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Railway stocks supplied the motive power for another retreat in today's market.

Others lower included General Motors, Chrysler, Willys-Overland, Firestone, Schenely, Coca-Cola, International Business Machines, Newport Industries, American Telephone, General Electric, Standard Electric, Standard Oil (NJ), Paramount Pictures, and Loew's.

Off one-fourth point or less were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, and Youngstown Sheet.

Homestake Mining at 38½ was up 1⅛ and fractional improvement was noted in Dome and McIntyre Porcupine.

The bond market took its worst beating today since the post-election slump.

Six Baltimore and Ohio issues fell one to more than two points. Six Missouri Pacific liens were off more than a point. Three Southern Pacific bonds were off two or more and three Frisco railways dropped a point or more.

Three New York Central bonds again touched new 1948-49 lows.

The Erie Railroad's "G" 3⅛'s lost 3½ at 52¼.

Other losses of one to more than two points distributed among the speculative and higher grade rails included Jersey Central 5s, Chicago Great Western 4s, Milwaukee income 4½s, Colorado and Southern 4½s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, Rio Grande 3s-4s.

Higher by fractions to more than a point were American Telephone 2⅜s of '57, Detroit Edison 3s of '70, Michigan Bell Telephone 3¼s, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico 5s of '54, Pittsburgh Steel 4¼s (up 1⅞ at 103) and Southern Indiana Railway 3¾s.

Long-term United States government bonds generally were off 1-32 in over-the-counter trade.

Group Insurance Plan Cited For City Employes

Council To Hold Special Meeting

Discussion of a proposed group insurance plan for city employes is scheduled at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, March 8, at 2 p. m., according to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

The date was selected at a conference yesterday of the mayor and two insurance representatives, William A. Trombley, Jr., regional manager for the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Joseph P. Drum, local agent for the Prudential Life Insurance Company.

Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, one of the proponents of the plan, was unable to attend yesterday's conference.

Cost To Be Discussed

A detailed account of costs of the plan will be presented at the March 8 meeting.

(Another meeting has also been scheduled for tomorrow or the following Saturday on the proposed pension plan for city employes, which is a separate proposal.)

The insurance men pointed out that City of Cumberland employes are probably the only group of any size in this area not already covered by a group insurance plan.

County employes have been members of such a plan since last July, and group insurance has been in effect for Garrett County employes since 1945.

Seventy-five per cent of the 275 city employes would have to apply for membership before the plan could go into effect.

If approved by the Mayor and Council and the employes, application would be made by listing name, address, beneficiary for life insurance, and dependents.

Exact minute of the time the plan went into effect would be listed to determine eligibility for benefits in the event of death, accident or sickness immediately thereafter.

Only protection which is not afforded is benefits in the event of accidents while at work.

Average payment of 80 cents weekly would afford protection to both the employe and his family, while the cost would be less if the employe joined the plan on an individual basis.

Cost of monthly premiums would be split on a 50-50 basis between the city and each employe. Elective and appointive officials would also be eligible.

The plan offers life insurance and benefits in the event of accidental death, loss of life or limbs, accidents, sickness or need fo· hospital, medical or surgical care.

Other Services Listed

Estimated cost to the city for the initial year of operation is $7,000. However, Trombley explained that through a system of increasing dividends returned by the company, the cost would be less in each later year.

Other services available would be payments toward maternity confinements, ambulance service costs, weekly benefits in the event of quarantine and out-patient hospital service.

No physical examination would be needed. Unmarried dependent children of an employe would be eligible for protection under the plan no matter how old they were.

If an employe should leave city service after joining the group insurance plan, he could continue his policy at the same premium. The only difference would be that the city would no longer share half the cost.

Generally speaking, the age of the employe would not affect the amount of coverage available to him, Trombley said.

Pre-existing illnesses are allowed for in the plan, although hospital or medical benefits would not start until the plan went into effect.

100 Will Ask Lane To Help State College

To Meet Governor Monday Afternoon

A group, expected to exceed 100, solicitous of a $2,500,000 building program for Frostburg State Teachers College will confer with Governor William Preston Lane on Monday at 4 p. m., A. Charles Stewart, committee head, announced yesterday.

Stewart said a motorcade will leave from in front of the Frostburg Postoffice Monday morning at 10 o'clock to meet with the Governor in Annapolis and urge a state allotment to enlarge and improve the teachers college.

Initial action on the building program came Tuesday night when a committee was named by the Frostburg Rotary Club to support Miss Lillian C. Compton, college president, in her request for new dormitories, dining hall and science building.

Stewart said preparations were made for the trip to Annapolis yesterday after Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore, Frostburg, received a telegram from Governor Lane saying he would meet the committee at 4 p. m. Monday. William S. Jenkins, Frostburg and Cumberland attorney, will act as spokesman for the group.

The motorcade will carry representatives of every fraternal, civic and social organization in the community as well as delegates from business and professional groups.

In her statement, Miss Compton set the college financial needs at $2,500,000 and said the improvements that it would be applied to are necessary before the college is accredited by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Specific needs as listed by the president are:

Seventy-five additional acres of land; $125,000 for a larger library with 75,000 volumes and accommodations for library needs of 125 students; $450,000 for a girls' dormitory accommodating 400 girls; a $150,000 science building with five laboratories; $300,000 for a men's dormitory with facilities for 100 students; a $150,000 dining hall with a seating capacity of 300; a $200,000 gymnasium and $300,000 for faculty housing.

Miss Compton said the college enrollment has grown from 62 in 1945 to 338 students who are now attending classes. She said buildings at the Frostburg College are not comparable to those at Towson and Salisbury, where the state also maintains teachers colleges.

Delegates Set Hearing For LaVale Group

At the request of members of the LaVale Civic Improvemtn Association, a hearing has been scheduled next Wednesday, March 2, by the Allegany County Delegation on the LaVale Sanitary District bill.

A referendum election on the measure, which was passed by the 1947 Legislature, was recently upheld by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Members of the delegation have suggested a survey of the area involved to determine whether the bill should be amended to restrict the area to assure reasonable water and sewage service.

Another question scheduled for discussion is whether the LaVale district will overlap with the area outlined in the proposed Cresaptown special taxing district.

The Cresaptown bill, which aims only to improve the water supply in that area, was reported out favorably in the House Wednesday minus a referendum provision.

The provision had been included following receipt of a petition signed by about 60 Cresaptown residents asking for a referendum.

However, members of the delegation said they were later informed that some of the signers wished to withdraw their names because of "misrepresentation" of the purpose of the petition.

(State Senator Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) is scheduled to attend a public meeting in Cresaptown tomorrow night at 7:30 to discuss the referendum question.)

The Cresaptown bill is scheduled for its third reading in the House today or early next week.

The delegation held a brief hearing yesterday on a third related measure, the bill to establish a county wide sanitary district.

George L. Hall, chief engineer for the State Department of Health, attended the hearing, but no county residents appeared either for or against the bill.

It would set up machinery for improving sewage and water facilities where needed. Cumberland, Frostburg and Westernport, which have municipal water systems, are excluded.

County Residents Seek Real Estate Licenses

Two Westernport men, Heber Poland and Robert Maybury, appeared before the Real Estate Commission in Baltimore yesterday with regard to securing their brokers' licenses.

After questioning them, the board deferred action.

Appearing in behalf of Poland and Maybury was Delegate Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., who has introduced a bill to eliminate the present two-year practical experience requirement under a licensed real estate broker before a person may take an examination for his license.

The bill is being studied by the House Committee on Licensing Boards and Commissioners.

Parole Officer Explains Jobs Are Important To Probationers

The task of finding suitable jobs for probationers is noe of the most difficult problems of the Western Maryland office of the State of Maryland and Division of Parole and Probation, according to David M. Steele, county parole officer.

Steele said J. Hubert Black, who has charge of the Western Maryland office at Hagerstown, has emphasized the importance of finding jobs for paroled prisoners and traversers at liberty on probation.

Men under suspended sentences from Circuit Court often need work, and jobs where they can earn their way, assume some responsiblity and keep occupied are the best safeguards against getting into trouble again, Steele said.

The problem of finding employment for parolees is not as difficult as that of finding jobs for probationers, because prisoners must assure the parole board they have jobs before they are released, Steele explained. But occasionally, a parolee needs help.

Steele said "The person or firm which employes a probationer merely evidences the faith the Court had in the individual and does much to bolster the probationer's morale and help keep him on the right track."

As of January 1, 1949, the Western Maryland office, which includes Allegany County, had a total of 201 under supervision in the seven counties compared with a total of 154 a year previously.

During the year 16 parolees violated their paroles and were returned to institutions. Six of these were men from out of the state, referred to Maryland parole authorities.

Black reported that there were 64 new parole cases during the year, and 92 new probation cases. A total of 58 parole cases and 45 probation cases were closed during the year.

In addition to routine supervision of parolees and probationers the office conducted a total of 477 investigations, including pre-sentence investigations, probation investigations, interstate investigations, investigations for executive clemency, pre-adoption investigations, and special investigations.

Hospital Bond Issue Measure Is Introduced

House Approves Salary Raises

An enabling act to authorize the Board of County Commissioners to float a $30,000 bond issue for Memorial Hospital was introduced yesterday in the House of Delegates by the Allegany County Delegation.

Funds would be used toward constructing a contagious disease ward for children at the hospital.

The House passed a bill to increase the Juvenile Court magistrate's annual pay from $2,760 to $3,600 and that of his clerk from $1,500 to $1,800.

In the original bill, the respective salaries would have totaled $4,200 and $2,000, but the amounts were later lowered.

Reported out favorably was a bill to eliminate the obsolete Board of Equalization and Review. Although that provision is included in the city charter measure, which is pending in the Senate, a separate bill was requested by the Mayor and Council in the event the charter proposal is defeated.

The House passed as statewide measure to exempt from taxation property owned by the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets), Catholic War Veterans, Jewish War Veterans and the Order of the Purple Heart.

Sunday movies, auto and motorboat races would be permitted in Washington County under a bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Senator McLaughlin (R-Washington), the Associated Press reported.

The measure, which carries a referendum provision, would authorize "the exhibition of motion pictures or the racing of automobiles and motorboats" between 1 and 6 p. m. and between 9 and 12 p. m. on Sundays.

It would take effect in November, 1950, if approved by a majority of county voters at the 1950 elections.

The measure would authorize the Sunday entertainment only for the eight hours and provides a fine up to $400 for violations.

"The work or employment of any operator, ticket seller or other employe, or attendant, in connection with such exhibition or racing shall not be unlawful because performed on Sunday, in Washington County," the bill stated.

It was referred to a select three-member committee—Senators McLaughlin, Storm (D-Frederick) and Hoff (R-Carroll).

Kimble To Meet Police, Firemen

A conference on legislation of interest to the Police and Fire Departments is tentatively scheduled tomorrow morning at 10:30 at City Hall.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) said he called City Attorney Thomas B. Finan yesterday to ask for conference arrangements.

Scheduled to attend are police and fire representatives, Mayor Thomas S. Post, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, Finan and Kimble.

Under present law, full compensation is provided for disability in line of duty, and police and firemen are interested in securing death benefits as well, Senator Kimble said he has been informed.

Discussion is also slated on a bill recently passed in the House making police eligible for coverage by the State Industrial Accident Commission, Kimble said.

The conference was originally set for 1 p. m., but Kimble asked for an earlier meeting time to avoid conflict with his conference with the Cumberland Charter Commission at 2 p. m.

Waterworks Meeting Set In Hagerstown

The annual meeting of the Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia Waterworks Association will be held in Hagerstown April 28 and 29.

Those dates and the program were arranged at a meeting in Baltimore Wednesday, according to Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, a committee member.

Most of the talks will deal with water and sewage operations and problems involved, Edwards said.

While in Baltimore, the commissioner also visited the offices of Whitman, Requardt and Associates, engineering firm which has prepared data on necessary engineering work in connection with filtration improvements at Lake Gordon.

Russell Vollmer, senior engineer for the firm, expects to come here next week to make further studies at the site and to confer with city officials, Edwards said.

Engineer Company To Meet Monday

The February meeting of the 978th Engineer Panel Bridge Transport Company will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Room 2, Postoffice Building, according to Capt. Thomas C. Lawler, commanding officer.

Lt. Joseph W. Ansel will discuss engineer supply and Lt. David J. Moreland will give an hour familiarization instruction on the use of the carbine rifle.

The meeting, formerly scheduled for February 9, was postponed by Capt. Thomas Stafford, unit instructor, who was injured in an automobile accident February 10.

Local industrial payrolls have more than doubled in the 12-year period from 1936 to 1948, according to averages in the statistical report of the Chamber of Commerce.

The comprehensive survey, released Wednesday, showed the increase to be about 150 per cent.

Monthly averages show the payroll advanced from $1,696,215 in 1937 to $4,277,684 in 1948. The total industrial payroll for the 17 major industries last year was $51,332,209.33, plus $3,699,003.33 from retail, service and wholesale establishments, bringing the total to $55,031,209.33.

Unity Conference Asks Changes In Compensation Law Committee

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference last night informed Governor Lane that it is opposed to some clauses in the present Unemployment Compensation Law and to several labor members of the five-man advisory board.

Paul L. Burley, secretary, said the letter mailed last night said:

"At a regular meeting February 17, the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference went on record as being opposed to some clauses of the Unemployment Compensation Law as now in effect, also to labor members of the Advisory Board to the Unemployment Compensation Board.

"One is a member of the Railroad Brotherhoods who does not come under the act, another is a Rubber Worker of Cumberland who never gives labor a report of any kind.

"We earnestly request you to select labor representatives from a list we will submit for your approval."

Burley said the labor representatives referred to in the letter were William Morris, Baltimore, a legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, which comes under the Railway Mediation Act, and Ralph C. Beard, of this city, who the Conference said has failed to submit regular reports of board action to Allegany County labor organizations.

When advised of the action, Beard said that he has kept Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers Union, CIO, which he represents, advised on all important actions taken by the advisory group.

He added that he had submitted, upon request, a complete report of the 1948 conferences to representatives of the Maryland-D. C. Industrial Union Council.

Earle Cobey; provost marshall, Antone Struntz; executive committee, Homer S. Higgins, John J. Loibel, John Daum, Joseph Ansel, Jr., Philip J. McGann, Robert J. Welsh, and Kenneth W. Grimes.

The election will be held by ballot between the hours of 12 noon and 6 p. m. Saturday, March 12.

The post and auxiliary will hold a joint installation ceremony at the regular meeting March 24.

Local Man Faces Weapon Charge

A man booked as William Barnhart, 707 Virginia Avenue, was arrested last night at 8:40 o'clock on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested by Officer Joseph Stitcher.

The docket shows that the man was carrying an automatic pistol and several shells for the weapon. He will be given a hearing in Police Court this morning. Mrs. Eleanor Clair, no address given, was listed as a witness.

Bosley Faces State Charge In Accident

Man Hit By Car Has Since Died

A state motor vehicle charge was preferred against Jacob S. Bosley, 807 Maryland Avenue, yesterday as the result of an accident December 30 involving Charles Raymond Burkett, 75, 440 Goethe Street, who died in Memorial Hospital January 30 after contracting pneumonia.

Police who dismissed a municipal charge preferred earlier said last night Bosley will be summoned to Trial Magistrates Court "for failing to give the right of way to a pedestrian." The trial is set for 9:30 a. m. on March 5.

Burkett, according to police, stepped in front of an automobile operated by Bosley at the corner of Baltimore Avenue and Decatur Street December 30. He was treated for a head injury and discharged from Allegany Hospital.

Later the victim was admitted to Memorial Hospital where he died on January 30. A medical examiner said the man died of pneumonia, but declared further investigation would be conducted to determine if the pneumonia resulted from the accident injuries. No later findings were given.

Bosley at the time was charged with careless driving and posted $10 bond for a hearing in Police Court. The police docket shows that the bond was refunded on February 28 and a notetion made that the charge was being dismissed in favor of a state charge.

Officers Carl Stouffer and James Brown, who investigated the accident, preferred the charge yesterday after consulting with authorities in the office of the State's Attorney.

The formal charge on the traffic docket at police station states that Bosley is being charged with "violation of state motor law No. 181 (a)." The desk sergeant said he charge refers to "failing to give a pedestrian the right of way."

The newest entry also carries a notation that the case is being transferred from the earlier entry on the traffic docket.

Women's Division Workers Announced

Five thousand dollars of the $19,380 Allegany County Red Cross fund campaign quota will be raised by the Women's Division headed by Mrs. John S. Cook, chairman, and Mrs. Holmes Cessna, co-chairman.

Workers appointed for the canvassing include Mrs. Thomas L. Rudd, West Side; Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, North End; Mrs. Robert Compton, South Cumberland; Mrs. Lewis Millholland, Bowling Green; Mrs. R. H. Kaske, Potomac Park; Mrs. Herbert Hineman, Cresaptown; Rev. Charles Raley, Ellerslie; Robert Doty, LaVale; Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Spring Gap; Mrs. Theodore Stegmaier, Williams Road; Mrs. Joseph Pollock, North Branch; Mrs. Marshall Mann, Little Orleans; Mrs. Harry Bender, Flintstone; Mrs. Wanda Wilson, Bedford Road; Mrs. Roy Shyrock; Mrs. John B. Arrison, Johnson Heights, and Mrs. Gildo Bogetti, Valley Road.

Traffic Survey May Bring Funds For Local Bridge

Study Will Begin In April Or May

BALTIMORE, Feb. 24 (AP)—Chairman Robert M. Reindollar of the State Roads Commission said tonight a traffic study will be made in Cumberland soon to determine whether federal funds can be obtained for a proposed overhead bridge there.

Reindollar said he discussed the project today with a delegation from Cumberland including Rep. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md).

The bridge would carry the traffic over the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railroad tracks in the center of Cumberland. The project has never been officially adopted nor have financial arrangements been made, Reindollar said.

The roads chief estimated that the project would be a very expensive one unless it were eligible for aid under the Federal Urban Construction Program.

He said the traffic study would probably begin in April or May. Similar studies were completed recently in Frederick and Hagerstown.

The local delegation, representing the Highway and Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was headed by Earl Chaney, committee chairman.

The group also included Miles G. Thompson, Walter Kline, Clarence Gehr, John Carnochan, Rep. Beall and James R. Kendall, assistant manager of the Chamber.

The committee said the conference was requested in order to find out what could be accomplished toward developing the project without obligating the City of Cumberland to heavy expenditures.

The crosstown viaduct is one of the primary projects recommended in a 1947 report by Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore.

At the time of the report, officials estimated the total cost of the viaduct project at $3,500,000, but pointed out that federal grants might be used toward the work.

Delegation Asks Bridge Meeting

The Allegany County Delegation announced last night that it has written to Governor Lane requesting a conference, at his earliest convenience, on labor arrangements for the Keyser-McCoole bridge project.

They said Senator Robert B. Kimble joined the delegation in asking for the meeting.

The action was requested by Allegany County Building Trades officials in a conference held with the county delegation in Annapolis Wednesday.

Last week, after the West Virginia State Road Commission recommended that two firms be given major contracts for the million dollar project, Building Trades Council officials here protested awarding of bids until wage rates for the project were rectified.

They pointed out that wage scales called for in the bridge and the Potomac State science building are both far below the prevailing wage rates for this section.

John Brown Dies Of Heart Attack

John Brown, 65, of 439 Walnut Street, who became ill at the county jail last evening, died at Memorial Hospital at 8:20 p. m. about an hour after being admitted. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death was due to a heart condition.

Deputy Sheriff William Orr said last night Brown had not been committed, but had requested to be allowed to stay a few days.

Orr said he became ill late yesterday and appeared to be short of breath. Prisoners in the jail called an attache, and when it was seen Brown was sick, he was taken to the hospital immediately, Orr said.

He was a native of Lonaconing, born January 27, 1884, but lived for a number of years in Kitzmiller, where he was employed by the Hamill Coal Company as a miner.

His wife, Mary Sprange Brown, died in 1933. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bessie Walker, 329 Walnut Street; two sons, Robert S. Brown, Laurel; and Sgt. Charles S. Brown, with the Air Force at Tampa, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Bartley J. Kilroy, this city, and Mrs. Edwin Seibert, Martinsburg, W. Va., and two brothers Robert T. Walker and James T. Walker, this city.

The body was taken to the Kight Funeral Home.

George O. Murray has been elected treasurer of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company to succeed Robert E. Stuckey who resigned.

Stuckey, serving his first term as treasurer, was formerly financial secretary of the company. He resigned because he is moving to Washington, D. C., where he has accepted employment in the Treasury Department. He formerly worked as a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad clerk here.

Firemen Urge Caution In Disposal Of Burned Out Fluorescent Lamps

Officials of the Cumberland Fire Department warned yesterday that special care should be used by all citizens in disposing of burned out fluorescent lamps.

Capt. William E. Jenkins, of Central Fire Company, said an article in the February issue of Fire Engineering points out that disposal of the lamps may present a serious health hazard.

The chief danger comes from inhaling dust from the coating inside the glass tube or the introduction of this material into the skin through open sores or cuts caused by fragments of glass.

Phosphors containing beryllium are the chief cause of the poisoning, the article reports.

Medical authorities point out that if particles of glass containing the phosphors get under the skin when lamps are being broken, the phosphors can delay healing of wounds and lead to chronic inflammation and that the beryllium may cause tumor-like growths if it comes into contact with open lesions. The inhallation of beryllium compounds can cause illness and even death, a medical advisory committee said.

W. E. Rossnagel, safety engineer and author of the article, warns that burned out fluorescent lamps should never be placed with general rubbish where someone might pick up and break them and that they should never be placed in incinerators.

He said users should smash all such lamps prior to disposal and that the broken glass should be kept wet.

When a lamp is to be destroyed, he recommended the tube be replaced in its sleeve or carton and smashed out of doors by a person wearing gloves and goggles. The broken glass should be kept wet to keep the phosphors from flying into the air.

When one is emptying rubbish cans which contain broken glass from such lamps, one should stand to windward of the can, even though the glass particles are wet.

The Weather

The weather disintegrated from a quite passibly pleasant afternoon to a smeary evening which wasn't wet enough to measure but damp enough to be unpleasant. The minimum temperature was 26 degrees which zoomed suddenly to a high of 56. It was still fairly warm at 9 o'clock last night when the thermometer showed 45. Today will be cloudy with rain ending in the morning and followed by colder weather and possible snow flurries.

Group Insurance Plan Cited For City Employes

Council To Hold Special Meeting

Discussion of a proposed group insurance plan for city employes is scheduled at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, March 8, at 2 p. m., according to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

The date was selected at a conference yesterday of the mayor and two insurance representatives, William A. Trombley, Jr., regional manager for the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Joseph P. Drum, local agent for the Prudential Life Insurance Company.

Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, one of the proponents of the plan, was unable to attend yesterday's conference.

Cost To Be Discussed

A detailed account of costs of the plan will be presented at the March 8 meeting.

(Another meeting has also been scheduled for tomorrow or the following Saturday on the proposed pension plan for city employes, which is a separate proposal.)

The insurance men pointed out that City of Cumberland employes are probably the only group of any size in this area not already covered by a group insurance plan.

County employes have been members of such a plan since last July, and group insurance has been in effect for Garrett County employes since 1945.

Seventy-five per cent of the 275 city employes would have to apply for membership before the plan could go into effect.

If approved by the Mayor and Council and the employes, application would be made by listing name, address, beneficiary for life insurance, and dependents.

Exact minute of the time the plan went into effect would be listed to determine eligibility for benefits in the event of death, accident or sickness immediately thereafter.

Only protection which is not afforded is benefits in the event of accidents while at work.

Average payment of 80 cents weekly would afford protection to both the employe and his family, while the cost would be less if the employe joined the plan on an individual basis.

Cost of monthly premiums would be split on a 50-50 basis between the city and each employe. Elective and appointive officials would also be eligible.

The plan offers life insurance and benefits in the event of accidental death, loss of life or limbs, accidents, sickness or need for hospital, medical or surgical care.

Other Services Listed

Estimated cost to the city for the initial year of operation is $7,000. However, Trombley explained that through a system of increasing dividends returned by the company, the cost would be less in each later year.

Other services available would be payments toward maternity confinements, ambulance service costs, weekly benefits in the event of quarantine and out-patient hospital service.

No physical examination would be needed. Unmarried dependent children of an employe would be eligible for protection under the plan no matter how old they were.

If an employe should leave city service after joining the group insurance plan, he could continue his policy at the same premium. The only difference would be that the city would no longer share half the cost.

Generally speaking, the age of the employe would not affect the amount of coverage available to him, Trombley said.

Pre-existing illnesses are allowed for in the plan, although hospital or medical benefits would not start until the plan went into effect.

A free motion picture, "Paradise Valley," will be shown after the business session, according to Carl Hinkle, chairman.

A regular committee meeting of Local 1874 will be held Wednesday, March 2, at 7:30 at the union hall.

100 Will Ask Lane To Help State College

To Meet Governor Monday Afternoon

A group, expected to exceed 100, solicitous of a $2,500,000 building program for Frostburg State Teachers College will confer with Governor William Preston Lane on Monday at 4 p. m., A. Charles Stewart, committee head, announced yesterday.

Stewart said a motorcade will leave from in front of the Frostburg Postoffice Monday morning at 10 o'clock to meet with the Governor in Annapolis and urge a state allotment to enlarge and improve the teachers college.

Initial action on the building program came Tuesday night when a committee was named by the Frostburg Rotary Club to support Miss Lillian C. Compton, college president, in her request for new dormitories, dining hall and science building.

Stewart said preparations were made for the trip to Annapolis yesterday after Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore, Frostburg, received a telegram from Governor Lane saying he would meet the committee at 4 p. m. Monday. William S. Jenkins, Frostburg and Cumberland attorney, will act as spokesman for the group.

The motorcade will carry representatives of every fraternal, civic and social organization in the community as well as delegates from business and professional groups.

In her statement, Miss Compton set the college financial needs at $2,500,000 and said the improvements that it would be applied to are necessary before the college is accredited by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Specific needs as listed by the president are:

Seventy-five additional acres of land; $125,000 for a larger library with 75,000 volumes and accommodations for library needs of 125 students; $450,000 for a girls' dormitory accommodating 400 girls; a $150,000 science building with five laboratories; $300,000 for a men's dormitory with facilities for 100 students; a $150,000 dining hall with a seating capacity of 300; a $200,000 gymnasium and $300,000 for faculty housing.

Miss Compton said the college enrollment has grown from 62 in 1945 to 338 students who are now attending classes. She said buildings at the Frostburg College are not comparable to those at Towson and Salisbury, where the state also maintains teachers colleges.

Local 26 Department Meetings Planned

Department chairmen of Dept. 51-E at the Kelly plant will be elected at a special meeting planned Saturday at 7:30 o'clock in Local 26, URCLPWA, CIO, hall.

A special meeting of Department 11-K will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. at the union hall.

Delegates Set Hearing For LaVale Group

At the request of members of the LaVale Civic Improvemtn Association, a hearing has been scheduled next Wednesday, March 2, by the Allegany County Delegation on the LaVale Sanitary District bill.

A referendum election on the measure, which was passed by the 1947 Legislature, was recently upheld by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Members of the delegation have suggested a survey of the area involved to determine whether the bill should be amended to restrict the area to assure reasonable water and sewage service.

Another question scheduled for discussion is whether the LaVale district will overlap with the area outlined in the proposed Cresaptown special taxing district.

The Cresaptown bill, which aims only to improve the water supply in that area, was reported out favorably in the House Wednesday minus a referendum provision.

The provision had been included following receipt of a petition signed by about 60 Cresaptown residents asking for a referendum.

However, members of the delegation said they were later informed that some of the signers wished to withdraw their names because of "misrepresentation" of the purpose of the petition.

(State Senator Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) is scheduled to attend a public meeting in Cresaptown tomorrow night at 7:30 to discuss the referendum question.)

The Cresaptown bill is scheduled for its third reading in the House today or early next week.

The delegation held a brief hearing yesterday on a third related measure, the bill to establish a county wide sanitary district.

George L. Hall, chief engineer for the State Department of Health, attended the hearing, but no county residents appeared either for or against the bill.

It would set up machinery for improving sewage and water facilities where needed. Cumberland, Frostburg and Westernport, which have municipal water systems, are excluded.

County Residents Seek Real Estate Licenses

Two Westernport men, Heber Poland and Robert Maybury, appeared before the Real Estate Commission in Baltimore yesterday with regard to securing their brokers' licenses.

After questioning them, the board deferred action.

Appearing in behalf of Poland and Maybury was Delegate Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., who has introduced a bill to eliminate the present two-year practical experience requirement under a licensed real estate broker before a person may take an examination for his license.

The bill is being studied by the House Committee on Licensing Boards and Commissioners.

Parole Officer Explains Jobs Are Important To Probationers

The task of finding suitable jobs for probationers is noe of the most difficult problems of the Western Maryland office of the State of Maryland and Division of Parole and Probation, according to David M. Steele, county parole officer.

Steele said J. Hubert Black, who has charge of the Western Maryland office at Hagerstown, has emphasized the importance of finding jobs for paroled prisoners and traversers at liberty on probation.

Men under suspended sentences from Circuit Court often need work, and jobs where they can earn their way, assume some responsiblity and keep occupied are the best safeguards against getting into trouble again, Steele said.

The problem of finding employment for parolees is not as difficult as that of finding jobs for probationers, because prisoners must assure the parole board they have jobs before they are released, Steele explained. But occasionally, a parolee needs help.

Steele said "The person or firm which employes a probationer merely evidences the faith the Court had in the individual and does much to bolster the probationer's morale and help keep him on the right track."

As of January 1, 1949, the Western Maryland office, which includes Allegany County, had a total of 201 under supervision in the seven counties compared with a total of 154 a year previously.

During the year 16 parolees violated their paroles and were returned to institutions. Six of these were men from out of the state, referred to Maryland parole authorities.

Black reported that there were 64 new parole cases during the year, and 92 new probation cases. A total of 58 parole cases and 45 probation cases were closed during the year.

In addition to routine supervision of parolees and probationers the office conducted a total of 477 investigations, including pre-sentence investigations, probation investigations, interstate investigations, investigations for executive clemency, pre-adoption investigations, and special investigations.

Hospital Bond Issue Measure Is Introduced

House Approves Salary Raises

An enabling act to authorize the Board of County Commissioners to float a $30,000 bond issue for Memorial Hospital was introduced yesterday in the House of Delegates by the Allegany County Delegation.

Funds would be used toward constructing a contagious disease ward for children at the hospital.

The House passed a bill to increase the Juvenile Court magistrate's annual pay from $2,760 to $3,600 and that of his clerk from $1,500 to $1,800.

In the original bill, the respective salaries would have totaled $4,200 and $2,000, but the amounts were later lowered.

Reported out favorably was a bill to eliminate the obsolete Board of Equalization and Review. Although that provision is included in the city charter measure, which is pending in the Senate, a separate bill was requested by the Mayor and Council in the event the charter proposal is defeated.

The House passed as statewide measure to exempt from taxation property owned by the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets), Catholic War Veterans, Jewish War Veterans and the Order of the Purple Heart.

Sunday movies, auto and motorboat races would be permitted in Washington County under a bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Senator McLaughlin (R-Washington), the Associated Press reported.

The measure, which carries a referendum provision, would authorize "the exhibition of motion pictures or the racing of automobiles and motorboats" between 1 and 6 p. m. and between 9 and 12 p. m. on Sundays.

It would take effect in November, 1950, if approved by a majority of county voters at the 1950 elections.

The measure would authorize the Sunday entertainment only for the eight hours and provides a fine up to $400 for violations.

"The work or employment of any operator, ticket seller or other employe, or attendant, in connection with such exhibition or racing shall not be unlawful because performed on Sunday, in Washington County," the bill stated.

It was referred to a select three-member committee—Senators McLaughlin, Storm (D-Frederick) and Hoff (R-Carroll).

Kimble To Meet Police, Firemen

A conference on legislation of interest to the Police and Fire Departments is tentatively scheduled tomorrow morning at 10:30 at City Hall.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) said he called City Attorney Thomas B. Finan yesterday to ask for conference arrangements.

Scheduled to attend are police and fire representatives, Mayor Thomas S. Post, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, Finan and Kimble.

Under present law, full compensation is provided for disability in line of duty, and police and firemen are interested in securing death benefits as well, Senator Kimble said he has been informed.

Discussion is also slated on a bill recently passed in the House making police eligible for coverage by the State Industrial Accident Commission, Kimble said.

The conference was originally set for 1 p. m., but Kimble asked for an earlier meeting time to avoid conflict with his conference with the Cumberland Charter Commission at 2 p. m.

Waterworks Meeting Set In Hagerstown

The annual meeting of the Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia Waterworks Association will be held in Hagerstown April 28 and 29.

Those dates and the program were arranged at a meeting in Baltimore Wednesday, according to Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, a committee member.

Most of the talks will deal with water and sewage operations and problems involved, Edwards said.

While in Baltimore, the commissioner also visited the offices of Whitman, Requardt and Associates, engineering firm which has prepared data on necessary engineering work in connection with filtration improvements at Lake Gordon.

Russell Vollmer, senior engineer for the firm, expects to come here next week to make further studies at the site and to confer with city officials, Edwards said.

Engineer Company To Meet Monday

The February meeting of the 978th Engineer Panel Bridge Transport Company will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in Room 2, Postoffice Building, according to Capt. Thomas C. Lawler, commanding officer.

Lt. Joseph W. Ansel will discuss engineer supply and Lt. David J. Moreland will give an hour familiarization instruction on the use of the carbine rifle.

The meeting, formerly scheduled for February 9, was postponed by Capt. Thomas Stafford, unit instructor, who was injured in an automobile accident February 10.

Local Payrolls More Than Double Since '36

Local industrial payrolls have more than doubled in the 12-year period from 1936 to 1948, according to averages in the statistical report of the Chamber of Commerce.

The comprehensive survey, released Wednesday, showed the increase to be about 150 per cent.

Monthly averages show the payroll advanced from $1,696,215 in 1937 to $4,277,684 in 1948. The total industrial payroll for the 17 major industries last year was $51,332,209.33, plus $3,699,003.33 from retail, service and wholesale establishments, bringing the total to $55,031,209.33.

Mrs. Gilbert Miller, president, said AAUW members voted at the February meeting to pay Miss Linn's hotel expenses.

In addition, Miss Linn has become the first area student to join the United Nations Association of Maryland, a high school group.

The nationwide association was set up to promote interest in youth of other countries through forums and trips abroad.

Miss Linn will join members of the state group in Baltimore Friday morning, March 4, where they will go by special train to Lake Success, N. Y., for a visit to UN headquarters.

Unity Conference Asks Changes In Compensation Law Committee

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference last night informed Governor Lane that it is opposed to some clauses in the present Unemployment Compensation Law and to several labor members of the five-man advisory board.

Paul L. Burley, secretary, said the letter mailed last night said:

"At a regular meeting February 17, the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference went on record as being opposed to some clauses of the Unemployment Compensation Law as now in effect, also to labor members of the Advisory Board to the Unemployment Compensation Board.

"One is a member of the Railroad Brotherhoods who does not come under the act, another is a Rubber Worker of Cumberland who never gives labor a report of any kind.

"We earnestly request you to select labor representatives from a list we will submit for your approval."

Burley said the labor representatives referred to in the letter were William Morris, Baltimore, a legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, which comes under the Railway Mediation Act, and Ralph C. Beard, of this city, who the Conference said has failed to submit regular reports of board action to Allegany County labor organizations.

When advised of the action, Beard said that he has kept Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers Union, CIO, which he represents, advised on all important actions taken by the advisory group.

He added that he had submitted, upon request, a complete report of the 1948 conferences to representatives of the Maryland-D. C. Industrial Union Council.

The nominees include:

Earle Cobey; provost marshall, Antone Struntz; executive committee, Homer S. Higgins, John J. Loibel, John Daum, Joseph Ansel, Jr., Philip J. McGann, Robert J. Welsh, and Kenneth W. Grimes.

The election will be held by ballot between the hours of 12 noon and 6 p. m. Saturday, March 12.

The post and auxiliary will hold a joint installation ceremony at the regular meeting March 24.

Local Man Faces Weapon Charge

A man booked as William Barnhart, 707 Virginia Avenue, was arrested last night at 8:40 o'clock on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested by Officer Joseph Stitcher.

The docket shows that the man was carrying an automatic pistol and several shells for the weapon. He will be given a hearing in Police Court this morning. Mrs. Eleanor Clair, no address given, was listed as a witness.

Bosley Faces State Charge In Accident

Man Hit By Car Has Since Died

A state motor vehicle charge was preferred against Jacob S. Bosley, 807 Maryland Avenue, yesterday as the result of an accident December 30 involving Charles Raymond Burkett, 75, 440 Goethe Street, who died in Memorial Hospital January 30 after contracting pneumonia.

Police who dismissed a municipal charge preferred earlier said last night Bosley will be summoned to Trial Magistrates Court "for failing to give the right of way to a pedestrian." The trial is set for 9:30 a. m. on March 5.

Burkett, according to police, stepped in front of an automobile operated by Bosley at the corner of Baltimore Avenue and Decatur Street December 30. He was treated for a head injury and discharged from Allegany Hospital.

Later the victim was admitted to Memorial Hospital where he died on January 30. A medical examiner said the man died of pneumonia, but declared further investigation would be conducted to determine if the pneumonia resulted from the accident injuries. No later findings were given.

Bosley at the time was charged with careless driving and posted $10 bond for a hearing in Police Court. The police docket shows that the bond was refunded on February 28 and a notetion made that the charge was being dismissed in favor of a state charge.

Officers Carl Stouffer and James Brown, who investigated the accident, preferred the charge yesterday after consulting with authorities in the office of the State's Attorney.

The formal charge on the traffic docket at police station states that Bosley is being charged with "violation of state motor law No. 181 (a)." The desk sergeant said he charge refers to "failing to give a pedestrian the right of way."

The newest entry also carries a notation that the case is being transferred from the earlier entry on the traffic docket.

Traffic Survey May Bring Funds For Local Bridge

Study Will Begin In April Or May

BALTIMORE, Feb. 24 (AP)—Chairman Robert M. Reindollar of the State Roads Commission said tonight a traffic study will be made in Cumberland soon to determine whether federal funds can be obtained for a proposed overhead bridge there.

Reindollar said he discussed the project today with a delegation from Cumberland including Rep. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md).

The bridge would carry the traffic over the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railroad tracks in the center of Cumberland. The project has never been officially adopted nor have financial arrangements been made, Reindollar said.

The roads chief estimated that the project would be a very expensive one unless it were eligible for aid under the Federal Urban Construction Program.

He said the traffic study would probably begin in April or May. Similar studies were completed recently in Frederick and Hagerstown.

The local delegation, representing the Highway and Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was headed by Earl Chaney, committee chairman.

The group also included Miles G. Thompson, Walter Kline, Clarence Gehr, John Carnochan, Rep. Beall and James R. Kendall, assistant manager of the Chamber.

The committee said the conference was requested in order to find out what could be accomplished toward developing the project without obligating the City of Cumberland to heavy expenditures.

The crosstown viaduct is one of the primary projects recommended in a 1947 report by Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore.

At the time of the report, officials estimated the total cost of the viaduct project at $3,500,000, but pointed out that federal grants might be used toward the work.

Delegation Asks Bridge Meeting

The Allegany County Delegation announced last night that it has written to Governor Lane requesting a conference, at his earliest convenience, on labor arrangements for the Keyser-McCoole bridge project.

They said Senator Robert B. Kimble joined the delegation in asking for the meeting.

The action was requested by Allegany County Building Trades officials in a conference held with the county delegation in Annapolis Wednesday.

Last week, after the West Virginia State Road Commission recommended that two firms be given major contracts for the million dollar project, Building Trades Council officials here protested awarding of bids until wage rates for the project were rectified.

They pointed out that wage scales called for in the bridge and the Potomac State science building are both far below the prevailing wage rates for this section.

John Brown Dies Of Heart Attack

John Brown, 65, of 439 Walnut Street, who became ill at the county jail last evening, died at Memorial Hospital at 8:20 p. m. about an hour after being admitted. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death was due to a heart condition.

Deputy Sheriff William Orr said last night Brown had not been committed, but had requested to be allowed to stay a few days.

Orr said he became ill late yesterday and appeared to be short of breath. Prisoners in the jail called an attache, and when it was seen Brown was sick, he was taken to the hospital immediately, Orr said.

He was a native of Lonaconing, born January 27, 1884, but lived for a number of years in Kitzmiller, where he was employed by the Hamill Coal Company as a miner.

His wife, Mary Sprange Brown, died in 1933. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bessie Walker, 329 Walnut Street; two sons, Robert S. Brown, Laurel; and Sgt. Charles S. Brown, with the Air Force at Tampa, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Bartley J. Kilroy, this city, and Mrs. Edwin Seibert, Martinsburg, W. Va., and two brothers Robert T. Walker and James T. Walker, this city.

The body was taken to the Kight Funeral Home.

Stuckey, serving his first term as treasurer, was formerly financial secretary of the company. He resigned because he is moving to Washington, D. C., where he has accepted employment in the Treasury Department. He formerly worked as a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad clerk here.

Firemen Urge Caution In Disposal Of Burned Out Fluorescent Lamps

Officials of the Cumberland Fire Department warned yesterday that special care should be used by all citizens in disposing of burned out fluorescent lamps.

Capt. William E. Jenkins, of Central Fire Company, said an article in the February issue of Fire Engineering points out that disposal of the lamps may present a serious health hazard.

The chief danger comes from inhaling dust from the coating inside the glass tube or the introduction of this material into the skin through open sores or cuts caused by fragments of glass.

Phosphors containing beryllium are the chief cause of the poisoning, the article reports.

Medical authorities point out that if particles of glass containing the phosphors get under the skin when lamps are being broken, the phosphors can delay healing of wounds and lead to chronic inflammation and that the beryllium may cause tumor-like growths if it comes into contact with open lesions. The inhallation of beryllium compounds can cause illness and even death, a medical advisory committee said.

W. E. Rossnagel, safety engineer and author of the article, warns that burned out fluorescent lamps should never be placed with general rubbish where someone might pick up and break them and that they should never be placed in incinerators.

He said users should smash all such lamps prior to disposal and that the broken glass should be kept wet.

When a lamp is to be destroyed, he recommended the tube be replaced in its sleeve or carton and smashed out of doors by a person wearing gloves and goggles. The broken glass should be kept wet to keep the phosphors from flying into the air.

When one is emptying rubbish cans which contain broken glass from such lamps, one should stand to windward of the can, even though the glass particles are wet.

The Weather

The weather disintegrated from a quite passibly pleasant afternoon to a smeary evening which wasn't wet enough to measure but damp enough to be unpleasant. The minimum temperature was 26 degrees which zoomed suddenly to a high of 56. It was still fairly warm at 9 o'clock last night when the thermometer showed 45. Today will be cloudy with rain ending in the morning and followed by colder weather and possible snow flurries.
